POPE FLAYS SEX CODES OF TODAY AS DEADLY SINS

Bans Birth Control and Divorce.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

ROME, Jan. 8.—In a 16,000 word encyclical that leaves believers no compromise between damnation and complete acceptance of the inflexible ideal of Christian marriage as laid down by St. Augustine in the fourth century Pope Pius XI. today turned his back on the wayward modern world and took his place among the great fighting popes of the church. The papal letter is dated Dec. 31 and draws lavishly on ancient sources of ecclesiastical authority for its precepts.

The encyclical, which is entirely devoted to marriage and sexual problems affecting marriage, is the most sensational since Leo XIII.'s encyclical, "Novarum Rerum," in the 1890s. Many students of church history declare it is the most important document in the field of pure morals since Gregory VII. enforced celibacy on the clergy in the eleventh century.

Attacks Sterilization.

Not only does the papal letter reaffirm the traditional Roman Catholic doctrine against birth control but also reaffirms that abortion, even when necessary to save a mother's health, is not justifiable. The sterilization of the physically or mentally unfit is against the law of God, declares the encyclical, and it condemns those who "put eugenics before the aims of a higher order and by public authority wish to prevent from marrying all those who, even though naturally fit for marriage, they consider, according to the forms and conjectures of their investigations, would, through hereditary transmission, bring forth defective offspring."

One of the most interesting features of the encyclical is that it suggests a degree of coöperation between the church and civil authorities almost unknown since the middle ages, and deplores the too rigid separation of church and state which allows many acts, considered grave sins by religion, to go unpunished by temporal authority.

"Civil law can assist the church in the execution of its important office if, in laying down their ordinances, they take account of what is described by divine and ecclesiastical law, and if penalties are fixed for offenders," the letter declares.

No Cause for Divorce.

The encyclical is a fighting document all the way through. It takes a direct hit at the Protestant bishops who indorsed limited birth control at Lambeth last summer, and terms any form of companionate marriage mere concubinage. It unequivocally states that there is no cause for divorce in a lawful Christian marriage which is duly consummated, not even adultery.

Likewise neither economic condition, health nor anything else may form excuses for limiting birth, says the encyclical, but admits that there are certain "secondary aims of matrimony," one of which is "cultivating mutual love and quieting concupiscence." For this reason intercourse between man and wife is lawful even when it is known that no offspring can result, providing that no action is taken to insure this.

Frowns on Women's Liberty.

The pope, less categorically, but sternly, attacks many phases of modern life, insisting that wives must continue to obey their husbands, and frowning upon the unlimited emancipation of women, especially when it leads the mothers away from their homes. The pope also considers certain forms of social welfare work of dubious value.

Sexual education for youth is attacked and a sharp rap taken at "exaggerated physiological education by means of which some reformers of married life make the pretense of helping those joined in wedlock by making much of these physiological matters, by which is learned rather the art of sinning in subtle ways than the virtue of living chastely."

Wedlock Is Indissoluble.

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Pope Pius, in his encyclical made public today, enjoins his bishops to propagate the church's view that marriage is indissoluble except by death, and that the family, within the meaning of this sacrament, "is more sacred than the state."

Birth control is a deed "shameful and intrinsically vicious" and a "horrible crime."

Federal investigators disclosed yesterday that the books of the Lawrence Avenue National bank show an embezzlement of at least $100,000 prior to an allegedly fake holdup of the institution in which an additional $80,000 was lost on New Year's day.

Other developments in the bank case yesterday were:

1. The disclosure in a petition in equity filed in the Superior court that irregularities are charged against the bank directors.

2. The announcement that the bank was in serious difficulties last spring when its former president, Herman Elenbogen, was removed by the national bank examiners and a reorganization was effected.

3. Presentation of evidence to the federal grand jury by Assistant United States Attorney Owen A. West.

Figures Wait on Audit.

No definite figure can be set as the amount of the alleged peculations at the bank until the examiners have finished auditing the books, but one investigator declared it would run "into six figures." Prosecution for some of the alleged defalcations will be prevented by the statute of limitations, it was announced, indicating that they have been going on for more than three years.

The evidence, it was reliably reported, pointed directly to John E. Malloy, youthful assistant cashier of the bank, who was arrested and charged with embezzlement after he told a story of being kidnaped by four bandits who, he said, obtained about $10,000 in cash and an additional $70,000 from safe deposit boxes in a holdup on New Year's day.

Malloy is scheduled to have a hearing before United States Commissioner Walker tomorrow.

Investigators admitted that they are proceeding on the theory that Malloy could not have carried on his alleged peculations for so long without the knowledge, if not the collusion, of some one else in the bank, but they refused to state whether they had any evidence to this effect.

Flies Charges Against Bank.

The petition containing the allegations against the bank was filed on behalf of Leo Maremont, one of the directors of the Kedzie-Lawrence Building corporation, an organization closely associated with the bank. A receiver was requested for the building corporation and one was appointed by Superior Judge Robert E. Gentzel.

Maremont charged that the building corporation turned over $20,000 in cash for defaulted paper with a face value of $20,000 held by the bank. He charged that the transaction was unauthorized and that it was inspired by a desire to prevent the bank examiners from discovering the defaulted securities. The directorates of the bank and of the buiding corporation were interlocking.

Federal investigators admitted yesterday that the bank was in unsound condition when Elenbogen was removed last spring and George I. Pilat became president and that it was likewise in bad condition financially when the purported holdup occurred on Jan. 1.

Merger Scheduled for Jan. 2.

For the purpose of settling its difficulties, the Lawrence Avenue National bank had negotiated a merger with another bank, to become effective Jan. 2, the investigators say, and they assert that they believe the fear of the discovery by bank examiners of the falsified books prompted the staging of a holdup on New Year's day.

Among the witnesses summoned by Prosecutor West to appear before the grand jury were bookmakers with whom Malloy allegedly placed horse race bets, and the chairman of the board of directors, Darby Day, and President Pilat.

JUDGE ORDERS REWARDS

Judge William V. Brothers of the Circuit court yesterday authorized the receiver for the Exchange State bank to use $1,500 of the funds of the institution to bring about the arrest of Roscoe H. H. Luckenbill, president, and Lee A. King, vice president. They are two of the officials of the defunct bank under indictment.

Assistant State's Attorney Henry Ayers, who has for months directed an unsuccessful search for the missing bank officials, was notified that he might offer rewards of $500 and $300, respectively, for the arrest of Luckenbill and King. It is charged that the two missing bankers are responsible for wrecking the bank.

IS IT THE LAST CHAPTER OF A FAMOUS MURDER MYSTERY?

Real Estate Owners Fight Subway Levy

An organization of business men who own property in the central business district was formed yesterday to oppose the construction of the State street subway by special assessment. A fight against this method of financing the subway will be carried into the courts by the group which has adopted the name of the Property Owners' Committee on Subway Assessments.

In the group of fifty men who met in the Union League club yesterday to start the fight were representatives of several railroads as well as owners of real estate. The property represented lies in the district bounded by Division, Wells and 22d streets and the lake. This property is asked to pay 65 per cent of the estimated $41,000,000 cost of the subway.

Sponsors of the Movement.

The meeting was called by Graham Aldis, William Scott Bond, William M. Ellis, Jacob L. Kesner, John T. Redmond, George Richardson, Albert H. Wetten and B. M. Winston who, with others to be added later, will form the executive committee of the organization. Mr. Winston was elected chairman and Mr. Redmond, treasurer.

"We are opposing the assessment," said Mr. Aldis, "not only because it is excessive but because it is uncalled for. We believe that the cost should be defrayed by a bond issue or by the city's fraction fund.

"The subway is a part of a general transportation system and because this one section is underground is no reason why it should be treated as a local improvement for which the property in the vicinity is to be assessed."

Seek Unity Among Owners.

The call for the meeting was sent out, according to a statement given out by the committee, to gain a united action on the part of all owners of property in the district on the questions of whether the subway is a local improvement and whether an assessment is proper, either legally or economically.

These points were not settled at the meeting, but Attorneys William B. Hale and Lester L. Falk were retained to make an investigation of them.

Representatives of the Michigan Central and North Western railroads at a recent public hearing on the subway protested that the city is providing right of way by special assessment for a competing railroad. They claimed that the North Shore and Aurora-Elgin electric lines are railroads which, under the transit franchise, have leases hat will permit them to carry freight and passengers through the subway.

Paid $2.20 to Have Wife Slain; Gets Life Sentence

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Emory Ellis, 26, charged with hiring another man for $2.20 in dimes to slay his divorced wife, Mrs. Merle Ellis, was convicted of first degree murder tonight by a jury which recommended life imprisonment.

BOY OF 6 PLAYS WITH A PISTOL; KILLS MOTHER

The humoring by a mother of her 6 year old son's wish to play with an automatic pistol cost her her life last night. The mother was Mrs. Frank Cech, 35, 2332 North 77th avenue, Elmwood Park, wife of a village trustee of the suburb.

Last night she, her husband, and her children, Gordon, 6, and Violet, 11, visited their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas, 7702 Sunset drive, Elmwood Park. The boy requested Thomas to show him a pistol. Thomas refused. Mrs. Cech smiled. "O, let him see it," she remarked. "There's no harm in it." Thomas brought out the weapon, then placed it on the table and covered it with a box.

Gordon lingered at the table, toyed with the cover. Mrs. Cech removed it, and her son picked up the weapon. There was a sharp report. Mrs. Cech fell dead.

THEFT OF BABY CONFESSED BY CHILDLESS WIFE

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—A childless wife tonight confessed to Brooklyn police she had stolen an infant and palmed it off on her husband as their own.

Mrs. Angelina Schiron, 19, a bride at 16, detectives said, was found with the six weeks' old baby girl of Mrs. Loretta Rotundo, abducted yesterday, hiding in the home of a friend. A city-wide search had been going on since the Rotunda baby vanished.

"I took the baby," detectives said the woman told them, "because I had to have her. She meant everything to me. I love babies, but all three of mine died. My husband loves babies, too."

Fire Sweeps Church; Loss Is $125,000

Fire of mysterious origin, fanned by a brisk wind, swept through St. Maria Addolorata Catholic church, at the corner of Peoria street and West Grand avenue, early this morning. Damage to the edifice was estimated at $125,000 by Fire Chief Michael Corrigan, whose men responded to a 4-11 alarm.

The fire was discovered by the Rev. Father Ugo Cavicchi, the pastor, and his assistant, the Rev. Father Joseph Bernarvi. Both rushed into the church in an effort to rescue the holy sacraments and other relics, but were driven back by the flames. Neither could offer any suggestion as to the cause of the fire.

The leaping flames lighted the sky for miles and attracted thousands of spectators, who lined the street in front of the church. Their automobiles hampered the work of the firemen.

While the firemen were trying to subdue the blaze sparks carried by the wind brought fire to the roof of the church rectory next door at 909 West Grand avenue. These flames were quickly checked.

STREET CAR RUNS OVER TWO GIRLS; THEY CRAWL OUT

Claude Hughes, 2017 Berteau avenue, motorman of a Belmont avenue surface car, slammed on the brakes last evening near Damen avenue as two little girls, hand in hand, suddenly stepped into the center of the tracks. He was too late. The car passed over them.

They are 6 year old Elaine Rosenkranz, 1941 Belmont avenue, and 5 year old Lorraine Dobmeier, 1948 Fletcher street. Hughes ran to a telephone and notified the Sheffield police station. The police notified the fire department. Soon a police ambulance, a wrecking truck, and the trouble wagon of the surface lines were on the scene. The street car would have to be jacked up.

It required an hour to raise it sufficiently to rescue the victims. Then, first, Elaine, followed by Lorraine, crawled out. Both were scratched on the faces and bodies, but otherwise unharmed.

He Hitch Hikes to Court to Get Stiff Sentence

Brazil, Ind., Jan. 8.—(AP)—A youth who hitch-hiked from Tucson, Ariz., to Brazil to face a charge of absconding with $321 was sentenced to one to ten years in the state reformatory by Judge Hutchinson in Clay county court today.

Ralph Green, who had been given the money to deposit for a filling station manager, surrendered in Tucson last month. The county had no money for his transportation here, so he walked home to appear in court.

Train Kills 3 in Auto in West Suburbs

An Aurora and Elgin electric train speeding toward Chicago struck an automobile at the Harlem avenue crossing on the boundary line between Oak Park and Forest Park early this morning, killing two women and one man who were riding in the automobile, and critically injuring another woman. The driver of the car, Frank Lawrence, a salesman residing at 1648 Merrimac avenue, was not seriously injured.

For some time after the accident the police were unable to identify the dead persons definitely. One of the woman was described by Lawrence as his wife, but despite questioning by the police he was unable to give her first name.

Hotel Man Believed Victim.

The man killed was identified by Lawrence as Michael Gordon, manager of the Roosevelt hotel at Roosevelt road and Wabash avenue. The automobile's license was issued in Gordon's name.

The accident occurred at 1:30 o'clock. Edward J. Murphy, 6442 Maryland avenue, tower man at the crossing, said he had lowered the gates for the passing of the train when the automobile suddenly appeared from the north at high speed. The car plunged through the gates and into the path of the train.

Gordon and the two unidentified women who were riding in the rear seat were instantly killed. The woman riding with Lawrence in the front seat, who he said was his wife, was taken to the Oak Park hospital.

Toll Raised to 40.

These three deaths and two others increased the Cook county motor toll to 40 since Jan. 1. The other victims:

Mrs. Minnie Krueger, 65 years old, 2110 South 10th street, Maywood. Died in West Lake hospital, Melrose Park, of injuries received on Dec. 31 in a collision between two automobiles at 5th avenue and Harrison street, Maywood.

Alexander Szymanski, 56 years old, 2231 Southport avenue. Died in Alexian Brothers hospital of injuries received on Dec. 22, when he was struck by a hit and run motorist at Ashland avenue and Blackhawk street.

USE NEW DEVICE TO REMOVE PIN IN BABY'S THROAT

With the aid of a bi-plane fluoroscope, a new visual machine demonstrated for the first time in Chicago, an open safety pin was removed yesterday from the esophagus of a seven months old infant at the Presbyterian hospital. The subject of the operation was Bonnie Jean Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Black, 5950 West Superior street.

Bonnie swallowed the pin Tuesday night and was taken by her family physician, Dr. M. H. Jones, 5903 West Chicago avenue, to the hospital and put under the care of Dr. Edwin McGinnis of the hospital staff. A week before the hospital had obtained the new equipment. The child was taken to the special room housing the apparatus, and within three minutes, through the assistance of the machine, the obstructing pin, stuck point upward, was located and removed. The extraction was accomplished with an esophageoscope.

Medical experts showed interest in the new apparatus as demonstrated by W. C. Dee. It affords, because of its two planes, a top and side view at the same time. It allows a much better localization of foreign bodies, physicians say. It furthermore allows a more extended exposure than the old type.

Pin Also Removed in Iowa.

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—With an open safety pin lodged in his throat, Berrill Riter, 3 months old, of Le Mars, Ia., was brought to a Sioux City hospital today and the pin was removed without the shedding of blood.

Wales to Fly to Spain on Trip to South America

SANTANDER, Spain, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The English consul here announced today that the prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, would fly here Saturday, Jan. 17, from England, boarding the Oropesa the next day for Buenos Aires on the first stage of their South American trip. The two princes are coming here incognito.

Rescue 13 Youths on Ice Cake Adrift in St. Lawrence

QUEBEC, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Parents manned rowboats today and rescued 13 youths from Portneuf village who were adrift on a great cake of ice in the St. Lawrence river. The ice had broken from the shore and was in midstream before the youths, who were fishing, noticed their plight.

STATE IS READY TO ASK DEATH FOR BROTHERS

Swanson to Battle Plea for Writ.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

An immediate trial for Leo Brothers, on the charge that he is the murderer of Alfred Lingle, will be asked by the state.

This was announced last night by Charles F. Rathbun, special assistant state's attorney in charge of the Lingle investigation, and Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson.

The state will ask the jury to send Brothers to the electric chair.

State Ready for Trial.

"We are prepared for trial now," Mr. Rathbun said. He explained that under the law a defendant is entitled to a reasonable time in which to prepare for trial, and that Brothers' counsel undoubtedly will obtain a delay of 30 or 60 days before the trial can be commenced.

Brothers, whose capture on Dec. 21 was announced on Wednesday night by Mr. Rathbun and Mr. Roche, has been positively identified as the slayer of Lingle by witnesses to that crime.

The prisoner yesterday remained in the custody of the state's attorney's men, and was hidden away in a secluded spot.

Ready to Combat Writ.

Reports that a firm of attorneys, specializing in the defense of accused men, was preparing to seek a writ of habeas corpus for Brothers were met last night with a challenge by State's Attorney Swanson. The reports were that the lawyers were preparing a writ to be presented perhaps today or within the next few days.

"I am willing that this should happen," commented the prosecutor, "for it might give us an idea, perhaps, who is behind Brothers.

"Let them file their petition for a writ. We have Brothers in custody, well guarded, and we can appear before the grand jury whenever we desire. We will not, however, have him indicted at once. We will not bring any official charge against him until we are forced to do so."

Inquiry Still in Progress.

Meanwhile the two leaders of the inquiry stressed the point that their investigation is still in progress, and that the work will go on unceasingly until every effort has been spent in clearing up all angles of the case.

The nature of this work, Mr. Rathbun declared, must be kept secret, or the task of implicating and arresting the other men who figured in the plot to murder Lingle will be made immeasurably more difficult. For this reason, he said, the motive for the crime, the names of the accomplices, and the information which led to the capture of Brothers must be withheld for the present.

Work Yet to Be Done.

Congratulations showered upon Roche and Rathbun were met with replies that their task is far from done; that Brothers has yet to be convicted of the crime, and that the work of completing the investigation has still to be accomplished.

A woman, a former sweetheart of Brothers named Margaret Farmer, who is also known by the names of Welsh and Clark, was arrested yesterday by the St. Louis police.

She had been described in messages sent from the St. Louis police department to the authorities in Chicago, as the constant companion of Brothers, and the reports had it that she had disappeared from St. Louis at the same time that Brothers, fleeing from the murder of another man, came to Chicago.

St. Louis Asks Arrests.

Her picture had been forwarded to the Chicago detective bureau, with pictures of Brothers, with a request that the Chicago police arrest them both if they were found in this city.

Questioned at St. Louis police headquarters, the woman said she had no regular abode in St. Louis. She knew Brothers, she said, but had not seen him for nearly two years. She told police that she was in Chicago last November, but said she came here for the Army-Notre Dame football game, and did not see Brothers.

HIS "LEGGER" CAUGHT

"Yep, I am Leo's personal bootlegger. See, here is his picture in the paper. They say he killed Alfred Lingle." It was James Evans, 29 years old, 1312 East 53d street, a bootlegger, speaking to Martin Keller, 33 years old, 5509 Blackstone avenue, a customer.

Policeman Thomas O'Donnell of the Hyde Park station, who led a raid on Evans' third floor flat, had quietly opened the unlocked door a few inches and with other policemen had listened to the conversation before entering.

Evans was still holding a copy of an afternoon newspaper when the police entered and seized both men. In the flat they found ten gallons of moonshine and ten pints of gin. A small black notebook contained names of many customers.

Tells of Knowing Brothers.

Policeman Joseph Conlan seized the newspaper and saw the picture was that of Leo V. Brothers, the Lingle slayer.

Keller told the police he is a salesman and had just dropped in for a chat with Evans. His name, however, was in the black notebook as a customer. Policeman Joseph Hanlon took charge of the evidence.

Evans was asked what he knew about Brothers.

"Well, I have known him for about a year and he was a good customer, always paying for his stuff," Evans replied.

"Did he ever get anything on credit?" Policeman O'Donnell asked.

"No—he is not the kind of a customer I would carry on the cuff," said Evans.

Met Him Year Ago.

"I met Brothers about a year ago while he was living at 4845 Magnolia avenue, where he bought lots of booze and entertained women," continued Evans. "He told me first that he was the press agent for Texas Guinan and when she left town he said he was working as a motion picture machine operator."

The first name in the notebook was "Bader," the alias of Brothers, and beneath the name was the notation:

"L. K. Crest, 4827." This the police interpreted to mean Lake Crest Drive apartments, 4827 Lake Park avenue. Brothers' name headed the list of about 300 notations in the book, and Evans admitted that the slayer was his first customer.

INNOCENT, MOTHER SAYS

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—The mother of Leo Brothers, held in Chicago as the slayer of Alfred Lingle, declared her son was innocent when interviewed in the suburb of Webster Groves today. Divorced years ago from Brother's father, she has since remarried and is now Mrs. Robert Jessen. She kept hysterically as she talked.

"I know nothing of his personal affairs," she said. "He was seldom home, but I don't believe my boy did it.

"Since 1919 the police have hounded him. That was after he was discharged from the navy. But he has never been convicted of anything."

Accused of Another Murder.

She was asked about the murder of John De Blazo, 18 year old service car driver, in August of 1929, on a St. Louis street.

"Yes, they accused him of that, too," she said. "Leo had few friends. Even as a boy he preferred to be alone. He has always kept to himself.

"How does he make a living? I send him a small allowance weekly. Leo never was a spender. He didn't like to run around with wild women or dissipate."

In a final burst of tears, she declared:

"Why, he didn't even know Lingle. He may die for somebody else's crime, but I'm convinced he was not the murderer."

Vague on His Whereabouts.

Asked where Brothers was on June 9, she became vague in her replies, and when pressed for specific information could not supply it. The supposition of the police here is that she knew nothing of her son's movements.

Brothers' wife, Mrs. Vera Brothers, has never divorced him. She lives at 4942 Lotus avenue, North St. Louis, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Loeddeke. She said she married Brothers in 1919, that he never contributed to her support, and that in 1923 she left him. One child, Vincent, now 10, was born of the marriage. Mrs. Brothers said:

"If Leo ever engaged in any sort of criminal activities I did not know of them."

Flagship Texas Sails for Fleet Maneuvers at Canal

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The flagship Texas, with Admiral J. V. Chase, commander in chief of the United States fleet, aboard sailed today for the Panama canal to participate in defense maneuvers. The Texas will call at Hampton Roads, to be joined there by others of the fleet.

Woman Is Modest About Her Part in Capture of Slayer

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Anybody who has played Rose Huebsch's rôle in the capture of Leo V. Brothers, slayer of Alfred Lingle, would be certain to be just the kind of girl she is. Not fluttery. Nor giggly. Nor volubly protesting that she "didn't do anything." As calmly and intelligently as she accepted the plans her old friend and former superior, Pat Roche, laid to ensnare the gunman, she yesterday accepted the inevitable publicity and applause accruing to herself.

Five feet 2 in height, eyes of deep brown instead of blue, Rose went her interrupted way yesterday about her duties in the special intelligence division of the department of internal revenue in the federal building as unconcernedly as thought she hadn't become a heroine overnight. But a quick smile lurking just behind her impassive countenance bubbled over and quirked her lips at every mention of the adventure.

Can Keep Her Tongue.

"I'd been bursting to tell it ever since that night," she confesses, frankly, now that it's all right to tell. "I didn't dare to breathe a word, of course, until Pat gave me leave. Whatever else I did, I guess I proved once and for all that a woman can keep a secret."

It is patent that to Rose Huebsch, of the level head beneath the bobbed crinkly black hair, her success in that test of personality outweighs her value of that night as measured by Messrs. Roche, Rathbun, and their associates.

"It all happened just as Mr. Boettiger told it in THE TRIBUNE this morning," she continues. "I didn't know any of the men except Pat Roche and Mr. Rathbun, but I was so excited I couldn't have slept, and I wouldn't have missed it for anything. No, I wasn't nervous—just terribly interested and anxious that everything would come out right.

Glad to Do Her Part.

"Ever since that morning—Dec. 21—when they actually captured this man I've been wishing I could tell some of my friends, and I've been so eager to find out what would eventually be done about it. I've so much faith in the fact that they've got the right fellow, I'm terribly glad to have been able to help in getting him.

"Good heavens, no—I haven't the least desire to go on with that type of work. I've been here in this office since 1921, and like my work awfully well. I'd followed the case in the papers ever since Lingle was killed, but of course never dreaming I'd be drawn into it. As for what help I gave, I was delighted to have been of service—and won't forget it in a hurry, I can tell you."

A Native of Chicago.

Miss Huebsch is a native Chicagoan. She has lived at the address at 4827 Lake Park avenue, where Brothers was captured as he left the flat across the hall from her own on the fourth floor, since the death of her mother a year and a half ago. Her father has been dead for some years. Many of her evenings she spends at the home of a married sister, which was one of the reasons she never had happened to encounter her neighbor across the hall until informed by Pat Roche that he lived there, and requested to aid in his apprehension—which she did with dispatch.

BROTHERS NEVER USED "LOEFFLER" AS ALIAS, ROCHE SAYS

Leo Brothers, the killer of Alfred Lingle, has never been known under the name of Loeffler, it was stated yesterday by Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson, and Charles F. Rathbun, special assistant state's attorney.

Reports have been published that Brothers was known under the name of Harry Loeffler and also as Leo Loeffler.

The only alias used by Brothers, according to the investigators, was Louis V. Bader, the name he adopted when he came to Chicago in July, 1929.

A man named Harry Loeffler is known to the St. Louis police and has a record in that city for disturbing the peace and for disorderly conduct. Dispatches from St. Louis stated that Loeffler has no connection whatever with Brothers.

FREE BUSINESS FROM LAWS, IS PLEA OF BANKER

A plea for less legislative supervision of business was made yesterday by Rome C. Stevenson, president of the American Bankers' association, in a speech before the Chicago Association of Commerce. His topic was, "What of 1931?"

Mr. Stephenson, who is vice president of the St. Joseph County Savings bank, South Bend, Ind., pointed out the differences in production and consumption now and a decade ago. He said individual units of industries today gear their production without regard to the industry as a whole, and that such a situation exists largely because of laws governing restraint of trade passed forty years ago. "Now, with science aiding, with checks of a thousand kinds, is there any reason," he asked, "why men should not be permitted to regulate output to a probable stable demand."

Mr. Stephenson found encouraging signs in stabilizing industry. A message of hope for the new year, he said, was the agreement among the four eastern railroads.

FOUND DEAD OF GAS.

GO OUT AND FIGHT, IS COL. M'CORMICK'S WORD TO BUSINESS

No sound reason for continued depression exists and the state of mind of the American business man is better at the start of 1931 than it was at the start of 1930.

This assertion was made by Col. R. R. McCormick, publisher of THE TRIBUNE, at the annual banquet of the advertising department of this newspaper last evening in the Drake hotel.

"Last year you tried to work with groggy people," Col. McCormick told the advertising men. "They were all like prize fighters who had taken blows on the jaw. They were slow and inclined to be timid. In my judgment the business men of America are now in two classes—those who have been counted out and those who have come back.

"Temporary depression may come from many causes—credit, overexpansion, overproduction, etc. But the world moves on and upward. Wealth in commodities that can't change must give place to wealth in new commodities, to new methods of distribution and sales.

"I do not know what may happen to this man or that man. What will happen to THE TRIBUNE I do know. It was never as vital as it is today. Its literary quality was never as high, it was never so prolific of ideas. One idea alone, color in the daily paper, has opened a whole new world to ourselves and to our advertisers.

"Your mission is to go out and give to doubtful and sometimes weak kneed business men the light of hope and the assurance of success. Ten years have passed since, during a depression, our slogan '1921 Will Reward Fighters' was invented. It is more true today than it was then."

COL. McCORMICK REVIEWS TRIBUNE WAR ON GANGDOM

Praises Those Active in Capturing Lingle Slayer.

During an address made last night at the annual dinner of THE TRIBUNE'S advertising department in the Drake hotel, Col. R. R. McCormick gave a review of the events that have occurred in the investigation of the murder of Alfred Lingle, reporter who was shot to death in the Randolph street tunnel at Michigan avenue last June.

Col. McCormick paid tribute to the efforts toward solution made by public officials, including State's Attorney Swanson and Coroner Bundesen, and to Patrick Roche and Charles F. Rathbun, members of the special investigating staff.

Shadows Other Achievements.

"Achievements of our news staff that in other years would have been worthy of note were overshadowed in 1930 by this tragedy that came on us," said Col. McCormick.

"I don't believe the memory of it has been out of my consciousness in any twenty-four hour period since I was called, at 5 minutes past 1 o'clock on June 9, and informed by our local room that one of our reporters, a man named Lingle, had been assassinated under circumstances which made it plain that it was a gang murder.

"In the succeeding minutes, while I was going to the local room, I remembered that one should always reply to a sudden attack with an immediate counter-offensive. In the local room I offered a $25,000 reward for the murderer.

"It seemed then that the choice was war or surrender, battle or the inevitable servitude of cowardice. I did not know the man who was killed, I had no idea of his private affairs and practically no knowledge of his duties. But I had seen gangland rise from the murder of humble immigrants until it had reached an employé of a newspaper.

"If the battle was not waged here and now it would be waged later under less advantageous circumstances.

Previous Search Recalled.

"There was a precedent in the organization to persistent search. A few years ago a criminal assault was committed against one of our subscribers on the north shore. We had delegated one reporter to stay on the trail until he produced his man. He did it in about half a year and the criminal is now in the state penitentiary under a 50 year sentence.

"In this new instance we did not know the criminal, his connections or his motives. We knew he must be a cog in the machine of organized crime, making the task more dangerous and difficult.

"Without the support and aid of the constituted authorities we could not succeed here. We called on State's Attorney Swanson, explained to him our interest and purpose, and he appointed Charles Rathbun an assistant state's attorney and Pat Roche a special investigator.

Praises Work of Bundesen.

"Investigation of this mysterious murder threw us into conflict with the whole system of organized crime in Chicago. I wish to take occasion here to speak gratefully of the work of Coroner Bundesen, who was always public spirited and helpful in this connection. He was operating the organization that specialized in examination of firearms and he achieved important results in identifying the weapon with which Lingle was killed.

"We owe thanks also to Acting Police Commissioner Alcock for continual friendliness and for finding and arresting Stanton, who was sent back to Wisconsin; and to Mr. Rathbun, who called my attention to the difficulty of holding a finger on a criminal long enough to look at his face. On his advice our staff was enlarged in order that we might counteract those harpies, criminal lawyers who batten on robbery and murder and cheat the prisons and the gallows.

"Rat Holes for Criminals."

"We learned that the courts sometimes were rat holes through which criminals escaped, that through years of ingenious arguments for criminals and insincere efforts on the part of past prosecutors, together with lack of public spirited courts of appeal, the liberties of free citizens were changed into travesities to let criminal beings continue their depredations on society.

"As to the investigation, its many disappointments and its unprecedented labors, I as a spectator and sometimes as an adviser, will not speak. The arrest that took place some days ago and which has now been announced through the press to all the world, has brought about what I prophesied it would. It has made Pat Roche the leading detective of America.

"Inevitably this investigation and prosecution spread beyond its single purpose. War against one man had to become a war against a system. If the immunity hedging bombing and murder could be broken once it could be broken again and many times. Among those who aided in this enlarged war was Judge John H. Lyle, who showed independence of personal fear, of political enmity and of misled appellate jurisdiction. His work has been of great value to the community.

Chief Credit to Swanson.

"Much credit must go to the man of first responsibility, who throughout resisted pressure of the most persistent kind, who stood like a rock in raging seas. To him principal credit is due. As we come into the new year, which I am sure is to lead us into control of our own government and to the eradication of criminal activity and political alliance, we have found a leader in State's Attorney Swanson."

Col. McCormick here ended his reference to the Lingle case and spoke of the other activities locally of THE TRIBUNE. He listed the music festival at Soldiers' field, the bringing of the air races to Chicago, and the idea of making Notre Dame-Northwestern football game a charity event—with a $100,000 check already paid over to help feed the Chicago poor—as among the most important of these.

State's Attorney Swanson, Mr. Rathbun, and Mr. Roche were guests at the banquet, which was attended by more than 300 TRIBUNE workers.

COMMISSIONER BARS SEARCHING CARS FOR RUM WITHOUT CAUSE

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Newell H. Timerman, United States commissioner, in dismissing liquor transportation charges against two Cleveland, O., men, today ruled that "it is not in order for state police to search automobiles for prohibition law violations without probable cause.

"Even an admission obtained from the defendant after his arrest on a state charge and while he is in custody is not probable cause such as will validate the troopers' act in making such a search," the commissioner said.

The defendants were Sam Tedesco and Sam Cantella of Cleveland, O., accused of transporting alcohol through the town of Evans Nov. 14. Both cars were seized. The police reports showed that in Tedesco's were 110 gallons of alcohol, in Cantella's 93. One of the men was arrested for failure to produce an auto registration card and the other for having no tail light on his automobile. After the prisoners had been fined for infractions of the state laws the federal dry law charges were placed against them.

ANOTHER GANG LEADER EVADES TRIAL BY LYLE

Levine Doesn't Like That Kind of Justice.

Hymie (Loud Mouth) Levine, Capone lieutenant, is another gangster, it was demonstrated yesterday, who does not care for the justice dealt out by Judge John H. Lyle in the Felony court to gunmen, racketeers, and hoodlums. His attorney, Harry Weisbrod, presented a petition for a change of venue from Judge Lyle's court and under the law it had to be granted.

Of all the gunmen and gangsters arraigned before Judge Lyle in recent months on the vagrancy warrants which he issued, Joe Saltis, south side beer boss, is the only one who signified a willingness to be tried in Judge Lyle's court. However, his declaration was questioned by the authorities, because he wiggled out of the court by asking for a jury trial when he knew the judge could not preside at such a hearing.

His "Loud Mouth" Name.

"What is the history of your client's name?" Judge Lyle asked Attorney Weisbrod.

"I do not know, your honor," replied the attorney.

"I think they call him Loud Mouth because he squawks so loudly when arrested," said Assistant State's Attorney Frank Mast. "Just now he looks like butter would melt in his mouth."

"I'll say he squawks," agreed the judge. "When he was arrested the last time I heard from two politicians, but it certainly did no good. No one can intercede for gangsters in this court."

Throughout the entire hearing Levine did not speak. He was granted his change of venue.

Belcastro in Bond Tangle.

James Belcastro, public enemy who was one of those named in the vagrancy warrants issued by Judge Lyle, nearly went to jail yesterday in lieu of $10,000 bail. Joe Casino, who put up $10,000 cash bond for Belcastro, withdrew the money and Belcastro was taken into custody. When a real estate bond was tendered to Judge Frank Padden he refused to accept it as sufficient. Belcastro, however, was later released when a satisfactory bond was given before another judge.

Jack Heinman, another one of those names in the vagrancy warrants, surrendered to Capt. William Stapleton yesterday. He will be arraigned before Judge Lyle today.

Praises Lingle Case Capture.

The capture of the slayer of Alfred Lingle was declared last night in speeches by Judge Lyle as a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor to signalize a new advancement in the warfare against crime in Chicago.

"On this day there was reported the end of the greatest and most spectacular man hunt ever known," he declared. "Probably never before has there been as much money spent, as able lawyers employed, and as skilled and ingenious detectives used as have been engaged in the running down of Lingle's murderer.

"The successful climax is a tribute to the people who determined that they would show it was possible to solve such a killing. It showed that a slaying by gangsters could be solved if enough perseverance was possessed by those who set out to seek a solution.

Lauds Roche and Rathbun.

"I have seen Roche and Rathbun on many occasions when they were filling in their spare time by tracking down other public enemies than the one who killed Lingle. I never in my life saw two men more determined and more bent upon their mission.

"It says much for Col. McCormick and THE TRIBUNE that the search for the slayer was pursued in such a manner and by such men. I predict that before very long not only the killer but the men who employed him and paid for the murder will be in custody."

VOTE TO MODIFY DRASTIC JONES FIVE AND TEN LAW

House Accepts Changes Reducing Penalty.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—[Special]—The first relaxation in the drastic terms of the Jones "five and ten" law appeared today. The house concurred in senate amendments to the Stobbs bill reducing penalties for minor violations of prohibition laws and the bill is now ready for President Hoover's signature.

Both houses passed the bill last spring, but final legislative action was held up pending consideration by the senate judiciary committee of amendments added by the senate. The house concurred in the senate amendments on the motion of Representative L. C. Dyer (Rep., Mo.), a member of the judiciary committee and an active dry, as well as wets, joined in support of the bill, which recognizes that the original Jones law was too severe. The bill had the approval of the Wickersham commission, although its language was entirely different from a proposal for a definition of "casual or slight violations," originally made by the commission.

It also was approved by Attorney General Mitchell.

$500 Instead of $10,000.

As modified by the Stobbs bill, the Jones law will provide a fine of not more than $500 or six months in jail for first offenders in violations involving not more than a gallon of liquor. The original Jones law made felonies of prohibition law violations by providing a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine or five years in jail for all offenses, although adding a proviso that it was the intent of congress that the courts should discriminate between casual or slight violations and habitual sales or attempts to commercialize violations of the law.

The Stobbs bill is a substitute for the proviso relating to casual or slight violations in the original Jones law.

As the Jones law will now read, it retains the following part of the first section without change:

"That wherever a penalty or penalties are prescribed in a criminal prosecution by the national prohibition act, as amended and supplemented, for the illegal manufacture, sale, transportation, importation, or exportation of intoxicating liquor, as defined by section 1, title II., of the national prohibition act, the penalty imposed for each such offense shall be a fine not to exceed $10,000 or imprisonment not to exceed five years or both."

Text as Modified.

Then follows the Stobbs bill in the form of a proviso, thus:

"Provided that any person who violates the provisions of the national prohibition act, as amended and supplemented in any of the following ways: [1] by sale of not more than 1 gallon of liquor as that word is defined by section 1 of title II. of said act: Provided, however, that the defendant has not theretofore within two years been convicted of a violation of the said act or is not engaged in habitual violation of the same; [2] by unlawful making of liquor as that word is defined by said section in an amount not exceeding one gallon, in the production of which no other person is employed; [3] by assisting in unlawfully making or unlawfully transporting of liquor, as above defined, as a casual employé only; [4] by unlawfully transporting not exceeding one gallon of liquor, as above defined, by a person not habitually engaged or employed in or not theretofore within two years having been convicted of a violation of such law shall for each offense be subject to a fine not to exceed $500 or to be confined in jail, without hard labor, not to exceed six months, or both."

One Section Unchanged.

Then will follow section 2 of the Jones law, as follows:

"Sec. 2. This act shall not repeal nor eliminate any minimum penalty for the first or any subsequent offense now provided by the said national prohibition act."

Other bills which were part of President Hoover's prohibition program as submitted by him to congress on the recommendation of the Wickersham commission, the department of justice, and the treasury department and which are still pending include the following:

A bill to enlarge the powers of United States commissioners in the disposition of petty offenses. It was passed by the house on June 4, 1930, and is pending in senate committee.

A bill to permit the accused in any criminal prosecution, with the consent of the court, to waive jury trial in federal courts. This was passed by the house on June 3, 1930, and is pending in the senate.

A bill creating unified border patrol to combine border activities relating to prohibition, customs, and immigration. This was passed by the house July 1, 1930, and is pending in a senate committee.

A bill to provide a prohibition enforcement code for the District of Columbia. The Howell bill containing provisions more drastic than are acceptable to the administration was reported from the District of Columbia committee of the senate and is in first place on the Republican steering committee program.

Fight Unified Border Patrol.

Opposition to the administration unified border patrol bill developed today at a hearing of the senate commerce committee. Harry Hull, commissioner of immigration, objected to the transfer of immigration border patrol activities from his bureau in the department of labor to the proposed new agency in the treasury department.

George J. Harris, assistant commissioner of immigration, criticized the creation by the bill of a new crime, that of crossing the border except at a designated point of entry. F. X. A. Eble, commissioner of customs, expressed approval of the bill.

The opinion continued that the Wickersham commission's new report would reach congress about the middle of next week. There were reports that a group within the commission which has demanded immediate action had refused to listen to a plea from congressional leaders to delay the report until after the adjournment of congress in order not to precipitate a controversy which might help to force a special session.

TWO CHICAGO WOMEN SUE BUFFALO BILL'S PAL FOR HEART BALM

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Suits totaling $75,000, charging breach of promise, have been filed here against Col. B. R. Pierson, one time western plainsman and said to have been a former associate of "Buffalo Bill" Cody.

The plaintiffs are Vera Redpath and Katherine Miller, both of Chicago.

J. S. Estes, Oklahoma City attorney employed by Pierson, said counsel for the women "admitted both were married." He declined to comment further. Service was obtained on Pierson while he was visiting here, Estes said.

Insists She Collects No Alimony, Either.

Natchez, Miss., Jan. 8.—(AP)—The claim that Tob Mix was charged with stealing a 20 year old horse named Bologny before Mix entered the movies was made by counsel for Col. Zach T. Miller, owner of the 101 Ranch shows, at trial today of a $50,000 breach of contract suit brought by the showman against the actor.

Counsel for Miller said Mix harbored malice against Miller, whom he believed responsible for the charge.

Tells of Agreement.

Mix's divorced wife testified to knowledge of the Miller-Mix agreement in which Miller claims the cowboy actor agreed to join his circus and backed out after he had advertised the attraction.

Mrs. Mix's testimony, mainly about the Mix family troubles, featured the afternoon session. A tall, handsome blonde, smartly attired and wearing brown furs, she smilingly informed the court she was Mrs. Mix No. 3. She said she had been married previously, but not since, and denied every receiving alimony from the dashing star.

On the contrary, she testified, she had "financed Tom in several of his lawsuits," while they were married, and added tersely:

"Tom never paid a grocery bill in his life."

Asked Private Car.

Telegrams were introduced in which Mix said he would consider a salary of $10,000 weekly, but would require a private railroad car sufficient to accommodate "two horses, a Rolls-Royce automobile and an entourage of seven people."

Mix smiled broadly when he was quoted as saying in a telegram: "I am not afraid of work, but I must have my comforts."

Newton Baker on Cruise; 'Not Dodging Hoover Body'

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, former secretary of war and a member of President Hoover's law enforcement commission, sailed on the Britannic today for a 49 day cruise of the Mediterranean. The enforcement commission is to hold a final meeting Jan. 14. Mr. Baker said the cruise was a planned vacation and had no relation to the fact he would not attend the commission's final meeting.

SEE TERMINAL AID FOR CHICAGO IN RAIL MERGER

Officials' Hope for Depot Consolidation Rises.

Consolidation of the principal railroads of the east, as viewed by Chicago authorities on the problem, will figure as an important if not a dominating factor in bringing about the modernization of Chicago's railway terminal facilities.

Under the terms of the consolidation agreement recently announced by President Hoover and executives of the lines involved, 23 roads will be combined into four great systems, namely: The Pennsylvania, New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio, and Chesapeake and Ohio. Eleven of the 23 lines enter five terminals in Chicago, each of the four systems including companies now using two or more of the local stations.

Should actual consolidations be effected, it is believed, the result would be at least a partial unscrambling of the lines which is essential in solving the Chicago terminal problem.

Sees Help on Terminals.

James Simpson, chairman of the Chicago Plan commission and a director of the New York Central railroad, was one of those expressing hope yesterday that the consolidation will stimulate the long delayed unification of the south side terminals. Although refusing to become overoptimistic, Mr. Simpson was inclined to consider the consolidation a step in the right direction.

"It is still too early to make any definite predictions," he said, "but it certainly is to be hoped that the consolidation will bring more action from the railroads than re have had."

Ald. Edward J. Kaindl [34th], chairman of the city council railway terminals committee, asserted emphatically that, as a result of the projected consolidation, "we are nearer a solution of the terminal question at this moment than we have ever been before." Edward J. Noonan, engineer for the committee, was of the same opinion.

Ald. Kaindl Is Hopeful.

"For years the railroads have been horse trading among themselves, each passing the buck to the other because they thought they would not profit enough," Ald. Kaindl declared. "Now the government has pushed them into a place where, in order to realize on the consolidation, they will have to get together as a matter of mutual economy."

One of the prime reasons for the consolidation is the necessity for the railroads to cut down expenses in order to meet the increasing competition of trucks, buses, waterways, and pipe lines, Ald. Kaindl pointed out. Only by getting the combined lines under the same station roofs, he argued, can they obtain the full financial advantage of the consolidation.

While remaining officially silent, executives of the affected railroads were said yesterday to be giving fresh attention to the terminal question since the consolidation agreement.

Linked to Terminal Issue.

A glance at the consolidation plans reveals how closely they tie up with any readjustment of terminal facilities. Unification of the Dearborn, La Salle, and Grand Central stations as urged by city plan experts would involve shifts within each of the four proposed systems.

Of the four roads in the Pennsylvania system, two enter Chicago, the Pennsylvania, which owns half of and uses the Union station, and the Wabash, which uses the Dearborn street station. The logical result of the consolidation would be to remove the Wabash to the Union station.

The New York Central now uses the La Salle street station, while its associated line, the Michigan Central, comes into the Illinois Central station over the Illinois Central tracks. The fact that the Michigan Central has the perpetual use of property rights north of the Illinois Central Kensington station, which it is reluctant to abandon, would appear to militate against consolidation of its terminal facilities with the New York Central.

Two lines of the Baltimore and Ohio group enter Chicago. These are the Baltimore and Ohio, which uses the Grand Central station, and the Chicago and Alton, purchased by the B. & O., which uses the Union station.

Most complex of the four systems, so far as Chicago terminals are concerned, is the Chesapeake and Ohio group, with five of its eight lines entering Chicago, four of them at different stations. The Chesapeake and Ohio comes in at the Illinois Central station, the Nickel Plate at La Salle street, the Pere Marquette at the Grand Central, and the Chicago and Eastern Indiana and the Erie at Dearborn street.

NEGRO SOUGHT IN STRANGLING OF DIVORCEE

CRIMINAL COURT.
James Martin, Kenneth Tannehill and Harvey Olson, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary; John White and J. Wynn, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary, by Judge Philip Finnegan.

The Fillmore street police early this morning were seeking a Negro who witnesses said they had seen on Tuesday leaving the apartment at 3233½ Warren boulevard where Mrs. Margaret Stevens, 36 year old divorcée, was found strangled to death with a towel early yesterday. According to coroner's physicians, Mrs. Stevens' death occurred some time on Tuesday.

Detectives were also investigating the theory, however, that Mrs. Stevens had been strangled by a suitor jealous of the attentions paid to her by George Nielsen, 62 years old, a factory superintendent of Crown Point, Ind. Nielsen had estabilshed the woman in the apartment three months ago and she posed as his wife, according to the police.

Nielsen, who worked in Crown Point during the week, spent the week-ends with Mrs. Stevens. He told the police he and Mrs. Stevens were to have been married in March. He was not held.

Mrs. Stevens was divorced from David Stevens of Kansas City, sports announcer and former actor, in 1923.

Millions Are Available for Highway Construction.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—In spite of the handicap of snow and ice, highway work is being expedited all over the country, Chairman Woods of the President's employment committee reported today, as a means of bringing jobs to those out of work.

Reports to the committee show that in the northern states a large amount of preliminary work, such as grading and clearing, is under way, and indications are that much more will be started within the next few weeks.

The reports show:

The New Jersey highway department has $38,000,000 available and that contracts for a large part of this will be let in the next three months.

St. Georges, Delaware, has appropriated $260,000 for road work; Sausalito, Cal., has let a $25,000 surfacing contract; Wichita Falls, Tex., a $50,000 contract; 12 miles of highway paving from Perry to Fort Valley, Ga., have been contracted, to cost approximately $300,000, and the state of South Carolina is expected shortly to let contracts for 200 miles of concrete road, to cost approximately $6,000,000.

Cities Plan Improvements.

Chicago is planning betterments in its 35,000 acres of forest preserves. San Francisco is considering a $2,500,000 bond issue for park and street construction. Cleveland plans $200,000 for improvement of city parks, the work to be given to needy. New York City has put 15,000 men to work in municipal parks three days a week.

The Louisiana highway department received bids on Jan. 6 for 200 miles of concrete road, and in Alabama bids are due on Jan. 14 for 263 miles of road projects and five bridge projects estimated to cost $4,700,000.

Construction on a 35 mile stretch on the Boston-Worcester turnpike in New England is being speeded.

Most of the state legislatures meet this week and Col. Woods expected many of them to appropriate funds to meet $80,000,000 of federal aid funds now available.

5,400 Get Full Time Jobs.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Approximately 5,400 men were placed on full time today, when the Sherwin-Williams company here announced that their plants had been placed on full time basis.

The men have been working on the stagger system.

$4,000,000 Project Planned.

Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Bertram L. Delack, manager of the Schenectady works of the General Electric company, announced today that work would be begun soon on the construction of a power generating development that will cost $4,000,000.

The new generating station will include the largest mercury vapor turbine ever built.

Washington Notes

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Senate world court foes have told Frank B. Kellogg, a justice on the court, enough votes were in prospect to defeat ratification of American adherence.

President Hoover nominated William H. Sawtelle of Arizona and Harry A. Holizer of California to be United States district judges.

Representative Knutson of Minnesota was selected chairman of the house insular committee. Representative Kopp of Iowa succeeds to the post Knutson quit as chairman of the pensions committee.

Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader, after a conference with President Hoover predicted the house would reject the conference report on the Muscle Shoals bill.

Acceleration of federal aid highway construction in 1930 was reported by the bureau of public roads to have resulted in the largest building year in the history of the program. The government paid to the states on completed federal aid work $96,355,800, an increase of about $19,700,000 over 1929.

SENATE'S POWER BOARD ROW IRKS SEN. TOM HEFLIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—They talked about the power trust in the senate today, some arguing that the senate should stand on its constitutional rights and rescind its confirmation of the three members of the federal power commission recently appointed by President Hoover, others claiming that the senate had no right to recall its action.

It was the third day of notable constitutional argument.

For the third time today Senator McNary of Oregon, assistant majority leader, tried futilely to get an agreement to limit debate. It was said that by tomorrow he will threaten night sessions.

Senator Walsh of Montana, radical Democrat and prime mover in the fight to recall the nominations, said he could not agree—too many others wanted to talk.

It was then that Heflin of Alabama got up:

"Mr. President," said Heflin, "the procedure we have had here in considering this matter during the daytime, when legislative matters are being held up, is not right. We ought to take up this executive matter tomorrow night and then meet the next night, and night after night until all the constitutional lawyers in the senate have discussed it. Bless their sober-sided souls, I love to hear them discuss this question over and over again. The question is agitating the minds of one hundred and twenty millions of people very greatly."

"This thing is getting on my nerves. I want to give notice again that I am going to insist tomorrow that we proceed with our legislative business during the daytime, and attend to this other matter at night. There has not in my judgment been a single vote changed by all the discussion."

TWO ARRESTED; COPPER SEIZED.

Herrin, Ill., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—Highway Patrolmen Duncan and Grain of Herrin arrested Guy Dixon, 28, and Gus Dixon, 31, brothers, of Murphysboro at Blairsville this morning. The men were driving a car containing twelve or fifteen hundred pounds of copper mine motor armatures reported stolen from the Western Coal company's mine near Blairsville.

DROUGHT RELIEF HELD UP BY PLEA CITIES BE AIDED

La Guardia Blocks Action by House.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—The insistence of Representative Fiorello La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.] that the cities share equally with the country in any governmental relief again held up action on the drought relief bill in the house of representatives today. It was the second time that the New York congressman has opposed the efforts of administration Republicans to send the bill to conference, where, it is confidently expected, the senate amendment granting a further appropriation of $15,000,000 for food loans will be stricken.

The attitude of the administration was reiterated by Representative Will R. Wood [Rep., Ind.] when he sought to take the bill from the table, where it has lain since it came from the senate last Monday.

"I am opposed to $15,000,000 for food for any section of the country," he declared.

Vote Demand Refused.

Representative La Guardia demanded a vote on the bill by the full house and was refused.

"Those who represent the cities have the same duty toward their constituents that the members from the rural districts have," he insisted, and later he declared: "It seems to me my batting average in support of farm relief measures is such that I can say that I am in on this or else I am going to use every honorable parliamentary procedure to protect the rights of the people I represent."

To his support came Representative Adolph Sabath, Chicago Democrat, to insist that relief committees in the large centers were unable to cope with the situation, and to recall the statement of Col. Arthur Woods of the President's employment committee, who yesterday told the appropriations committee of the senate that between four and five million men were jobless.

Wood Voices Opposition.

"I don't deny there is justice in your position," Representative Wood told the urban congressmen. "But I am opposed to this business on principle. If we adopt such a course it will live to haunt us as long as there is a congress."

The cities were even less justified in asking for federal relief, he claimed, because they enjoyed the aid of many charitable organizations, while country and small town districts had to depend solely on the Red Cross.

Delay Appears Likely.

So far there has been no open move on the part of Republican leaders in the house to advance the drought relief bill by a special rule, as may have to be done if city representatives insist on aid for their districts and the Democratic side remains determined to keep the Caraway amendment in the bill.

Representative La Guardia came forward again to introduce a bill calling for $30,000,000 to be given the Red Cross to purchase food to be distributed equally between city and country.

PERU'S FALLEN CHIEF AND 3 SONS FINED $7,625,000

3 Months' Graft Probe Ends in Sentence.

LIMA, Peru, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Augusto B. Leguia, deposed president of Peru, and his three sons must pay into the treasury 25,000,000 soles [approximately $7,625,000] as reimbursement for alleged improper transactions during the eleven years of the Leguia régime.

The National Sanctions court today announced sentence on the former president and his three sons, Augusto, Juan and José, following a three months investigation. Two of the judges in an additional opinion estimated that the Leguias owed the country 50,000,000 soles, or about $15,250,000.

Bare N. Y. Transaction.

Among the transactions charged to the Leguias, who were overthrown in August, is a national loan alleged to have been made by a New York banking house. The court declared the firm paid a high commission to Juan Leguia to avoid competition from other banks.

After the recent Peruvian revolution the authorities began a systematic search of the belongings of the Leguia family, and found among other valuables a gold crown, the gift of a group of women to the deposed president, and a diamond collar purchased for $150,000 from a Paris jeweler.

When the government headed by President Sanchez Cerro came into power, former President Leguia and his sons, with 27 other persons, were prosecuted before the Sanctions court on charges of "illegal enrichment." The elder Leguia and Juan Leguia are in custody, but Augusto Jr. and José Leguia escaped. It was announced today that the deposed president will soon be operated upon in the penitentiary. The operation, to be performed by an American surgeon, will be done at Leguia's request, it was stated.

Tries Suicide in Cell.

Authorities announced today that Benjamin Huaman de los Heros, who was premier of Peru under the Leguia régime and who has been under arrest at the national penitentiary, attempted to commit suicide in his cell, but was prevented from doing so.

The former premier was said to have been suffering a nervous breakdown since the overthrow of the Leguia government.

The Cuban legation said today that Jesus M. Salazar, a former member of the Leguia cabinet, who took refuge in the legation at the time of the revolution, was critically ill and not expected to live.

KVALE WILL WIN UNANIMOUSLY BY MAJORITY OF ONE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—The third party in the house of representatives is going to caucus.

It may be a little bit lonely. But for spectators it will have 218 interested Republicans, and 216 particularly watchful Democrats.

The major parties are going to have their meetings near the end of February. But the lone Farmer-Labor—Paul Kvale of Minnesota—is going to dare the ides of March. He has posted notice of a caucus of his party on March 2.

Under the usual procedure of caucuses, the party will nominate a speaker, leader and whip. And it looks like a walkaway for young Mr. Kvale.

HUNT 70 YEAR OLD WOOER.

Al Cannon, 70 years old, who wooed Mrs. Anna K. Johnston, 2642 Lawrence avenue, was sought by police last night on a warrant charging operation of a confidence game. It is charged he obtained $275 from Mrs. Johnston to purchase furniture for their home and then disappeared.

GOV. F. B. OLSON ASKS REPEAL OF NEWS 'GAG LAW'

New Minnesota Executive Changes Stand.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—Gov. Floyd B. Olson, who two years ago stood ready to fight any attempt to have the Minnesota newspaper "gag law" declared unconstitutional, urged the repeal of that law in his inaugural address.

As Hennepin county attorney, Mr. Olson prosecuted the case against Howard Guilford and J. M. Near, publishers of the Saturday Press and Twin City Reporter, and brought about the suppression of the newspaper under the "gag law." An appeal to have this measure declared unconstitutional, sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, is now pending for argument before the United States Supreme court.

Twice Enforced Law.

Urging repeal of the law in his inaugural address, Gov. Olson said:

"I recommend that chapter 285 of the session laws of 1925 providing for the suppression of newspapers be repealed. As the prosecuting attorney of Hennepin county I had occasion to enforce that law in two instances. Its constitutionality was sustained by the Minnesota Supreme court. I am convinced that it is constitutional, and as a prosecuting attorney, could not be concerned with its wisdom or lack of wisdom.

"As the chief executive of the state, however, I occupy a different status. The cases in which the law was used were proper exercises of the operation of the law, but I believe that the possibilities for abuse make it an unwise law. The freedom of speech and the press should remain inviolate, and any law which constitutes an entering wedge into that inviolability is unsafe."

Publisher Wants Ruling.

J. M. Near, publisher of the suppressed Saturday Press, says he hopes the United States Supreme court acts on the appeal before the Minnesota legislature gets around to it and thus furnishes a basis for national opinion.

Threatens to Blow Up Jail; Bomb Contains Only Water

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Bernard Buckley, 18, arrested on suspicion of robbery and said by police to be on parole from a Massachusetts reformatory, failed in a bid for freedom today. Waving a small bottle which he said contained explosive, he offered to blow up the Huntington Park jail and police station unless freed. Police brought out a tear gas gun and Buckley surrendered. The bottle was filled with water.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—The number of Germany's jobless totaled 4,357,000 at the end of December, and it is estimated that there are 4,500,000 unemployed now. There was an increase during the second half of December of 340,000. The number of those receiving jobless relief has increased by 574,000 in the same period to 2,822,000.

NURSE AND BABY DIE IN FLAMES; BLAME FIREBUG

What caused the fire that early yesterday swept the home of an Indian medicine man at Herscher, fifteen miles southwest of Kankakee, and destroyed his "laboratory" of patent medicines and his garage was still a mystery last night as police searched the ruins for the body of the Indian's 9 months old son. The body of the infants' nurse was recovered.

John Moore, 35 years old, the medicine man, hurried home from Flanagan, Ill., early yesterday in his medicine wagon. He charged that enemies set his home on fire and talked vaguely of "a country doctor" whom he blamed. Coroner Oscar Cartier and Sheriff Albert Goodneckt of Kankakee county agreed with the arson theory, but were unable to establish a motive.

The Indian's establishment was in the center of the business district that serves the little town of 2,000 inhabitants. At 3 o'clock yesterday morning flames burst from the first floor of the home.

Volunteer firemen rescued the Indian's pretty American wife, who is a cripple, and Al Hoover, his son, who was born on last presidential election day.

Upstairs were Nurse Susanna Pigua, 18 years old, and her charge, Leslie Moore. Firemen put a ladder to the nurse's window and beckoned to her. She chose the stairway instead, seized the child, and descended into the flames.

Among the villagers John Moore and his retinue have been the subject of much gossip since they moved into town two years ago. The raiment and the habits of the full-blooded Seminole were colorful; his movements somewhat mysterious. Each week he gave a free show for the town's children and on Christmas staged a town party with gifts for every one.

A previous attempt had been made to burn his home, local authorities reported.

ARMY RED TAPE CUT BY GEN. MAC ARTHUR, NEW CHIEF OF STAFF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—War department red tape was slashed today by Douglas MacArthur, army chief of staff, in a new move to speed up war department administration and improve the output of the general staff.

In an order, marking his first major official act since assuming the position of chief of staff, Gen. MacArthur created a new advisory body which will pass on current matters of army policy and report recommendations directly back to him for transmission to the secretary of war. The new body will be known as the general council and will be made up of the deputy chief of staff, as chairman, assistant chiefs of staff and other high ranking officers.

War department officials believe that under the new system it will be possible for the chief of staff to get quick action on projects vitally affecting the future of the army. In the past plans for army modernization have been delayed on many occasions and friction aroused between various components of the army by red tape which has impeded action.

SIFT MY ACTS, URGES GOVERNOR OF TENNESSEE

Tells Assembly to Spare No One in Bank Quiz.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—This was Andrew Jackson day in the south and while pilgrims were wending their way to the Hermitage at the edge of town, the long, lean figure and stern features of the pioneer Tennessee President and soldier, who saved this nation from the British troops at New Orleans 116 years ago, looked down up a strange scene in the assembly chamber of the Tennessee legislature.

Gov. Henry H. Horton, ex-farmer, schoolmaster, and lawyer from the Cumberland plains, deacon in the Baptist church, faced the legislature sitting under the smoke stained grim portraits of Jackson and other men of the heroic past, and implored them to show no fear or favor in the investigation which they are about to launch into his office and other departments of state.

$6,000,000 State Funds.

The extraordinary situation in the state, brought about by the failure of Caldwell & Co., and three banks in which nearly $6,000,000 of state funds were deposited, with the charges that these funds were shoveled in through a political conspiracy to bolster up the banks during the stock market crash, led the governor to appear personally before the legislature and to devote his entire message to this subject.

A man of deeply lined and kindly face, with thin, white hair, his voice trembling a bit, he was received with respect by members of the assembly, and applauded mildly. The reaction to his plight seems to be one of sympathy for a man who did not know what was going on around him, and there is little talk among the legislators of impeachment.

The investigation is directed more at the men who are said to have used him than at him, although all definite opinion is awaiting the result of the probe which will get under way next week and may last until spring. In the meantime there has been no resolution introduced to set a day for the governor's inauguration, and appointments of state controller and state treasurer are held in abeyance.

Message Strong Enough.

The governor's message was strong enough to suit the most bitter enemy of the old political machine which has now been shorn of legislative control, and was delivered in an earnest manner. He asked for a bi-partisan, bi-factional investigation of his own office and of other constitutional and appointive offices. He took the position which Rogers Caldwell has taken in interviews, that the present world-wide depression is the cause of the banking trouble in Tennessee and that it was incidental that state funds were tied up there, "an unfortunate situation," that is all.

The first Tennessee legislature used to meet at the third drum after sunrise, and any member who missed the long opening prayer was fined a shilling.

It was 11 o'clock when they met today, and the prayer was a hurried affair, with many legislators smoking and reading newspapers slyly while it was in progress. Each legislator has a substantial big iron cuspidor by his desk, and it is reported with regret that some of them still use "chawin' tobacco." They are a mixed lot, from the blue grass, the great smokies, the little mountain towns, and the four big cities of the state of Jackson and Polk.

Win Confidence of State.

They already have won the confidence of the state by their prompt action in this investigation, and the governor's message does not change the situation any. The play had been taken away from him.

The governor said that as a result of the unfortunate situation in the state that every effort had been made to inflame the public against the officials of the banks that have failed and against state officials, that it has been charged in massmeetings and in the press that officials and state boards have been corrupt and faithless.

"No man guilty of these charges should be permitted to hold office," said the governor. "Every man guilty of a betrayal of his trust, however exalted his position, should be exposed, condemned and removed from office, and if he has violated any laws, he should be punished in the criminal courts of the state."

Insists People Get Facts.

"If, on the other hand," he continued, "the investigation shows that officials have been slandered, the traducers should stand condemned.

"Whatever the result, the people of Tennessee are entitled to know what the facts are. In this investigation you should have no friend to reward and no enemy to punish.

"The committee or committees should be composed of both Democrats and Republicans, of members who oppose the administration's policies of state government as well as those who favor those policies. Above all, there should be no political investigation, no whitewash, and no persecution."

Waits on Complete Report.

The governor said he did not know how much of the state funds would be lost, that he had directed the attorney general to investigate as soon as he received notice of the danger, and that he was awaiting a report. He suggested that the utmost care be exercised in the selection of the committee auditors, and that this be left to the presidents of the Tennessee bar, farm bureau, bankers' association, federation of labor, and manufacturers' association.

The senate is to take up tomorrow the resolution of investigation, which already has passed the house. Senator Charles Cornelius introduced a bill today giving the committee full authority to administer oaths to witnesses, making it a misdemeanor for witnesses to default in appearance.

In the house a bill was introduced to repeal chapter 9 of the extraordinary session of 1929. This is the law which added the commissioner of finance and taxation to the funding board, thus giving the Caldwell interests a friendly board.

Attempted Holdup Fails; Two Chicagoans Arrested

Glendale, Cal., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—Mrs. Ella Grover, 22, who gave her address as 1421 Van Buren street, Chicago, and Ralph J. Martin, 32, 5056 Kenmore avenue, Chicago, were arrested today when Martin was overpowered while trying to hold up a taxi driver. The chauffeur, John Nelson, knocked aside the weapon with which Martin was covering him and grappled with Martin until police arrived.

ALBERT TRAINS CAMPAIGN GUNS ON JUDGE LYLE

Attack Jurist for Stand in 1928 Battle.

BY PARKE BROWN.

That Ald. Arthur F. Albert, Deneen candidate for the mayoralty, intends to concentrate his fire on Judge Lyle and not on Mayor Thompson was the conclusion of political observers yesterday because of the opening moves in the alderman's campaign.

The first piece of newspaper publicity issued from the Albert headquarters was an attack on Judge Lyle. In it Roy O. West, who is directing the alderman's campaign, condemned Lyle for an alleged indorsement of Robert E. Crowe in the campaign of 1928. The second hint of this candidate's form of campaign was a report that he intends to seek an opportunity to address each of the numerous organizations before which Judge Lyle has spoken.

Those in charge of the Lyle campaign construed these disclosures to mean that Senator Deneen and his forces concede Lyle to be the strongest of Albert's opponents.

Cites Stand for Crowe.

"Mr. West pointed out," said the Albert publicity man's copy, "that Judge Lyle publicly indorsed Robert E. Crowe in the April primaries of 1928 when crime was the issue in Chicago and Cook county."

The indorsement referred to and quoted was an extract from Crowe's campaign booklet, in which Judge Lyle was quoted as follows:

"You have, since the first day you took office, mercilessly hammered and slashed away at criminals and that army who make a living out of helping criminals keep out of the clutches of the law."

Then the headquarters statement went on: "Mr. West recalled that Robert E. Crowe's record as public prosecutor was familiar to the voters and was repudiated by them by a plurality of 235,768 votes. He added that Robert E. Crowe has been a Thompson-Crowe-Barrett leader for years and now is active in the conduct of the campaign for Mayor Thompson for renomination."

Judge Lyle was the guest of honor at a noon luncheon of well known business men given at the Chicago club by Eames MacVeagh and Howard Gillette. About a score were present and they offered the candidate their assistance in the campaign. It is probable that some of them will become members of the Lyle citizens' campaign committee.

Plan Judicial Strategy.

Possibly a new form of coalition for the judicial election which falls on primary day, Feb. 24 may result from action taken yesterday by the Democratic county convention. At the suggestion of Chairman Cermak the committeemen voted not to nominate a member of their party against Superior Judge Harry A. Lewis, who is up for reelection.

There is a second place on the same bench which is vacant as the result of the death of Judge Martin J. Isaacs. If Gov. Emmerson calls a special election for this seat for Feb. 24, the Republicans, it is said may not nominate for it and the Democrats then would nominate Municipal Judge Francis B. Allegretti, whom they had slated to run against Judge Lewis.

Edward B. Casey, 6824 Wayne avenue, is the only Republican whose name will be on the primary ballot for the Burke Municipal court vacancy.

HOOVER FAILURE AS PRESIDENT, SHOUSE CHARGES IN SPEECH

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, in a speech prepared for delivery here tonight, called Herbert Hoover "a failure as President."

The Democratic leader called upon his party to find a successful method of dealing with commercial disturbances. He pointed to the federal reserve act in the field of finance as an example of what could be done.

Terming the present economic situation "the Hoover panic," Shouse said "the crash would not have been so great, the disaster not so deadly and the misery not so long continued had Mr. Hoover not lulled the country into a false sense of security and encouraged people to ignore the danger signals that are so apparent in retrospect."

Referring to the Democratic gains in the last general election, Shouse predicted "we will take over the government two years from now and we will retain it as long as we deserve to."

START HEARING CANAL DISTRICT CASE MONDAY

The long delayed sanitary district conspiracy case involving Timothy J. Crowe, former president of the sanitary district, and other former officials of the district is to get under way Monday morning, it was announced yesterday by First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup. The hearing of preliminary motions for quashing the indictments for a bill of particulars and a plea by the defense for a complete list of witnesses will be started at that time as a result of an agreement by the state and defense attorneys.

The defense attorneys notified Prosecutor Northup that Judge Joseph B. David is acceptable to them and that they will not take a change of venue from his court. The prosecutor, who had previously announced that he probably would file a certificate of objection to the judge, said that he, too, is now satisfied with Judge David.

JUDGE CONFIRMS SALE OF ALTON ROAD TO B. & O.

Overrules Protest from Stockholders.

Federal Judge George A. Carpenter yesterday confirmed the sale of the Chicago and Alton railway to the Baltimore and Ohio for $23,000,000 cash and other considerations bringing the purchase amount to $73,000,000. The sale was made at auction, under foreclosure proceedings, on Dec. 11.

The court also granted a petition assigning the road from the purchasers to the newly created Alton Railway corporation, as the road will be known henceforth. The master in chancery was instructed to turn over the deed to the road when the interstate commerce commission approves the reorganization.

Attorney James M. Shean, representing the Baltimore and Ohio, announced that the Alton Railway corporation has been formed with a capitalization of $25,000,000, subject to previous obligations of $50,000,000.

Officers of Corporation.

John P. Oleson, vice president of the First National bank, is president of the new company, and Harry A. Wheeler, vice chairman of the First National, is chairman of the board. Charles R. Holden, also a vice president in the First National; Robertson Griswold, Baltimore, and Douglas M. Moffett are vice presidents. The Baltimore and Ohio is represented on the directorate and will control the railway.

Judge Carpenter confirmed the sale over the protests of former United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri and Senator Otis F. Glenn of Illinois, who represented the Levinson committee of stockholders. An intervening petition was denied and the only recourse left the stockholders is an appeal to the higher courts.

Glenn Deplores Sale.

Senator Glenn deplored the sale of the road under existing business conditions and declared that if the sale were postponed a suitable reorganization might be effected or a higher price obtained.

"No story in all railroad financing is so sordid as this deal," he said.

Judge Carpenter said the stockholders had had eight years in which to effect a reorganization and that they now had no right to attempt to become partners of the purchasers. He also declared that no practicable plan of reorganization had ever been submitted by the stockholders.

An appeal to the higher courts is expected.

CIVIL SERVICE HEADS CALLED IN POLICE INQUIRY

Special Jury Starts Probe of Job-Buying.

The special grand jury investigating police conditions in Cook county will meet this morning to dig into the charge made by Chief Justice McGoorty of the Criminal court in his statement to the jurors that a mixed scale of prices has prevailed for many years for promotions in the department. The jurors yesterday afternoon prepared subpoenas for all members of the civil service commission, calling on them to appear before the jury this morning.

Detective Sergeant Michael Ahern served the jury summons on Carlos Ames, president of the commission; Edward Denemark and Bishop Archibald Carey, members of the commission. Bishop Carey has been under indictment for many months on charges of accepting graft for promotions, but has not yet been tried.

Thomas Houston Also Called.

Thomas J. Houston, former president of the commission and now a mayoralty candidate, and James Osborne, secretary of the commission are others summoned for jury questioning.

Because of the emphasis of Judge McGoorty on the promotion phase of the inquiry, the jurors notified Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller, that would be the first subject considered.

"It is a matter of common knowledge that for many years there has been a fixed scale of prices for advancement in the police department, according to the rank and salary of the office sought," Judge McGoorty told the jurors.

Hear of Police Survey.

Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the Chicago crime commission, was the first witness yesterday. His testimony, however, was brief inasmuch as he only explained a survey made of the police department. This survey was financed by wealthy citizens and was made by Bruce Smith of the National Institute of Public Administration.

Mr. Smith spent several hours before the jurors as the second witness telling of the conditions found in the department.

Smith's investigation was in the nature of an audit of the administrative end of the department and did not deal with any charges of corruption. Smith said he has completed his work and that a report is to be released within the month.

Read Earlier Testimony.

The remainder of the day was taken up with the reading of the transcript of the testimony taken before previous grand juries on police conditions. This covered the investigation by the November grand jury of the transfer of a vice and gambling squad from the command of Capt. William Shoemaker.

The Rev. Elmer Williams, editor of a publication called Lightning, who has made various charges against the police, is to be given a chance today to tell the jury whether he has any evidence.

Heads Park Police

MAJ. JAMES U. SAMMIS.

Maj. James U. Sammis Jr. of the Illinois National Guard has assumed his new duties as chief of the Lincoln park police, succeeding Charles E. Shaw. Maj. Sammis served as a private under Gen. Pershing on the Mexican border in 1916 and went overseas in the world war as a first lieutenant.

KEGEL FILES CIVIL SERVICE CHARGES AGAINST TONNEY

Friends Defend Veteran of City Laboratory.

Health Commissioner Kegel yesterday filed charges with the civil service commission against Dr. Frederick O. Tonney, who has been director of the health department research laboratories for the last 21 years. Dr. Tonney already was under suspension, having been removed from his duties a month ago.

Friends Deny Charges.

Dr. Tonney is charged with being insubordinate for reading a scientific paper at a convention in Texas recently without Kegel's permission and with conduct unbecoming an employé for taking apparatus to the Indiana dunes to develop a research problem. Other charges allege absence without leave, neglect of duty and lack of cooperation with other bureaus in the department.

Friends of Dr. Tonney said the paper was read in Texas while the physician was on leave and that his work at the dunes had gained the health department national recognition. Records show, they said, that he was on sick leave following an operation at the time he is charged with being absent without leave.

"Not Anxious to Return."

Dr. Tonney said he has very little interest in returning to the position under the "present trying circumstances" and referred questions to his attorneys, Henry P. Chandler and Francis X. Busch.

"I would prefer not to take the trouble to answer the charges but I must keep faith with the public spirited citizens who have come to my support," he said.

Members of the city council expressed surprise on hearing of the charges. Reports in the city hall are that after Dr. Tonney was transferred to the contagious disease hospital to develop a new research laboratory he was refused the men and materials with which to work.

INDICT KENTUCKY FILM HOUSE FOR SUNDAY SHOWING

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 8.—(AP)—The Daviess county grand jury returned 30 indictments against the Strand Amusement company, Louisville, operator of two motion picture theaters here, charging the company with "causing work to be done on the Sabbath" in violation of state law.

The grand jury report also warned farmers not to haul their tobacco to Owensboro markets on Sunday and warned warehousemen against receiving the leaf. The report recommended that the next grand jury return indictments should the law not be observed.

Uniform Traffic Code to Be Urged on 44 States

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The executive committee of the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety decided today to urge the legislatures of 44 states this winter to adopt a uniform code of automobile traffic regulations and uniform drivers' license laws. William E. Metzger of Detroit, chairman of the committee, said most accidents were due to unfamiliarity of drivers with the traffic laws of the various states. He said only thirteen states have drivers' license laws.

ALDERMEN TURN DOWN ALL BOND ISSUES BUT ONE

$28,645,000 in Proposals Kept Off Ballot.

An intermission in the submitting of large bond issues to the voters was declared yesterday by members of the finance committee of the city council. Turning down requests for bonds totaling $28,645,000, the committee recommended that the council place only one proposition on the ballot at the aldermanic election on Feb. 24.

The successful proposition is one of $3,500,000 proposed by Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, to pay the public benefit in the widening of North State street. The estimated public benefit as set in the assessment roll at $955,000, but it was explained that the remainder of the bond issue is sought to protect the city in case the court increases the amount.

Aldermen Talk to Keeler.

Action on the bond issue was taken after a subcommittee had conferred with Harris Keeler of the bureau of public efficiency.

Money from the bond issue cannot be expended, according to members of the committee, without first being appropriated by the council. Since the council is limited by law to the one yearly appropriation bill which will be submitted tomorrow by the committee the aldermen have no authority to appropriate from the bond issue until 1932 even if it is approved by the voters.

Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th] told the committee that he thought the council ought to ask the legislature for authority to appropriate from bond issues during the year as they are voted.

The Proposals Rejected.

Among the requests for large bond issues rejected by the committee were those for five new bridges and for bridge repairs totaling $11,600,000: $2,000,000 to open Michigan avenue between 63d and 67th streets; $5,670,000 for new fire houses and repairs to existing ones; $3,050,000 for construction of a bridge in North Ashland avenue; $2,300,000 for the construction of four incinerators, and $1,100,000 for new cells at the Bridewell.

The city has an unexercised bonding power of $35,414,856, the committee was informed. After recommending using only $3,500,000 of this the subcommittee told the full committee that the other requested bond propositions would be given consideration before the April mayoralty election.

Seventy Given Salary Increases.

Salary increases that have been debated in the committee for more than two weeks were finally adjusted. On the motion of Ald. Nelson the committee allowed approximately 70 plumber foremen an increase of $168 a year, raising them from $4,350 to $4,518. The request of 42 chlorine attendants for raises of $500 a year, from $2,180 to $2,780, was rejected.

Richard W. Wolfe, commissioner of public works, received a rebuff from the committee in the approval of an ordinance transferring Leslie J. Sorenson, city traffic engineer, from Wolfe's jurisdiction to the department of gas and electricity. The action was taken, the aldermen said, because of the trouble experienced under Wolfe with contracts for maintenance of curb flasher traffic signals.

The committee approved the appropriation bill of $168,590,597 which is recommended to the council for passage. The vote on the bill was unanimous.

FIND LAKES OF OLD KILLARNEY CAN BE USED TO MAKE PAINT

KILLARNEY, Irish Free State, Jan. 8.—(AP)—This beauty spot of Erin, beloved by tenors the world over, is surrendering to the march of progress. Somebody has discovered that there are things in the waters of the lakes which can be used by varnish makers. Fortunately, so the lovers of Killarney's natural beauty say, no land in the immediate vicinity has been taken over by the exploiters of this scheme, but the lake waters are to be shipped to paint factories in other sections.

IF A CITY WANTS CLEANUP IT CAN GET ONE—HOAN

Mayor of Milwaukee Tells Chicago How.

Ordinary horse sense, a little honesty, and a willingness to work is all that is needed to insure an efficient municipal government. If the people are not getting the kind of government they want, it is because they are not properly organized. They are simply getting what they deserve and what they voted for.

That, in the opinion of Mayor Daniel W. Hoan of Milwaukee, is the remedy for a lax city administration. Mr. Hoan, serving his fifteenth year as mayor of Milwaukee, addressed the members of the Kiwanis club of Chicago yesterday in the Hotel Sherman.

The guests of the Kiwanis club at the meeting were nearly a hundred state, county, and city officials, and representatives of various civic organizations.

Tells of Milwaukee Cleanup.

"We cleaned up in Milwaukee," Mayor Hoan said. "The same thing can be done in any city. But you must perfect an organization to do the job. None of us can be so selfish as to neglect government without paying the penalty.

"In 1910 Milwaukee was just about bankrupt. Every city fund was depleted. The police and firemen's pension fund alone showed a deficit of $2,000,000. In twenty years Milwaukee has cleaned house to the extent that it now has the best financial credit of any large city in the world.

"We are accumulating money every year and by 1960 will have enough to wipe out all our public debts. We are now supplying public service to people in Milwaukee for from 25 to 75 per cent cheaper than in other cities.

"This has been done by eliminating 30 per cent of the overhead. None of the city's work is done by contracts with individuals. In this way we eliminate a great deal of bookkeeping."

The Test of Efficiency.

Mayor Hoan pointed out that the tax rate has little to do in determining the efficiency of municipal government. It is the type of service that the taxpayers are getting that counts, he said.

"The best test is to examine the alleys," he went on. "If they are not clean then the same condition exists throughout the entire government. There are four fundamental rules to be followed in extricating a government from financial and moral ruin.

"First, eliminate graft. Second, eliminate the interest burden—by far the most important. Third, establish cooperation and coördination among the various departments. And finally provide model service."

ASK PAY BOOST FOR OFFICIALS IN SCHOOL BUDGET

Finance Chairman Sticks to Closed Session.

James A. Hemingway, chairman of the school board finance committee, said yesterday that his committee has nothing to conceal with reference to its action on the $95,000,000 budget for 1931. Meanwhile the meeting room remained closed to the public and the trustees reiterated that "really nothing has been done. It is expected the work will be finished tomorrow noon."

It was learned that the committee yesterday recommended increasing the salaries of Harry H. Brackett, school auditor, and Frederick G. Lane, assistant to the president. Several other revisions of the preliminary draft were suggested.

Keeps in Seclusion at Noon.

Mr. Hemingway failed to appear after the morning session to make a statement. He ate a box lunch and remained in the private office of President Lewis E. Myers of the school board during the entire noon recess. At the end of the day, as he was about to enter an elevator after leaving the office by a side door, he was asked if he had changed his mind on the closed door policy. He replied: "Well, I don't know about that. I'll take it up with the committee tomorrow. We didn't do anything today, anyway."

The only important reduction of the day asked by the finance committee was contained in a recommendation that all automobile allowances be held to $50 a month or less. About 135 employés will be affected. The result will be an estimated annual saving of $25,000.

The salaries of the auditor and assistant to the president were recommended raised from $7,200 to $8,000, and from $6,500 to $7,800, respectively. Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, a trustee, said that other salary increases were being considered. She said the committee was still in doubt as to whether $300,000 could be produced to pay for an increase in the elementary school teaching staff.

Increases Are Recommended.

The committee also recommended an increase of $13,224 in the educational fund, $75,331 in the building fund and $48,335 in the play ground fund. An increase of the president's contingent fund from $40,000 to $90,000, the additional sum to be used for lobbying in the state legislature during the present legislative year, also was recommended. The Chicago Normal school is to get an additional $21,000. The overtime appropriation for engineers and janitors was increased $80,000.

Officers of the City club yesterday expressed their disapproval of the closed door policy of Mr. Hemingway. Dr. C. S. Bacon, chairman of the education committee of the club, said the group was preparing to protest to Mr. Hemingway.

PERSONALTY TAX PENALTIES ADDED IN ROGERS PARK

Hotel Valuation Set at $850,500.

The board of assessors yesterday completed the 1930 personal property assessment books for Rogers Park and Lake View. The Edgewater Beach hotel tops the list in the two north side townships with a valuation of $850,500. The 1930 tax rate will not be announced until the books for the entire county are completed.

The hotel company failed to file a tax schedule for 1930, so instead of paying a tax on a valuation of $567,000, as scheduled in 1929, will pay on a valuation of $850,500, the penalty for failure to schedule being an increase of 50 per cent over last year's valuation.

Hotel Residents Penalized.

A number of residents of the hotel were penalized, among them being Miss Mary McMahon, $13,095; Miss Clare Hansen, $225; C. E. Goodwin, $225; Frank M. Fox, $225; Judge Kickham Scanlan, $100, and Miss Charlotte Tyndall, $225.

Barney, Dr. A. C., 6000 Sheridan-rd.	$33,000
Brannam, W. L., 1030 Ardmore-av.	3,000
Cannon, J. R., 5627 Sheridan-rd.	2,400
Dorsey, J. T.	1,950
Egel, Fred N., 7649 Eastlake-ter.	9,000
Friedman, C. A., 1130 Farwell-av.	3,000
Jagus, W. W., 5754 Sheridan-rd.	14,730
Kemper, Jas. F., 7450 Sheridan-rd.	5,400
Lipsey, D. A., 1133 Pratt-blvd.	9,000
Madden, Loretta, 1428 Jarvis-av.	9,000
Martin, R. F., 1428 Jarvis-av.	24,500
Millar, Wm. B., 6934 Sheridan-rd.	6,000
Monks, L. I., 5842 Sheridan-rd.	15,000
Murray, Geo. C., 6336 Sheridan-rd.	30,000
Peacock, Frank, 7350 Sheridan-rd.	1,395
Scown, W. J., 6346 Sheridan-rd.	9,900
Van Sant, Edgar, 7360 Sheridan-rd.	4,100
Weaver, C. H., 5714 Sheridan-rd.	2,000

Among the estates assessed were those of the late A. E. Thompson, 1246 Jarvis avenue, which will pay a tax on a valuation of $40,000, and the estate of the late Louis Levy, 1428 Fargo avenue, which was assessed at $35,000.

COUNTY BOARD STARTS WORK ON BUDGET FOR 1931

The finance committee of the county board yesterday started work on the 1931 budget. Eight of the fifteen members were present and Chairman Emmett Whealan. A preliminary study on revenues and needs was given by William J. Graham, chief deputy controller.

The commissioners noted a request of $1,300,000 by the board of assessors for the 1931 quadrennial real estate assessment. Mr. Graham pointed out that the 1927 assessment cost $400,000.

"Isn't there something we can do about it?" inquired Mrs. Edward J. Fleming, one of the women commissioners.

"We've got the power right here," said Chairman Whealan. "We'll cut them out altogether. We have to in order to live within our revenues."

The suggestion was not acted on. A committee was appointed to investigate the needs of the Cook County Training School for Nurses, which is asking $1,300,000. Several commissioners have charged extravagance at the school. The sessions will be resumed on Tuesday.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 8.—(AP)—A bill providing for a referendum on a constitutional amendment to permit enactment of an income tax law was introduced in the Minnesota senate today.

KATE PULLMAN SUES FATHER OF "EUGENIC" BABY

Miss Katie Pullman, vaudeville actress, filed suit for $100,000 damages in the Circuit court yesterday against Roscoe Ails, her former dancing partner. Only the praecipe of the suit was filed. Attorney Emmett F. Byrne, representing Miss Pullman, said the declaration of the suit will charge breach of promise.

Ails, according to the attorney, is the father of Miss Pullman's 2 year old son. The boy, born Aug. 23, 1928, was at first styled by Miss Pullman as a eugenic baby.

The attorney said that Ails repeatedly promised to marry Miss Pullman both before and after the birth of their child. Ails married Miss Shirley Dahl, an actress, in New York last June. Miss Pullman had previously publicly announced that Ails had offered her $1,000 for the right to adopt their child, but that she refused.

Miss Pullman married Edward Smith of Chicago in 1918 and divorced him two years later.

SEEK REFUND OF $20,000,000 FROM TELEPHONE CO.

Judgment for nearly $20,000,000 against the Illinois Bell Telephone company was asked in a petition filed in the federal court yesterday by Attorneys Benjamin F. Goldstein and George I. Haight in behalf of Chicago telephone users.

They also asked the immediate reduction of the telephone rates in an amount aggregating $2,000,000 a year in conformity with an order of the Illinois commerce commission entered in 1923, enforcement of which was stayed by an injunction of the United States District court.

The petition, according to the lawyers, is in accordance with the unanimous opinion of the United States Supreme court of Dec. 1, 1930, in which new principles of law relating to public utility rates were laid down.

The $20,000,000 would be a refund of the excess over $2,000,000 a year set aside by the company as a depreciation fund for the last eight years, with interest, it was explained.

FINDS 77 GIRLS ILLEGALLY JAILED IN VICE RACKET

N. Y. Investigator to Ask Governor to Free Them.

New York, Jan. 8.— [Special.] — While a former police stool pigeon was telling at the trial of five patrolmen today, how he got $5 a head for "framing" women in the vice racket, Isidor J. Kresel, special counsel for the Appellate division's investigation of magistrates' courts in session a few blocks away was reading into the record a list of 77 girls under 21 all of whom he said had been illegally committed to Bedford reformatory as wayward minors.

The twin disclosures provided one of the most sensational climaxes yet reached in the ramified disclosures of political crookedness in New York city.

Before Samuel Seabury presiding at the magistrates' inquiry was by his own word appalled at the thought that many of the "frame up" victims may still be held in the reformatory. He announced that he was going to submit the list to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt with the recommendation in many cases that the girls be pardoned and released immediately.

Six Girls Committed.

That was the procedure he followed in the case of half a dozen women earlier in the investgation when testimony showed that they had been "framed" on vice charges.

Six magistrates and one former magistrate had committed girls to the reformatory illegally, Mr. Kresel contended, while three other magistrates had accepted pleas of guilty from minors and had then adjourned sentencing, so that the girls actually were committed by one or another of the seven.

Of the commitments 24 were signed by Magistrate H. Stanley Renaud, 17 by Magistrate Jesse Silbermann, 16 by Magistrate Jean Norris, 14 by Magistrate Earl A. Smith, one by Magistrate Edward J. Walsh, and two by former Magistrate Norman J. Marsh.

In at least one case each pleas of guilty were entered by minors before Magistrates Maurice H. Collier, Abraham Rosenbluth, and William C. Dodge, but none of these signed commitment papers.

Victims of Racket.

Fifty-one of the girls, it is believed, still are in the reformatory. Among the others 14 have been paroled and six have violated parole, the sentences of three expired some time ago, one is dead, one is insane, and another is in a hospital.

The ex-stool pigeon who told of framing some of the victims of the "racket" was Chile Mapocho Acuna, who has been one of the star informers of the investigation since it got under way. Acuna testified that he got his $5 for frameups whether he obtained real evidence or not. He outlined the circumstances of cases in which he said some of the policemen on trial figured.

Once he "made a date" for one of the patrolmen with a girl and the others arrested her after the patrolman had spent some time with her.

One typical case, illustrative of how the frameups were staged and disclosing the shakedowns which followed, involved Mme. Nina Artska, former instructor of ballet dancers at the Metropolitan Opera house and at one time director of ballet recreation at Jane Addams' Hull house in Chicago.

How "Frameup" Works.

Mme. Artska testified that in January, 1929, a man came into her dance studio, said he wanted dance lessons and proffered her $10. She wound up a victrola and turned around to find the man partly disrobed. At this point two other men stepped through the door and arrested her "on suspicion of running a disorderly house." She was taken to a police station and went through the first step of the racket when she had to pay $35 for a bondsman. Then she realized she was in difficulties and readily assented to employing Mark Alter, a favored attorney. She said she paid Alter $150, then another $100, and faced a new demand for $100 when the case was called. She said she finally paid $50 more, and the case was dismissed.

John C. Weston, former prosecutor in the Women's court, admitted that after Magistrate Silberman had dismissed the charge against Mme. Artska Alter paid him $25 as his share of the shakedown. Presumably, policemen also shared in the "fees" collected by the attorney—and that is how the frameup worked.

The five men on trial this week are Lieut. Peter J. Pfeiffer and Patrolmen Sidney Tait, Eugene Baccaglini, Andrew P. Stirnweiss, and Michael J. Kennelly.

Georges Tells Why He Didn't Fight Lita Grey's Kidnapers

New York, Jan. 8.—[Special.]—Lita Grey Chaplin, divorced wife of Charley Chaplin, and Georges Carpentier, French heavyweight fighter who took the count from Jack Dempsey over in Boyle's thirty acres some years ago and who has been an ornament of the stage ever since, appeared arm-in-arm at police headquarters this afternoon to repeat a tale they had told in concert earlier in the day—that four armed thugs had kidnaped them from the stage door of the Bronx theater last night and had robbed Mrs. Chaplin of jewelry valued at $14,000.

Before the pair left headquarters, where they visited the bureau of criminal identification for an hour and a half, the police made it quite clear to all interested in the subject that they were making merely a "routine" investigation of the lively tale. No information was given out as to whether Lita or Georges had identified any face in the rogues' gallery.

Police Head Noncommittal.

Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney spoke guardedly of the complaint that had been filed by Mrs. Chaplin and M. Carpentier. He was asked if he was treating the case as if it was a publicity stunt. He replied that the police "necessarily had to take it as a genuine case."

He, however, did consider it "unusual" that a small boy, the only witness to the affair, who ran into the theater shouting "Lita Grey Chaplin and Georges Carpentier have been robbed," should pronounce the full names of the principals.

"It was a real holdup," snapped Carpentier when pressed closely for details of the affair.

Too Many to Fight.

"Why didn't I fight them?" Carpentier queried incredulously, echoing a question fired from a London newspaper over the trans-Atlantic phone to his apartment in the Hotel Lombardy, earlier in the day.

"There were four of them—f-o-u-r [he spelled it out]. No, Bronx bad men don't wear tuxedos and high toppers. They wore felt hats all battered in. And they were tough—t-o-u-g-h" [he also spelled that out].

Carpentier then confirmed published accounts of the holdup which said four armed thugs pushed their way into Mrs. Chaplin's automobile parked at the curb in front of the theater.

The bandits drove the car to a point in the Bronx where the thugs ordered Mrs. Chaplin to hand over her jewelry.

She said she lost a jeweled necklace, two diamond and platinum bracelets, a platinum ring set with diamonds and another trinket not described, and $15.

Then the three victims were set down at the corner and the car sped away.

MODELS FAIL TO GET JOBS; SEIZE SON OF MINISTER

Rolland E. Bethards Jr., 22 years old, 8712 Emerald avenue, son of the pastor of the Gresham Methodist Episcopal church, a university graduate and the author of a book on sex psychology, was taken into custody yesterday by state's attorney's police on the complaint of seven lingerie models. The young women charged that Bethards had failed to hire them for a style show after they had signed contracts and had given an exhibition in costume of their modeling ability.

Bethards was released when he promised to reimburse the seven models for time lost, pay his loop hotel bill, and pay the agency through whom the girls applied.

The girls encountered Bethards through a newspaper advertisement of the Harrison agency at 20 West Jackson boulevard. They were sent to the Hotel Sherman, where Bethards quizzed them on their past moral conduct, their attiude to free love, and their present family connections. He illustrated his talk with a book he claimed to have written. After measurements had been taken and compared to a mythical standard, the girls were required to don filmy lingerie and promenade and pose.

Bethards, who posed under the name of R. E. Bauer, a New York lingerie salesman, then told the girls to return Tuesday for tickets to Cleveland. Their contract called for $30 a week. Tuesday Bethards was not in the hotel, nor was his bill paid. The girls appealed to the better business bureau, explaining that many were destitute after paying the agency fee, three had no place to sleep, and at least one was suffering from hunger.

THOUSANDS who have done so have become daily patrons of this group of restaurants, which in fact, they have built by their patronage: No large capital was available. People came once and returned. They told others about it. And within these few short years, from the first small Triangle Restaurant, have grown these five flourishing establishments.

Triangle Roast Sugar Cured Ham was the original attraction for most. Then the discovery, that the substantial quality and skillful cookery, which makes his dish as served in these restaurants, a delicacy, is likewise present in all the tempting variety that Triangle menus offer.

So our suggestion is this: Come once to a Triangle Restaurant. Order Roast Sugar Cured Ham, with southern candied sweet potatoes, or genuine Idaho baked potato, with hot muffins and fresh bread and butter—all of which will cost you but 55c—and it will tell you more about substantial food quality and the Triangle Restaurants than could be put in a page of print.

ALDERMEN SEEK MORE LIGHT ON WABASH VIADUCT

Several Points in Contract Are Unexplained.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The investigation of the $150,000 or more waste in the construction of the Wabash avenue viaduct will probably be resumed next week. Chairman B. A. Cronson of the council committee on economy and efficiency received a written request yesterday from Ald. Arthur Albert asking that hearings be renewed in the next few days.

Several features of the transaction have not been explained. Others have not been investigated. The contract was awarded by Commissioner of Public Work Richard E. Wolfe. He did not give it to the lowest bidder, the E. J. Albrecht company, at its price of $514,120. Instead he handed the contract to the Ketler-Elliott company at its reckoned bid of $529,929—an added burden to the taxpayers at the start of $15,809.

Excess Profit Figured Out.

It is now estimated that the Ketler-Elliott claim on this job is $708,929. At the unit bids the same work under the Albrecht bid is estimated at $549,920. On that comparison the city paid an excess profit on the viaduct of $159,009.

An excess profit of more than 30 per cent is offensive to some councilmen at any time, and to a larger number of them at the beginning of an aldermanic campaign for reelection. Ald. Albert, who initiated the inquiry, refers in his letter to Ald. Cronson to the "enormous waste" and points out that it will be reflected in the tax bills.

Commissioner Wolfe's defense to date to the excess profit payment is a lack of information. He was summoned three times by the committee before he appeared. Then he explained: "The additional work was done entirely without my knowledge, consent or approval."

Ordered Additional Work.

The excess profit was provided by ordering additional work. The commissioner advertised for bids to dig caissons to a depth of 75 feet below city datum. Also he asked for bids beyond that depth, and estimated the amount of digging beyond that depth at 2,200 cubic feet.

The low bidder—Albrecht—on the entire job offered to dig below 75 feet at $2 a foot. For the same work Ketler-Elliott bid $10—five times as much—and was given the contract. Instead of digging only 2,200 cubic feet below minus 75 feet, Ketler-Elliott has dug 20,100 feet. Ketler-Elliott claims $201,000 for work which the low bidder, Albrecht, would have performed for $40,200.

Ponder on "Unbalanced Bid."

One of the questions which Ald. Albert desires Commissioner Wolfe to explain is why he accepted the "unbalanced bid" of $10 for the low caisson digging. An "unbalanced bid" is an excessively low or an excessively high price for work or material on a contract. Some of the aldermen surmise—they have not investigated—that Commissioner Wolfe in his specifications for the Wabash avenue viaduct had a clause prohibiting "unbalanced bids." If he has, some of the aldermen believe that he violated his own specifications to give the contract to Ketler-Elliott instead of to the low bidder.

In the specifications for building the approaches to the viaduct, awarded after the viaduct contract, Commissioner Wolfe has a clause which reads: "Bids that contain prices that are obviously inconsistent with the work required and the classes of materials involved, and which are unbalanced, will not be considered."

Not Sure of Clause.

That clause, if in the viaduct specifications, would have prohibited the acceptance of the $10 bid. But it has not been officially determined whether such a clause was utilized in the viaduct specifications.

In asking for bids on the substructure, superstructure and operating houses of the Wabash avenue bridge the specifications contained this clause on unbalanced bids: "Bids that are unbalanced, and that embody prices plainly below cost for which the work can be done or for which materials can be furnished, will be rejected."

The stenographic report of Commissioner Wolfe's testimony gives no explanation from him on the unbalanced $10 bid, which has contracted away an excess profit of $150,000 or more.

Insist Waste Is Larger.

Certain aldermen insist that the waste was considerably larger. As a basis of reckoning they take the price of $1.43 a cubic foot obtained by the Lincoln park commissioners for caissons in connection with the new outer drive. Both sets of caissons are on the north bank of the Chicago river. The Lincoln park bid of $1.43 was obtained less than 20 days after the city obtained a bid of $10, which it accepted. Instead of asking a price for a hole 75 feet deep and then another price for a greater depth, as did the city, the park commission asked for one price for a depth of 115 feet.

On the basis of the Lincoln park contract, certain aldermen figure the Wabash avenue viaduct waste at $172,257. Even that sum may be shown later to be too low. A report is current that the actual out of pocket cost of the caissons was 84 cents a cubic foot and that Ketler-Elliott—who did not dig the caissons, but sublet that part of the contract—got all of the caissons for $1.40 a foot, including a satisfying profit to the subcontractor.

Yet for the lower part of the caissons Commissioner Wolfe let a contract to pay $10 a foot, and told the aldermen that he did not know that work had been ordered done under the $10 bid. Some aldermen say they believe the commissioner didn't know.

GOV. LONG CLINGS TO OLD JOB; GOES TO SENATE IN 1932

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Definite word has been received at the capitol from Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana that he will serve out his term as governor and will not take the seat in the senate he won last November until early in 1932.

The decision of Long makes less likely the prospect of Democrats organizing the next senate. The election gave the Democrats 47 members; Republicans, 48, and Farmer-Labor, 1.

NAME O. C. HARN AS HEAD OF AD BODY OF A. OF C.

O. C. Harn, managing director of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, yesterday was elected chairman of the advertising council of the Association of Commerce at a luncheon at the Hotel La Salle. He succeeds Max A. Berns. Mason Warner and Ben C. Pittsford were chosen as first and second vice chairmen, respectively. Mr. Harn has had wide experience in the newspaper field in an editorial capacity, and was one of the five commissioners appointed by President Wilson to handle the government's advertising during the world war. He has served as director and president of the A. B. C., assuming the managing directorship in 1927.

Mrs. William J. Chalmers

...Chicago's beloved hostess to royalty and world celebrities...whose sumptuous Lake Shore Drive apartment bubbles over with mementos and "stories" of the great. She has served Manor House since Chicago was young. "Not only is it priceless at my formal dinners, but after a hard day of caring for my 110 little cripples," says Mrs. Chalmers, whose life work centers in the Home for Crippled Children, "nothing lifts my spirit like a cup of this cheering coffee."

Mrs. Charles C. Dawes

who was Emily McCormick of Philadelphia, related in her own right to the famous Ambassador, active in the Evanston Junior League and the Cradle for motherless babies. She golfs, drives an open Lincoln, romps with her children, plays backgammon, collects French furniture, and keeps open house—especially for her husband's bachelor friends: "To please them I discarded other coffees and came back to Manor House, which always seems to make my little affairs more enjoyable."

Mrs. John Borden

looking lovely enough in her white reindeer parka to hypnotize the polar bear and arctic walrus she brought back from that daring Borden-Field Museum Expedition to the top of the world. She writes, hunts, explores, gives smart parties in her modern blue and white and gold bungalow atop the Ambassador Hotel. But she's "all through adventuring when it comes to coffee, for there is no other blend with the same subtle flavor and mellow fragrance as Manor House."

Mrs. John B. Drake, Jr.

daughter of ex-Governor Lowden, granddaughter of George Pullman, carries on the family tradition for brilliant hospitality by staging her luncheons and dinners around this rich, rare coffee—because, as she says, "there is something about it that delights everybody and brings out their most interesting personalities." She is an expert golfer, recent winner of the driver's contest at Onwentsia, treasurer of the historic Service Club which does so much for charity, and a brilliant example of modern youth.

Mrs. Edward I. Cudahy

of the inner circle, socially; active for many years in the Woman's Exchange; enthusiast in golf and tennis, and expert yachtsman, having helped her husband and sons win 84 silver trophies. "When Billy and Mike are home from school," says this lovable mother, "the crowd comes trooping in at all hours for sandwiches and coffee. We get away with pounds of Manor House every month. After all, men are the real judges, and our household votes thumbs down on any coffee but Manor House."

Mrs. Howard Linn

was Lucy Blair. Her "talking eyes" and fascinating personality captivated even the Prince of Wales. Decorator of distinguished interiors. Featured jumper at all Society Horse Shows. Even her dinners and hunt breakfasts are picturesque, smart, touched with glamour. Manor House coffee is their culminating touch always "for no matter how perfect one's menu or table setting, their entire success is marred if the coffee fails to charm."

Why Society's most famous hostesses climax their dinners with this rich coffee*...

WOULDN'T you think... when the choicest viands of the world follow course after savory course, straight to that climacteric moment of the coffee service, when even the greatest of guests should relax in glowing contentment... wouldn't you think that these brilliant hostesses would specially import some rare and costly blend for this crucial closing touch?

They would... if, in all the world, they could discover a richer, mellower bouquet of coffee flavors than in Chicago's own Manor House Coffee. But they cannot. That is why, in fully 92% of Chicago's exclusive millionaire Lake Shore homes, you will find always and only this classic of coffee blends.

For Manor House is something more than just coffee—as a Rembrandt is more than just a painting. Manor House is the masterpiece of a famous old coffee connoisseur... mellowed by months of patient natural ageing... blended by the secret recipe that has never yet been duplicated... the only method that can create this cherished Manor House flavor in unvarying richness, one pound exactly like another, with a uniform coffee-making-success that no other blend can promise you.

It's supremely good to start with. It's equally good when it reaches you, anytime, anywhere. For Manor House is vacuum packed, still rich and fragrant as it comes from the master-blender's ovens... every breath of air taken out and sealed out... double assurance of uniform coffee-making-success.

Tune in W-G-N every Sunday night, 7 to 8 o'clock, for the Manor House Dramatizations of the Grand Operas... with stars singing the principal arias.

ILLINOIS FLYERS PLAY BIG PART IN MIAMI AIR MEET

John Livingston Takes Speed Honors.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Airplanes darting across a southern sky today launched Miami's third all-American air meet on its three day series of races and stunting by famous civilian and service flyers.

Dignitaries of the United States and foreign countries viewed the spectacle as fleet winged planes swooped about pylons of the 15 mile race course or zoomed and rolled above the 7,500 spectators.

A group of six marine corps pursuit planes from Quantico, Va., thrilled spectators with their rapid darting over the field in series of formation maneuvers with snap and slow barrel rolls, loops and dives.

Chicago "Safety Plane" There.

A novelty of the program was the hesitant hops and jumps of a low winged "doodlebug" plane piloted by E. S. McDonnell Jr., Chicago. The craft darted or slowed almost to a stop at will and landed almost vertically to display its ease of handling.

John Livingston, Aurora, Ill., flying a monocoupe, set up the highest speed of the afternoon for cabin planes with his negotiation of the 15 mile course from a standing start in six minutes 21.40 seconds, an average speed of 141.58 miles an hour.

Barton Stevenson, Kansas City, in a monocoupe, flew 108.58 miles an hour to win the 15 mile race for 275 cubic inch displacement planes.

Joliet Flyer Third.

Art Chester, Joliet, Ill., in a Davis was third at 107.03 miles an hour, and Hakon Christensen, Jackson, Mich., in a Lambert, fourth at 104.12 miles an hour.

Lowell R. Bayles, Springfield, Mass., put his plane, with motor halted, five feet 1¾ inches from a mark on the field to win the dead stick landing contest.

Harold E. Newman, Geneseo, Ill., won the bomb dropping contest, placing his bomb 71 feet from the mark. Clarence E. Gray, Lakeland, Fla., was second; Lowell R. Bayles, Springfield, Mass., third, and Delbert W. Koerner, Kankakee, Ill., fourth.

V. L. Leak, Miami, burst a free balloon in 30 seconds after it was released to win the event. Art Davis, East Lansing, Mich., was second.

The free for all race for planes of 500 to 1,000 cubic inches displacement went to Art Davis, East Lansing, Mich., flying his Waco at 142.191 miles an hour. His time for the 30 mile race was 12:39.54. The race was from a standing start. Arthur W. Killits, Lyons, Ill., was second, at 134.485 miles an hour, in a Waco, taper wing.

Levine Ordered to Pay 14 Months' Rent for Hangar

Mineola, N. Y., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Charles A. Levine, trans-Atlantic flyer, has not paid rent on his Roosevelt field hangars for fourteen months, Roosevelt Field, Inc., officials said today in Supreme court, where Justice Byrne granted a judgment and execution order for $5,108 against Levine.

WOMEN ENDURANCE FLYERS FIGHT RAIN TO PASS 106 HOURS

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 9 (Friday.)—(AP)—Bobbie Trout and Edna May Cooper in the monoplane Lady Rolph today flew through rain and clouds and passed the 106 hour mark in their endurance refueling flight at 12:30 a. m. Pacific time.

After risking their record by spending Wednesday night flying above Imperial Valley to escape a severe rainstorm here they received a report yesterday of a storm centering in San Gorgonio pass, entrance to the valley, and raced home.

They beat the storm but ran into dismal weather here. Rain was falling steadily and heavy clouds provided a ceiling of only 1,000 feet. There was a note of relief in the safe return of the Lady Rolph, however, for it meant if a landing had to be made the flyers could claim the women's sustained flight record. The old mark is 42 hours, set by Miss Trout and Elinor Smith of New York.

Their ambitious program to challenge the world sustained flight record of 645 hours was spiked by pilots here who said the plane had no catwalks to the motor, making it impossible to change spark plugs. The plugs will fail long before the world record is approached, they said, and 300 hours was estimated as the limit of the flight.

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Sir Thomas Lipton has given $50,000 to his native city of Glasgow to ease the lot of poor mothers and children. Handing a check to Lord Provost Kelly, Lipton said he made the gift in memory of his mother, whom he described as "the guiding star" of his life, and in appreciation of the many kindnesses received from the city to which he owed so much and of which he was proud to be an honorary burgess.

FACE BURNED BY ACID.

Rhinelander, Wis., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—Oakley Kraut, 25, is in a hospital suffering from severe acid burns on the face as result of an attack by an unidentified man at his home last night. The acid was thrown at Kraut when he responded to a knock at the door.

FILE WILL OF MRS. ROSE LOUER; ESTATE $2,462,492

The will of Mrs. Rose Mandel Louer of Highland Park, who died in Chicago on Dec. 20, was filed for probate yesterday with John R. Bullock, clerk of the Probate court of Lake county at Waukegan. The estate is valued at $2,462,492. Court officials stated that the contents of the will are being kept secret at the request of Mrs. Louer's husband, Attorney Albert S. Louer of Chicago.

Mrs. Louer was a daugher of the late Emanuel Manled, one of the founders of the Mandel Brothers department store. Surviving her, in addition to Mr. Louer, are a son, Albert E. M. Louer, and a brother, Edwin F. Mandel.

Court records that were available yesterday show that the will contains charitable bequests to the First Church of Christ Scientist of Highland Park, the Allendale association of Lake Villa, the Miriam and Josephine club of Chicago, the Scholarship Association for Jewish Children of Chicago, and the First Church of Christ Scientist of Boston. A hearing on the will has been set for Jan. 29 before Probate Judge Martin J. Decker of Lake county.

CRIPPLED BOY GETS NOTE FROM MRS. HOOVER

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Santa Claus finally is bringing 6 year old Philip Ratto what he wanted most for Christmas—a Christmas card from Mrs. Herbert Hoover. The card is somewhere in the mails, but Philip received a letter from Mrs. Hoover today explaining why it did not arrive in time for Christmas.

The letter was read to the lad as he lay on his cot in the Eagleville sanitarium, where physicians say he will have to remain for at least two years. He is suffering from tubercular glands.

This is what the letter said:

"My dear Philip: Santa Claus told me you wanted specially a Christmas card from me—so I sent you one that I thought you would like best of all.

"Alas—there was a mistake in addressing it and it has come back to me. I am sending it again, and am so sorry you have had this long delay.

"I hope you are getting well just as rapidly as possible, and that you had a merry Christmas."

WAVES WASH BODIES OF 4 ITALIAN FLYERS ASHORE IN AFRICA

BOLAMA, Portuguese Guinea, Africa, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The bodies of four of the five Italian airmen who lost their lives in the take-off of the Balbo trans-Atlantic squadron here Tuesday were washed ashore today. A searching party that went out in a boat reported no trace of the fifth flyer's body.

The bodies were not immediately identified here. Those killed were Sergeant Mechanic Luigi Fois, Capt. Luigi Boer and Lieut. Danilo Barbicanti, pilots; Sergeant Mechanic Felice Nensi and Radio Operator Ercole Imbastari. Sergeant Mechanic Fois was killed in the crash of one plane. Four others were burned to death. A few minutes later a second plane was forced to alight on the sea at full speed and took fire.

Destroyer Tows in Plane.

FERNANDO DO NORONHA, Brazil, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Bobbing at the end of a towline behind an Italian cruiser, the plane which was forced out of the trans-Atlantic fleet near St. Paul's Rocks on Tuesday reached this port today. The crew were all safe. The plane was refueled and roared for Natal to join the rest of the fleet. The second plane forced down near here was expected to arrive in tow of another destroyer before the end of the day.

Hop for Bahia Today.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Jan. 8.—The Italian squadron of ten seaplanes will take off at Natal early tomorrow morning for Bahia. The air armada plans to remain there three days before flying to Rio de Janeiro.

"Flying Widow" Delayed.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Beryl Hart and Lieut. William MacLaren today postponed the start of the second stage of their flight to Paris because of reports of bad weather.

Amputate French General's Leg to Check Disease

PARIS, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Gen. Henri Berthelot, who commanded the French troops on the Marne-Rheims line during the world war, today underwent amputation of his right leg above the knee to check the progress of a disease similar to that which brought death to Marshal Joffre. The surgeon said his condition was grave.

PASADENA COURT WILL HEAR TRIAL OF CANNON'S SON

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—Richard Cannon, former operator of a military academy here, secured a change of venue in his hearings on wage claim and bad check suits when he came before Justice Sorey at El Monte, a suburb today. Cannon claimed that feeling in El Monte ran so high against him his chances for fair hearing might be impeded, and Justice Sorey agreed. The case against Cannon will be heard in Pasadena Justice court on Saturday.

Deputy State Labor Commissioner Richardson, issuing a statement on the case said that Cannon paid off laborers and employés of his academy with checks that came back because of no money in the bank. Twenty-four such claims have been lodged against Cannon.

Coal is Coal ▲▲▲ and Eggs are Eggs ▲▲▲ BUT

▲ TWO CHUNKS of coal may look as much alike as two eggs . . . but there may be as great a difference in coal as between a good egg and a bad.

You can break the eggs open to be sure of their quality. You can count them to be certain of full measure.

▲ YOU can't judge coal by taste or smell. You cannot count it. You have no scales to check its weight.

How can the average person be positive of getting a good grade of the coal he buys? How can he know that it is unmixed with cheaper kinds? How can he be certain of full measure and full value?

▲ THERE is one sure way . . . choose a reputable coal merchant upon whose word you can absolutely depend.

In Chicago and vicinity there are 240 coal merchants of unquestioned integrity. They are members of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association, an organization a quarter century old. They sell approximately 95% of all the coal delivered for residential purposes in Chicago and the outlying territory they serve.

▲ EVERY one of them is pledged to deliver coal honestly graded and honestly weighed or forfeit his membership. More, the Association unconditionally guarantees the full weight of every ton that you buy from any member.

▲ EVERY one delivers full value for every dollar you pay . . . but don't look for a "bargain." You can't buy fresh eggs at cold storage prices. The profit on coal is too small to permit "bargains" unless there is juggling or mixing of grades.

CONSEQUENCES OF THE LINGLE MURDER.

The search for the killer of Alfred Lingle, the TRIBUNE reporter, started June 9, 1930, a half hour after he had been murdered in the Illinois Central passageway at Randolph street. Developments modified the first impressions of the character of the crime, but not the determination to make this the turning point in Chicago criminal history if possible. Gangland then seemed to have the upper hand of the city. Now the city is encouraged to think that at last it may have the upper hand of gangland.

To assure persistence, a special staff was organized to devote itself to this one crime. One of the several protections aiding criminals had been the fact that it was seldom possible to keep a competent detail upon any one crime to stay with it until the criminals were taken. The success of the old type federal agent dealing with mail robberies, counterfeiting, etc., was derived from this persistence. The criminal knew that his trail never was dropped. It was intended to apply that method in the Lingle murder, not only to get these particular murderers but to make the greatest use of the opportunity to carry the war to gangland. The Lingle murder might be made its first big mistake.

The special staff was organized under State's Attorney Swanson, with Attorneys Charles F. Rathbun and James E. McShane as special assistant state's attorneys and with Patrick Roche, the prosecutor's chief investigator, in charge. The search has been difficult, frequently dangerous, many times disappointing, but at all times persistent and uncompromising. In its particular object it now produces a man confidently identified as the one who shot the reporter. The murder was not hidden in the dark. It was in the open and was witnessed.

In general the period from June to January has seen the criminals of Chicago in fright or flight or more desperate condition. For the first time they have lost their assurance. Some of them have lost their liberty. Many activities against them have been stimulated by the investigation of the Lingle murder. They do not regard justice with their accustomed indifference or contempt. Citizens generally do not feel such futility in their relation to the world of crime.

Not only have certain definite advances been made into criminal territory regarded before as virtually inaccessible but there is a more spirited confidence in the ability of the community to find remedies which had been almost despaired of.

AMENDING THE MORTGAGE LAWS.

A recent address of Mr. Louis K. Boysen, president of the Chicago Mortgage Bankers' association, calls attention to the desirability of change in the mortgage laws of Illinois. These laws, for the most part, were written in the days when Illinois was a frontier state. Some of them go as far back as 1845.

In those days wealth was almost exclusively in land and the western farmers who were generally short of capital had to mortgage their land to get it. The owners of the mortgages, in large part, were eastern capitalists. Under the circumstances it is not surprising that the state legislature in Illinois, as in many of the western states, passed laws which were intended to protect, as far as possible, the rights of the borrower as against the lender.

It is by no means certain that the proportion of borrowers in our day is any less than it was then; and if the proposed changes in the mortgage laws worked injury to the borrowers it is doubtful if amendments would be approved by the legislature. However, the fact is that under modern conditions the Illinois code, as interpreted by the courts, has gone too far in protecting the debtor class. It has gone so far, indeed, as to discourage capital from investing in Illinois mortgages. It is reliably stated, for example, that a number of the larger insurance companies are refusing to invest in Illinois mortgages despite the fact that Illinois real estate offers an excellent security. Our borrowers, it appears, have been favored to the point where they cannot get money.

The situation is critical at this time. In the first eleven months of 1930 there were 5,189 foreclosures in Cook county. The total amount involved was $218,000,000. Moreover, the curve is rising. In January there were 336 foreclosures for $17,000,000 and in November 529 for $26,000,000. Many of these properties were sound and in other states might have been refinanced without foreclosure and loss to the borrowers. Because of the reluctance of capital to enter this state the owners have lost their equities. Needless to say, the large number of foreclosures in Cook county has acted as a discouragement to investment in our real estate and mortgages and has therefore served to depress our values unduly.

The mortgage bankers desire a number of changes in the law. "The present law," says Mr. Boysen, "gives the principal defendant, etc., twelve months to redeem from the decree of foreclosure. After the twelve months period has elapsed other creditors have an additional three months to redeem. If some of the defendants are made parties by publication they have three years in which to upset the foreclosure decree. In many instances, therefore, it takes three years after the decree has been entered to get good title. It always takes fifteen months. Such delays are of no advantage to the owner of the property, as no one but the creditors will bid in the property at mortgage sale. The delays wipe out most, if not all, of the equity that the owner has. The expenses of the foreclosure proceeding are entirely out of proportion to the remedy."

There are many thousands of holders of real estate mortgage bonds in Illinois whose investments have suffered heavy depreciation in part, at least, because of the unfortunate operation of our mortgage and foreclosure law. It is in their interest, as well as that of the owners and borrowers, that the laws be amended.

UNEQUAL REPRESENTATION.

The most important and far reaching of the suggestions in the governor's message is, of course, his proposal for a permanent limitation of Cook county's representation in the senate. The proposal cannot be accepted by Cook county. It should not be supported by other counties of the metropolitan district or by counties containing growing cities. Such communities have common special problems and interests, and a precedent which would establish unequal representation on the principle that the citizen of the state dwelling in a city is not entitled to the same political weight as a citizen dwelling outside of a city will eventually limit them all. The principle is not consistent with American democracy nor with the political, economic and social progress of the commonwealth.

The analogy with representation of the states in the United States senate is fallacious. That plan was never justified in theory and has had some effect, which it is the interest of Illinois to avoid. It has often embarrassed logical and desirable political action, though it is much more justifiable than it would be within the boundaries of one state. It was adopted as a compromise essential to the acceptance of the constitution. We do not concede that it is necessary, much less that it is just or expedient, within the borders of Illinois. Cook county representatives we trust and believe will resist and continue to resist its adoption, and no amendment embodying it, we are confident, has any chance of adoption.

With that understood at Springfield, as it should be, the legislature is in duty bound to carry out without further postponement the constitutional mandate for reapportionment. That mandate has been disobeyed for a generation while the population of the state has grown and shifted. It is the essence of American political right that representation should be as nearly equal as practicable, and the fundamental law of the state declares the rule by which this right shall be effectuated as the census reveals the need for readjustments. Further to postpone the performance of duty and to perform it faithfully according to the spirit and the letter of our basic law is nullification, is breach of the solemn oath of each and every legislator to support the constitution. The compromise proposed is neither expedient nor consistent with American principle. It will never be accepted, so far into the future as any one can see, and no delay in the fulfillment of the legislature's duty should be caused by a hopeless attempt to procure its adoption.

THE INSANITY OF MURDERERS.

A jury at Wheaton has found that John E. Preston, who raped and murdered a young woman and was sentenced to death a year ago, is insane. If the verdict stands, Preston will be transferred to the Chester Asylum for the Criminally Insane.

Preston may be crazy, but he was sane enough to invite his victim to join him in a tour of roadhouses and sane enough to choose an isolated spot to commit the crime. He was sane enough to have been a model husband, according to the statement of his wife, and sane enough to show unmistakable signs of satisfaction when he was adjudged insane. It is an extraordinary perversion of justice to permit such a man to escape the consequences of his crime.

It is an even more extraordinary perversion of mercy to show leniency to such a man. If his madness is merely feigned, he is being sentenced to spend the rest of his days in surroundings which no man in his senses could prefer to death. If he is really out of his mind, and incurably so, his life is hardly worth preserving. If his insanity is merely transitory, and he is likely to recover, his return to sanity can only result in sending him to the electric chair. Meanwhile he becomes a responsibility and an expense to the state. He is being fattened, as it were, for the slaughter.

Savages have imagined no greater refinement of cruelty. Our law and practice governing the treatment of the murderer found to be insane can be explained only in the light of history. It is only a few centuries since madmen were generally believed to be divinely seized. No such theological doctrine is now accepted as the explanation of insanity, but the conclusion has survived the destruction of the premise on which it was based. Our generation can explain its brutality in this matter only by proving itself illogical as well as cruel.

Editorial of the Day

THE NAVY NEEDS MEN.

[Philadelphia Bulletin.]

Resumption next month of recruiting for the navy on a progressive scale that calls for the full monthly quota in March and succeeding months will not count much as a measure of unemployment relief. The normal monthly quota does not exceed 1,600 first enlistments. But it may point the way out of the perplexities and problems of a time of industrial depression for that number of young men. Recruiting is notably brisk at times of industrial depression and Uncle Sam is thus sometimes the gainer through a business let up.

The resumption has chief significance as a reminder that under the London treaty, or any subsequent naval limitation agreement, the country will still need, at its defensive minimum, a substantial number of ships and will continue to offer a goodly number of its youth the advantages of a naval career. The traditions of the American navy have always appealed to American youth. The call of the sea is in the national blood. The old reproach that commissions were confined to a favored class has been done away with since Annapolis opened its doors to enlisted men able by ability and hard work to qualify. The navy is rightfully insistent in its recruits on high standards not only of physical condition, but of character and conduct. It rightfully resents occasional attempts of ill informed magistrates and judges to use it as a means of discipline for unruly youth. It will continue to offer young men the chance of an honorable career and of a high degree of economic security.

SICK PEOPLE AND HUNGER.

DR. E. I. SPRIGGS warns sick people against overeating. The warning is more needed by the family and friends than it is by the sick man. As a rule, when a man gets sick nature switches off the appetite. The sick man is willing to do without foods, but his family insist on having their say. They prepare engaging dishes, garnish them appealingly, and then feel hurt if the sick man does not respond. The sick man, grateful for good intentions and unwilling to disappoint, tries to do his duty.

In all illnesses which are scheduled to last less than two weeks the sick man will be better off if he is not tempted and admonished to eat. He should be given water to drink. In all probability some fruit juice will be needed to ward off symptoms of acidosis. He will first draw on his tissues for water. The next step will be to use up the digested food already within him somewhere along the road towards complete utilization. Next will come burning up of the great excess of glycogen stored in the liver and muscles. Next, the stored fat will be pulled out of its reservoirs and thrown into the furnace. These sources of supply are ample for all of the needs of the body, sick or well, active or inactive, for several days. Until they are used up no demand is made on any cell or substance that is of any vital importance or, for that matter, of any greater service than just what they are called on to render during a period of fasting.

Meanwhile, the stomach and other organs of digestion are given a good rest. Any close observer knows that the heart is called on to work extra hard during stomach digestion. It does not quiet down until more than one hour after a meal. Fasting, or a diet of water and fruit juice only, spares the heart from the hard work of this period. Other vital organs will have a partial rest if the sick man refrains from eating for a few days.

The diet of the sick is very likely to include a nicely cooked egg, a soup, and a tender chop. These are albuminous foods and throw work on the kidney. Sick people are often tempted with beef tea. This extract is not exactly easy on the organs. Tempting desserts or other sweets add to the load on the pancreas. Nicely seasoned garnishes, salads, and such add something to the load on the liver.

Summing it up, the man who is to be sick but a few days will be better if he is allowed to follow his instinct and go without food. An illness such as typhoid fever, which lasts several weeks, is another story.

DILUTED IN WATER.

L. M. W. writes: Noticed your article that results can be obtained by eating grapefruit juice diluted. Am I right in believing that you mean diluted in lemon or orange juice, or do you mean water?

REPLY.

Water.

POOR CIRCULATION.

B. A. writes: What causes discoloring of the hands in cold weather? When in a warm room, coming in from the cold, the hand becomes very red.

REPLY.

TRAINING NEEDED.

Miss M. E. writes: What is the cause of depression just before the menstrual period?

REPLY.

A disturbance of emotional control. It can be and should be trained against.

SOME FOODS ARE LAXATIVE.

B. H. writes: What is the cause of dessert acting as a laxative immediately after eating it?

REPLY.

Eating has a tendency that way with all people. Some foods are laxative. This is as much as I can say with the facts supplied.

DEPOSIT BOXES.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If a bank fails, can the bank officials or receivers open any of the safety deposit boxes or are these boxes considered the private property of the renter? L. S.

The boxes are private property in the sense that the bank officials have no right to open them, but, obviously, the officials are in such a position that they may be able to enter the boxes dishonestly.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

BAD FOR TIRES.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—[Friend of the People.]—I wonder if you would be kind enough to see if you can do anything about milk bottles being thrown in our alley, in the 7500 block of Indiana avenue. The people throw from twenty to thirty milk bottles in the alley about once a week. These bottles get broken and are a menace to automobile tires. If they were from one dairy I would call the dairy, but they are from three or four dairies. A. W. A.

Report is made that notice to stop practice complained of was served on offenders and assurance was given there would be no further cause for complaint. Alley was given a thorough cleaning and is now in first class condition.

JOSEPH J. BUTLER,
Superintendent of Streets.

CHANGE OF NAME.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I should appreciate your informing me of the procedure and cost necessary for one to change one's surname. In my case the change would involve merely a slight change in spelling without affecting the pronunciation, and I want to make this change in order to correct a mistake made when my father was naturalized.

I have no business connections that would in any way be complicated by my making such a change. B. B.

No legal proceedings are required to make a change of name valid. Hence a marriage or other legal act performed under an adopted name is not for that reason invalid.

A person adopting a new name permanently should for convenience give notice of the change to those persons to whom the information may be material. In transactions in which the old name appears we suggest continuing to use it to avoid confusion. For example, if real estate records show title in the old name it should be used in a subsequent conveyance.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THOSE REDS HAVE LOTS TO LEARN.

News filters through from Russia that the Reds are laboring with tremendous zeal to convert the American engineers and mechanics who are now employed as experts in Soviet factories in Russia, but are not making much headway. The poor old Reds went on the idea that the American motto was, "In God We Trust," and that all they had to do was to sweep away religion and the rest would be easy. But before the Soviets get to the national motto there's another slogan that every American has that must first be destroyed. This slogan, or motto, or whatever it is, was never declared by act of congress as the American creed, but it's believed in and clung to by every American that ever walked. It isn't printed on the American coat of arms, or in the constitution, or on money, or anything, but there it is, and the Reds have got to give it the bum's rush before they can convert many Americans. The unwritten motto is, "When Do We Eat?" A Soviet can plead and pray and propaganda around with an American all day and show how lovely the Five Year Plan is, or what a wise man Mr. Stalin is, and all that, but the average American will just look at him and say, "Fine! When Do We Eat?" And, gosh, that's the one thing the Reds can't answer.

APROPOS OF SPIRITISM.

As some devoted father who prepares
Behind closed doors a great and glad surprise
For his small children, thinking happily
Of sudden joyous wonder in their eyes,
So God behind secretive Death withholds
New miracles awhile. Let us not pry
Like an inquisitive ill-mannered brood

ADELAIDE P. LOVE.

WOMEN are to blame for everything. Mill owners down in Massachusetts say they've gone broke and women are the cause; they quit wearing gingham dresses. Tck, tck, tck! And how many factories went to the wall because the girls stopped wearing petticoats, switches, and high topped shoes? Girls—stand back and behave! Maybe you're the very ones that are keeping old Prosperity hiding over there behind that corner.

QUESTIONING A QUESTIONNAIRE.

And here comes a questionnaire; it popped right out of the mail yesterday; a questionnaire just full of questions about column conducting, and from Edwarda, a co-ed in a College of Journalism. Too bad that Edwarda didn't write last week, because since then we've read Dr. Abraham Flexner's new book, Universities: American, English, German, and what says old Doc Flexner about questionnaires? Oh, he says a-plenty! Listen— ". . . Questionnaires are mailed by the thousands, often thrown into waste baskets . . . and finally made to yield conclusions obvious to common sense at the start or unsupported by reliable evidence at the end. . . . It is only a cheap, easy, and rapid method of obtaining information or noninformation; one never knows which." How, Edwarda, could we answer your questionnaire after that? But, anyhow, and in spite of Doc Flexner, we'll answer one of your questions, the one that asks: "Did you have a definite purpose in mind which you hoped to accomplish in your column when you started?" Yes, indeed, Edwarda. We hoped to get paid for that there colyum every week for a long, long time. "And," ands Edwarda, "has your purpose changed?" No, Edwarda, on the contrary. You see, we've just bought an automobile and, gracious, Edwarda, the way that old hog of a machine eats up gasoline! You'd be surprised. Oh, Edwarda, every time we reach way down into our jeans to pay for gas for that hack our purpose to hold on to our job with both hands gets stronger and stronger. And stronger!

THE STOCK MARKET'S got its back up against the wall and is fighting hard, for the stock market may be down, but it's never out. That's left for the merry little lambs who think they can get rich buying Consolidated Gumdrops on margin.

SILVER SHOES.

My silver shoes are nearly done,
I have been dancing late,
Tambourines the gypsies play,
And tall lads will not wait.

My gold frock is not fresh tonight,
Salt winds have made it limp,
For she who runs to capture life
Has little time to primp.

My arms grow weary now and then
With need for healing balm,
But she who wants her share of love
Must never close her palm.

For youth is fleet as lilac time
As every maiden knows,
A tilted moon, the crush of lips,
A dozen pairs of hose.

When I have lost my heart of jazz,
And found a sober self,
Small good silver shoes will do
A-standing on a shelf.

HELEN WELSHIMER.

LAGNIAPPE.

WHAT A SHOCK—In the papers yesterday—"Bill to Repeal Illinois Dry Law Brought Before Legislature." Oh, goodness, is there a dry law in Illinois, too? Who'd a thought it!

AND NOW they're going to build a telescope fifty feet high to find out what the people on Mars are doing. Wish they'd train that telescope on both ends of Pennsylvania avenue at Washington to see what they're doing down there. If anything.

FRIEND OR ENEMY?

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 9, 1915.

LONDON.—There is an unconfirmed report from Rome that the Italian ambassador in Constantinople has received secret orders to leave the Turkish capital with his staff and turn over the affairs of his office to Henry Morgenthau, the American ambassador. Dispatches from various sources say that Turkey is willing to make a formal apology for the Hodeida incident, but will not submit to the demand that the Italian flag be saluted. It is the general opinion that war between Italy and Turkey means the entrance of Italy into the general conflict on the side of the allies.

LONDON.—A Bucharest dispatch says: "Rumania is mobilizing 750,000 men, of which number half a million form the field army. Rumania will strike even should Italy decide not to enter the war."

PETROGRAD.—Taking advantage of the increasing cold weather, which has frozen the marshy lands adjacent to the numerous rivers of North Poland, the Germans are initiating another attempt on Warsaw from the north.

CHICAGO.—The record breaking rise in wheat brought to light that the chief sufferers so far from the war induced grain increases are the neighborhood bakers. Many of them, flour merchants said, have been forced to close their shops pending return of the market to normal. May wheat sold up to $1.41¾, the high record since the Leiter operations.

JANUARY 9, 1901.

CHICAGO.—"Reorganization is an internal remedy and cannot be applied externally. A person must be inside of the party before he can participate in the party management. Some seem to think they can be outside for voting purposes and inside for purposes of reorganization." With these words William Jennings Bryan threw down the gage to ex-President Grover Cleveland and the "gold" faction of the Democracy at the banquet of the Chicago William J. Bryan league, held at the Sherman house. Five hundred Democratic leaders from the central states shouted their approval of this challenge.

WASHINGTON.—By a vote of 165 to 102 the house adopted the Burleigh reapportionment bill. The measure fixes the membership of the house at 387, increases the representation of twenty-one states and provides for thirty more members than are now authorized. Illinois, under the bill, will gain three members, raising its representation to twenty-five.

CAPE TOWN.—A dispatch from Pietermaritzburg says it is stated there that Commander in Chief Louis Botha and four other Boer commanders are about to interview Lord Kitchener at Pretoria. The burghers, however, desire to continue the war. It is reported that Boer troops have reached Sutherland and are within twenty miles of Piquetberg.

MANILA.—Several insurgent camps have been captured and destroyed recently by American troops in various districts of Luzon and Laroe.

JANUARY 9, 1881.

CHICAGO.—A telegram was received announcing that the Hon. John Kelly would arrive in this city tomorrow. It is therefore absolutely certain that Chicago people will have an opportunity to see the Tammany chieftain. Whatever differences of opinion there may be as to Mr. Kelly's political career, all will unite in welcoming him to the west on a mission of charity. He lectures in Central Music hall tomorrow evening for the benefit of St. Joseph's Orphan asylum.

CHICAGO.—George Spalding, a well known machinist and inventor of the McCormick self-binder, is reported missing from his home at Rockford for the last six weeks. He is about 57 years old and is thought to be somewhere in the neighborhood of this city.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Another dispatch from Maj. Ilges from Camp Poplar agency expresses the belief that he will have to move on Sitting Bull and his hostile braves at once. He is of the opinion that diplomacy will have no effect on the wily savage. The hostile Indians recently captured, numbering about 300, and including the Gall, the Crow, and Blackhorn in shackles, have been started to Buford in charge of Capt. J. M. Bell and his company of the Seventh cavalry.

O COMRADE!

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Your editorial today, captioned "O Comrade!" is the cleverest bit of writing that I have seen for some time. But you are wrong. This is not and never will be a communist nation. We are following the socialistic compass and will be the first real Socialist nation on earth. We are drifting that way fast now, but will not arrive for many years to come.

We have more than a million employés on governmental pay rolls now at "fixed" wages. The railroads are no longer operated by the official directors, but by the railway brotherhoods, who, by organization, fix their own salaries and working rules. The directors are merely manipulators in the stock markets.

Just as it is with the railroads, just so it is with many other large industries—power concerns, for instance. Having broken down for lack of proper private management and millions of men out of empoyment, there will be no other alternative than government financing and operation. But there always will be in this country the opportunity for private initiative and the accumulation of large private fortunes. We will not have the kind of socialism now contended for by the Socialist party; governmental ownership of everything, even to this typewriter. It will be an adaptation by the ever compromising forces of democracy and will perhaps be known as industrial democracy. J. T. K.

ECONOMIC PHILOSOPHY.

Racine, Wis., Jan. 7.—THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S recent editorials on radicalism and economic philosophy are rare conceptions and imperishable truths on business and politics. The statesmanship of demagogues has no place in any of this picture. The strength of these delightful editorial observations lies in their simplicity of expression, unanswerable logic and illuminating common sense. WALLACE INGALLS.

ENGLAND, ARK.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—The shocking story in today's TRIBUNE from England, Ark., causes one to wonder whether we have any government at Washington or in the states any more. Did the governor of Arkansas know of the conditions pictured in the story? If so, why was not some action taken? If Arkansas was unable to assist her citizens in times of disaster, why not call upon the federal government? While our well fed senators debate upon various subjects honest and industrious citizens beg for a little food to ward off starvation. The governor of Arkansas should resign at once and permit some one to assume the office who could meet an emergency. J. W. R.

POLICEMEN'S BELTS.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Did your correspondent investigate the real reason why the police are not wearing Sam Brown belts? The police voted on it and those that were against them won. The belts are a big disadvantage to the policeman. If he were in a hand to hand tussle all that the culprit would have to do was to get hold of the Sam Brown belt and pull. The gun was always hard to pull out of the holster. M. MARGOLIS.

MR. HOOVER'S SECRETARY.

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 4.—President Hoover will probably find it difficult to get a good man for his social relations secretary. Men of talent are all employed, the depression, so-called, to the contrary notwithstanding, and nobody wants to quit a steady job for a temporary one. W. S. KELLY.

BRITISH BENEVOLENCE.

Maywood, Ill., Dec. 31.—Dr. Hardy's article in your issue of the 30th inst. calls for a reply in the interests of truth. I'm afraid that the charge of gross ignorance which he levels at the editor redounds on himself, especially where he refers to India. Has he ever lived in India, or in any part of the British empire? Does he know, I wonder, that Britain, as a nation, never conquered India? It was subdued bit by bit by the English East India company, and that not as the result of a preconceived plan but as the natural and inevitable consequence of its utterly divided and anarchical condition.

It was not till the year 1858 that Britain took over the government of India. I have lived there during almost the entire period of British imperial rule, and know whereof I testify when I assert that, on the whole, no better or more benevolent government has ever existed in the world.

But I wish especially to point out to Dr. Hardy that Irishmen have had their full share in the conquest and government of India, and of every other part of the British empire. Since its conquest 800 years ago by the same Norman barons and knights who had shortly before subdued Saxon England, and that owing to the call for help by one of the many warring Irish kings Ireland has had her full share in every development of the empire. For good or ill this has absolutely been the case; and Irishmen deserve full credit for the good and must not shirk the odium of the bad. This has been so much the case in India that an American traveler once wittily wrote, "India is a country conquered by Irish soldiers, governed by English officials, in the interests of Scotch merchants." Many of the greatest governors, civil service men and soldiers out there have been, and are, Irishmen. Arthur Wellesley, duke of Wellington, was an outstanding figure in the conquest of India by the East Indian company, and an Irishman; Lords Roberts and Kitchener, world famous soldiers, were Irish. It sounds a little amusing, then, to have Irishmen fulminating so loudly and virtuously against the tyranny over subject races by the "British." C. G. ELSAS.

ON POPPING THE QUESTION.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Customs continue long after the conditions which brought them about have changed. When man earned the livelihood and stood guard over the family security woman was regarded as his dependent. That condition has changed so that today in many respects woman is fully man's equal. There is no sensible reason why a girl should not ask the boys of her choice for dates or even to marry her. If I were a girl, which I am not, I should be tempted to ignore tradition and do the thing my good sense tells me is right. P. R.

A RACKET REVIVED.

Chicago, Jan. 6. — The suit shakedown racketeers are at it again.

If the public would only stop to consider and analyze these "propositions" there would be less of them on the market. The salesman says "newspaper advertising is expensive, so this method of sale has been adopted." Contrast this fact with the enormous number of successful clothiers, who obtain their business through the columns of the newspaper and who say that this is the cheapest and only way to reach the buyer. Use this argument and see how quickly the racketeer makes his exit!

SET NO. 1

Here's How to Play the GAME of STATES

Name of State Pennsylvania.

Bounded by Lake Erie, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, and Ohio.

HERE'S a game that is educational, provides a lot of fun for winter evenings, and may bring you a pot of money. Liberty has presented it before—a number of years ago—but revives it now in a new, easier and more entertaining form.

On this page you see the maps of four states. Can you name them? Can you identify the rest of the states of the Union from similarly unmarked maps? Can you bound each state, and tell which is your favorite state, and why?

If you can do these simple things you can play Liberty's Game of States. It's worth your while—for to those who play it best Liberty offers a total of $25,000 in cash prizes!

Each week for twelve weeks the maps of four states will be printed in Liberty Magazine.

In the blank spaces under each of these maps (or copies of the maps which you may make yourself) you must write the name of the state, list the states, waters, or countries that bound it.

When you have done this, put your maps away and save them. Watch for the succeeding sets in succeeding issues of Liberty, and do the same thing until you have all twelve sets. Then send them in, with a little essay of not more than fifty words, telling which is your favorite state, and why. But remember—don't send anything in until you have the twelve sets complete.

The first set of maps appears in the issue of Liberty now on the newsstands. But you may start with the maps on this page. Save the maps, or copy or trace them, NOW!

$25,000 in Cash Prizes

will be divided as follows:

First prize	$ 5,000
Second prize	1,000
Third prize	500
Fourth prize	250
Fifth prize	200
Next 180 prizes, $25 each	4,500
Next 1,355 prizes, $10 each	13,550
TOTAL (1,540 prizes)	$25,000

Rules

1. Every week for twelve consecutive weeks Liberty will print four outline maps of four different states of the United States; a total of 48 maps—one for each of the 48 states.

2. You are invited to cut out these maps (or, if you prefer, make copies or tracings of them) and, below each map, write the state's name, the states, waters, or countries that bound it.

3. When you have done this with all the maps, write an essay of not more than fifty words telling which is your favorite state, and why.

4. Liberty will pay a total of $25,000 in cash prizes to the persons who send in the most nearly correct and neatest sets of state maps, together with the best essays, in accordance with these rules.

5. This contest is open to everybody except employees of Liberty and their families.

6. Maps are to be submitted only in complete sets. Hold all maps until you have 48 of them. Then send them, with your essays, to STATES, Post Office Box 612, Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write your name and address clearly on your entry. All entries must be in by midnight, 21 days after the final set is published.

7. Each entry should be sent by first-class mail, postage prepaid. Entries with insufficient postage will be returned by the Post Office Department. Contestants may send in as many sets of maps and as many essays as they wish, but no contestant will be entitled to more than one prize.

8. You need not purchase Liberty to compete. You may copy or trace the maps from the originals and use the copies you have made. Liberty may be examined at any of its offices or at public libraries free of charge.

9. The judges will be a committee appointed by the publishers of Liberty. Their decision will be final. Both accuracy and neatness will count in the award of the prizes. No elaborate treatments are necessary. Simplicity is best. In case of ties a duplicate award will be given each tying contestant. WE CANNOT UNDERTAKE TO RETURN ANY ENTRIES, OR ENTER INTO CORRESPONDENCE CONCERNING THEM.

POPE FLAYS SEX CODES OF TODAY AS DEADLY SINS

Classes Birth Control and Divorce as Crimes.

pose of the encyclical, says that it is necessary "first of all that men's minds be illumined with the true doctrine of Christ regarding it [Matrimony], and secondly, that Christian spouses, the weakness of their wills strengthened by the internal grace of God, shape all their ways of thinking and of acting in conformity with that pure law of Christ so as to obtain true peace and happiness for themselves and for their families."

Finds Immorality Spreading.

The encyclical points out that "a great number of men entiher entirely ignore or shamelessly deny the great sanctity of Christian wedlock, or even, relying upon the false principles of a new and utterly perverse morality, too often trample it underfoot.

"And since these most pernicious errors and depraved morals have begun to spread even amongst the faithful and are gradually gaining ground, in our office as Christ's vicar upon earth and supreme shepherd and teacher we consider it our duty to keep the flock committed to our care from poisonous pastures and preserve it from harm."

"Experience has taught," the pontiff says, "that unassailable stability in matrimony is a fruitful source of virtuous life and of habits of integrity. Where this order of things is obtained the happiness and well being of the nation is safely guarded. As the families and individuals are, so also is the state. For a body is determined by its parts."

The encyclical proceeds to a discussion of divorce, quoting a number of ecclesiastical authorities in their development of "the word of the Lord: 'What God has joined together let no man put asunder.'"

Attacks Modern Theories.

"Today, alas," he adds, "not secretly or under cover, but openly, with all sense of shame put aside, now by word, again by writing, by theatrical productions of every kind, by romantic fiction, by amorous, frivolous novels, by vivid cinematographic scenes, in addresses broadcast by radio—in short, by all inventions of modern science—the sanctity of marriage is trampled upon and derided.

"Divorce, adultery, all the basest vices either are extolled or at least depicted in such colors as to be or appear to be free of all reproach and infamy. Doctrines are defended and are offered for sale as productions of modern genius, of that genius which is anxious only for truth and is considered to have emancipated itself from all those old fashioned, immature opinions of the ancients, and to the number of those antiquated opinions they relegate the traditional doctrine of Christian marriage."

"Not all the sponsors of these new doctrines are carried to extremes of unbridled lust. There are those who, striving as it were for a middle course, believe, nevertheless, that something should be conceded in our times as regards certain precepts of the divine and natural law, but these, likewise, more or less wittingly, are emissaries of the great enemy who is forever seeking to sow cockle among the wheat.

"The evil of this [modern] teaching," the Encyclical says, "is plainly seen from the consequences which it advocates. They deduce from it that the generative power that is grounded in Nature itself is more sacred and has a more wide range than matrimony and hence may be exercised both outside as well as in the confines of wedlock.

"Armed with these principles some men go so far as to concoct new species of union, suited, as they say, to the present temper of men and the times, which various new forms of matrimony, they presume to label 'temporary,' 'experimental,' and 'companionate.' These offer all the indulgence of matrimony and its right without, however, being indissoluble, and without offspring, unless later the parties alter their cohabitation into a matrimony in the full sense of the law."

Frowns on Frustration.

Proceeding to the explanation of the evils opposed to each of the benefits of matrimony, the pontiff considers first, "offspring which many have the boldness to call the disagreeable burden of matrimony."

They say, the pontiff comments, that children are "to be carefully avoided by married people, not through virtuous continence [which Christian law permits in matrimony when both parties consent] but by frustrating the marriage act. Some justify this criminal abuse on the ground that they are weary of children and wish to gratify their desires without their consequent burden.

"Others say they cannot on the one hand remain content, nor on the other can they have children because of the difficulties, whether on the part of the mother or on the part of family circumstances.

"But no reason, however grave, may be put forward by which anything intrinsically against nature may become conformable to nature and morally good. Therefore, since the conjugal act is the same, designed primarily by nature for the begetting of children, those who in exercising it deliberately frustrate its natural purpose sin against nature and commit a deed which is shameful and intrinsically vicious.

"Small wonder, therefore, if the holy writ bears witness that the divine majesty regards with greatest detestation this horrible crime and at times has punished it with death.

Deplores State of World.

"The Roman Catholic church, to whom God has intrusted the defense of the integrity and the purity of morals, standing erect in the midst of the moral ruins which surround her, in order that she may preserve the nuptial union from behind defiled by this foul stain, raises her voice in token of divine ambassadorship and through our mouth proclaims anew:

"Any use whatsoever of matrimony exercised in such a way that the act is deliberately frustrated in its natural power is an offense against the law of God and nature, and those who indulge in such are branded with the guilt of a craven sin."

In support of his assertions the pontiff quoted St. Augustine, who in such cases called a woman "a mere mistress of her husband," and a man the paramour of his wife.

The encyclical goes in some detail into contraceptive methods; but "another very grave crime is to be noted, venerable brethren, which regards the taking of the life of the offspring hidden in the mother's womb. Some wish it to be allowed and left to the will of the father, or the mother. Others say it is unlawful unless there are weighty reasons which they call by the name of medical, social or eugenic.

"Because this matter falls under the penal laws of the state by which the destruction of the offspring begotten but unborn is forbidden, these people demand that the classification which in one form or another they defend be recognized by the public law and in no way penalized.

"Upright and skillful doctors strive most praiseworthily to guard and preserve lives of both mother and child. On the contrary, those show themselves most unworthy of the noble medical profession and those who encompass the death of one or the other through a pretense at practice in medicine or through motives of misguided pity."

There are those, the pontiff says, who for so-called eugenic reasons wish to sterilize those whom they consider for some reason or other would be unable to produce healthy, normal children. These, he says, "are at fault in losing sight of the fact that the family is more sacred than the state and that men are begotten not for the earth but for heaven and eternity."

The encyclical asks adequate state laws touching upon the state and family, saying that the religious and civil powers should coöperate therein.

The pope's advice to the young is "choose a partner well." He advocates state aid for mothers.

20 LATIN SCHOLARS AID POPE DRAFT HIS LENGTHY ENCYCLICAL

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 8.—(AP)—A score of scholars who read, write and think Latin collaborated in making a rough draft of the 16,000 word encyclical of Pope Pius XI., made public today. It required two solid months for the research division at the Vatican to complete the document, which will go down in the history of the Church of Rome as "Casti connubii," or "of chaste wedlock."

In beginning the encyclical the pope outlined to his staff the tone on each point to be included, and a mass of material was gathered, digested and presented to the pontiff, who then further instructed his aids by more specific comments.

Eventually Msgr. Nicola Sebastiani, noted Latin expert of the Vatican, whose title is "secretary of letters to princes," took the work prepared by individual staff members and put it together. He whipped into tentative shape along Latin document which the pope worked and reworked, editing and writing in his study until a few days before the encyclical was issued.

ALFONSO TAKES REVENGE OUT ON REBEL AIRMEN

Spanish King Will Fire 125 from Service.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Jan. 8.—In a royal decree signed tonight King Alfonso struck back at his rebellious air force. Still master in Spain, and not adept at turning the other cheek, he has without warning taken measures to break the wings that lent themselves to the republican uprising a month ago and whirred menacingly over his very head.

Premier Berenguer announced blandly tonight that the king had signed a brief order "reorganizing the nation's military air force." The premier added that the details would be kept strictly secret until published in the official gazette at 9 a. m. tomorrow. Later, the government censor instructed the press to delete all references to the dictator's statement, and so it is possible that the exact terms of the royal revenge on the proud air corps will be withhold a few days "for reasons of state."

Will Discard Rebel Airmen.

But the decree is signed and calls for such a complete reorganization of the corps, which until now has been a separate entity on a footing with both the army and navy, that all officers thought to be even faintly connected with the designs of the republicans' official birdman, Maj. Ramon Franco, will be thrown into the discard.

Actual discipline for the corps as an entity, with its remnants being attached to the army and navy, was provided, it is understood, in the original draft of the decree. It is believed, however, that the decree has been modified in a measure as yet unknown tonight.

The original draft was drawn up while the attendants at the Bourbon palace were smarting under one of the worst indignities a solvent monarchy has had to face in modern times. With the memory of those terrible minutes when Maj. Franco was circling low over the palace and seemed prepared to bomb the crown right out of the Spanish political picture still fresh in his mind, Alfonso was apparently willing to crush the corps out of separate existence.

Will Punish 125 Officers.

Since then some modifications have been made, but at whose instance it is not known.

What is sure is that henceforth Spanish aviation which, with the artillery, is the chief menace to the throne, will be so dispersed and held in check that it will be unable to act in unison. It is also regarded as certain that the Republicans will not again so easily stage a single handed attempt at a conquest from the clouds.

It is reported that nearly 125 officers are due to be punished. Their places, if they cannot be filled by survivors, will be taken by army and navy men.

This is the second time Alfonso formally punished this branch of his military force. A similar bolt was unloosed against the artillery, until then his favorite, after the 1926 uprising.

PLAN TO LOWER GERMAN RETAIL COSTS BY 10% CUT

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—As a future step to force down retail price levels the government will shortly decree a uniform cut of 10 per cent in the price of food products, proprietary and pharmaceutical articles, trade marked package goods, kitchen utensils, hardware and other household commodities which have been sold under rigid price agreements between the producers and retailers.

The government has been defeated almost everywhere in its attack on price levels in general, so a new beginning is now to be made with a category of commodities which offer a more promising point of attack because the industries concerned and the channels through which they are distributed can be brought under closer scrutiny than is possible in other industrial fields.

In rents, light, heat, power and fuel no cuts have been achieved. The 6 per cent cut in the price of coal promised by the Ruhr industry is wholly contingent on the reduction of the miner's wages, on which no agreement has yet been reached.

Knock That Cold In A Jiffy

Relief Now Almost Before You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

$1,800,000 Loan Made to Dubuque Sisters of Charity

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 8.—(AP)—A loan of $1,800,000 has been made to Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary of St. Joseph, Dubuque, Ia., by the Mercantile Commerce Bank and Trust company and Thomas L. Glannon of St. Louis. This was revealed with the filing of a deed of trust by the Dubuque order for five of its properties in favor of the lenders. St. Joseph academy here and the Immaculate Conception academy at Davenport are included in the collateral covering the loan. A part of the money is to be used, according to the deed, for the refinancing of loans used to build Mundelein college in Chicago.

Legislators Rap Governor's Proposal to Curb Cook County

Reapportionment of the state legislative districts to give Cook county full rights in the senate but restrict its representation in the house to one-third of the membership, as proposed by Gov. Emmerson, has encountered the almost unanimous opposition of the county's leading legislators, who returned from Springfield yesterday and expressed their views.

Virtually all the legislators frowned on the governor's suggestion, contained in his message to the general assembly, and declared they would fight any plan for reapportionment that failed to give Chicago and Cook county their full rights as conveyed to them by the state constitution.

Charges Broken Faith.

State Representative Michael L. Igoe, Democratic minority leader in the house, charged that Gov. Emmerson had not kept faith with the voters. Mr. Igoe declared that in the gubernatorial campaign of 1927 Emmerson had promised to bring about reapportionment, without mentioning any qualifications that would restrict Cook county's lawful rights.

Mr. Igoe said that if the governor was sincere he would get behind a program to reapportion as provided by the constitution and would have no trouble in getting such a program through the present session of the legislature. The Democratic minority leader pointed out that even without the governor's help the present house would lack only four or five votes of passing such a measure and that with the governor's support both the house and senate could rush through any reapportionment measure.

Under the present circumstances, Mr. Igoe said, even if this legislature would accept the governor's proposal, it could not be carried out until the next session of the legislature, two years hence, because he said Gov. Emmerson's proposal calls for a constitutional amendment which would have to be placed before the voters of the state at the next statewide election in 1932.

Rapped by Sonnenschien.

State Representative Henry Sonnenschien was equally antagonistic toward the governor's proposal. He declared that unless Gov. Emmerson would support a full constitutional reapportionment there could be no doubt that a Chicago candidate will be the next governor of Illinois.

State Senator Arthur A. Huebsch of Brookfield, a Republican, also said he favored the full constitutional reapportionment. He asserted the legislators were bound by their oaths to carry out such reapportionment. He suggested that if Cook county should not be given its full rights, the better plan would be to reapportion and then submit to the voters the question of whether Cook county's delegation in one of the houses should be restricted.

State Representative Elmer Schnackenberg, another Republican, said his first thought was that the governor's proposal did not go far enough, but he said he did not want to commit himself definitely until he had studied the question.

Lee Opposes Proposal.

State Representative John M. Lee took a similar stand against Gov. Emmerson's idea. He did not like it and said "the governor isn't giving us a thing. If we're going to have to fight, we should fight for our complete constitutional rights in both sides of the house."

State Representative Solomon P. Roderick joined with the others in expressing his opposition to the proposal and said he would demand that Cook county be given all the recognition it constitutionally deserves.

FIGHT ON STATE GAS TAX ASSURED IN ASSEMBLY

Emmerson's Attitude Seen in Message.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—A hot fight over the state gas tax is in prospect for the Illinois general assembly, now recessing until Wednesday.

Statehouse observers believe a bill may be introduced to lift the tax entirely; some effort will at least be made, it is believed, to shunt one penny of the two cents the state receives from the levy to pave the streets of cities, villages and towns. The remaining cent is given for county roads.

That Gov. Emmerson is aware of these intentions was indicated by a paragraph in his message to the legislature yesterday. He said then, "If the present sources of revenue are left undisturbed, sufficient funds will be collected to complete all of this work [2,200 miles of road construction] within the next three years. At the same time, the counties will be able to make marked headway in the improvement of the secondary state aid road system."

Municipal League a Foe.

One source of the attack upon the gas tax is the Illinois Municipal league, headed by Mayor Green of Aurora, which wants the cities to be given a penny to build roads. This would cut the state's revenue in half.

Such diversion, it is said, would also involve problems of allocation—whether the municipalities would be apportioned their shares on the basis of population or auto ownership. In Chicago, the difficulties would include the park districts.

Gov. Emmerson's Views.

On the matter the governor's message had this to say:

"At the present time there are unfair discriminations between cities and villages in so far as the construction of state routes through them is concerned.

"The weakest links in the chain of the state highway system are the streets used as state highways through cities and villages. This unfair to require residents along the streets used as state highways to reconstruct pavements of the strength and width necessary to carry state-wide traffic."

Twenty Ill at Elgin State Hospital; Blame Bad Water

Twenty attendants and patients of the Elgin State Hospital for the Insane are under medical observation with what physicians believe are the first symptoms of typhoid fever. They became ill as a result of contamination of the water supply. The hospital is now drawing water from Elgin, instead of its own well source. Dr. Charles F. Read, head of the institution, doubts there is any danger of a typhoid epidemic. The hospital water supply became contaminated a week ago when the sewer line became clogged near the Fox river and flooded the fields near the wells.

RID MICHIGAN OF RACKET: BRUCKER TO LEGISLATURE

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—The menace of the new crime of racketeering should be recognized by the current session of the Michigan legislature and suitable legislation to tear it from the state's economic structure should be enacted, Gov. Wilbert M. Brucker declared in his message to the lawmakers, read at a joint session of senate and house today.

The message covered a wide range of subjects but the new governor's already announced policy of rigid state economy dominated the entire document.

Gov. Brucker completely ignored mention of prohibition or dry law enforcement and the Michigan Anti-Saloon league lobby, headed by R. N. Holsaple, superintendent, heard a thinly veiled criticism of the law from Fred W. Green, the retiring governor, who also read a lengthy message of advice to the legislators.

Gov. Brucker, however, threw a sop to the prohibitionists in advocating repeal of the state malt tax law.

'31 LOOKS GOOD, 'CONFIDENT' AUTO EXECUTIVE SAYS

Miller's Job Is to Keep Many Men Busy.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 8.—[Special.]—"We are confident, but not too cocky, and 1931 looks pretty good, thank you."

L. A. Miller talking. Mr. Miller is president of Willys Overland company and he talks as compactly as he builds automobiles. The Tribune reporter had passed the morning at the show in Grand Central palace and his ears were buzzing with claims and counter claims, descriptions of gimcracks and gadgets and the fading roar of high pressure salesmanship. Mr. Miller's hotel suite was agreeably quiet, and there was no ballyhoo there. There was something about the automobile manufacturer as he sat erect in a straight backed chair that was expressive of stability, so that is what we talked about—stability and the human factor in industry.

Tells About His Job.

Here are some of the remarks of an automobile executive who has traveled along with one company for seventeen years:

"My job is to keep as many workmen as possible regularly employed and at the same time see that my dealers make money.

"Stabilize employment and business depressions will not be possible.

"It is economically wrong to plan one program and carry out another, for every one suffers because of the unexpected changes.

"I think the 1931 show proves that most automobiles are being built better and that improved manufacturing practices are being used.

"Personally, I wouldn't mind a general increase in the price of all commodities. It would stimulate business."

Thinks in Straight Line.

One usually can hit on the way a man thinks by the way his room looks when he is away from home. Coats were hanging on coat racks in Mr. Miller's suite. Newspapers were on the table and a cool breeze blew in at a half opened window. There was no disorder and neither was there an air of formality. Mr. Miller is like that—cool and easy to talk to. He thinks in a straight line.

"Get set on fundamental policies, control production, stabilize the industry and any business will go ahead," said Mr. Miller. "I believe the outstanding thing of this show was the decision of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to recommend that hereafter all the motor car manufacturers should announce their new models at the same time, in November or December of each year. This removes the last remaining fault in the industry and there will be no more running wild on new production. By holding to a specified time there will be no disorganization of the market during the spring and summer seasons. Dealers will profit, for they will know what to expect.

Waiting Aids Business.

"We do not have to have a 5,000,000 car year for a big business. The three and one-half million cars built last year was a big volume of business. The ideal situation would be a 4,500,000 car year with a demand for 5,000,000 cars. It is healthy for the public to want something it cannot get right away."

Mr. Miller declared the Willys Overland program for 1931 had been presented to the entire organization at a series of meeting, each attended by an executive of the company, and that it had met universal approval. Presentation of the 1931 line to the public followed and met with equal approval, he said.

Low Prices Attractive.

"People are shopping for automobiles this year," said Mr. Miller, "and the manufacturer of a low priced automobile is in a fortunate spot. The demand for more expensive cars grows along with the return of better times. Our company manufactures automobiles from under the $700 range to the $1,300 neighborhood and it is a comfortable bracket to be in, as 68 per cent of the business is done on cars under $700, 13 per cent on automobiles sold from $700 to $900 and approximately 10 per cent on cars valued at $900 up to $1,300."

Adele Ritchie Leaves Estate Inventoried at $21,682

Santa Ana, Cal., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—The estate of Adele Ritchie, stage actress, who last summer shot her Chicago friend, Mrs. Doris Murray Palmer, and then killed herself, was inventoried at $21,682 in appraisal statements filed at the courthouse here.

Miss Ritchie was the divorced wife of Guy Bates Post, well known actor. Included in the assets listed today are several items which are expected to result in a legal tangle, as they enumerate bequests which Miss Ritchie intended for the woman she killed.

BANKER BLAMES TRADE BARRIERS FOR DEPRESSION

Make Consumption Easy, Warburg Urges.

New York, Jan. 8.—[Special.]—The attempt to maintain high prices in the face of constantly accelerated mass production, through the use of tariff barriers and other artificial expedients was chiefly responsible for the present economic depression, according to Paul M. Warburg, industrial banker, in presenting his annual address as chairman of the Manhattan company before a joint meeting of the directors of the company and its units. Mr. Warburg declared that the inventive genius of man had placed behind every visible producer a hundred invisible producers. But we have not been able to place any invisible consumers behind the consumer, he said.

Consumers Behind Barriers.

Remarking that in the world of free trade and well governed banking no great harm might have resulted, Mr. Warburg said:

"Instead of permitting a free and untrammeled flow of goods, customs barriers were erected by nations, old and new, and behind these walls of protection industries were pushed to hothouse growths, based upon high prices exacted from domestic consumers. Valorization schemes, syndicates, cartels, monopolies, and all kinds of governmental operations did the rest."

Mr. Warburg made no attempt to predict when the depression would end, but declared that no sane person could doubt that eventually a country as unique in resources and opportunities as this will ultimately get back into its stride. Comparatively brief periods of underproduction in a country containing over 120,000,000 temperamentally enthusiastic consumers must bring about a certain revival of business activity, he said.

Predicts Rise in Securities.

"From the banker's point of view," Mr. Warburg said, "I do not hesitate to say that I believe that a few years hence the level at which some of our securities sell today will look as incomprehensibly low as the prices paid for the same securities seemed unreasonably high long before the crash occurred in October, 1929. If in those days prices were far in excess of what would have been warranted by the record of past performance, today's prices for certain bonds and stocks, measured by the same standard, would seem far to low, even though one might anticipate a year or two of reduced dividends."

Attempts to relieve the effects of a business recession by governmental measures were described as futile by Mr. Warburg. The better plan, he suggested, would be to use governmental influence toward repressing the boom period which preceded the depression. In this connection Mr. Warburg questioned whether the central banks, which have the task of exercising a restraining influence, are sufficiently free of political interference.

HOUSE SPEAKER HAS DAUGHTER OF 6 AS GUEST

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Paulina Longworth experienced a new thrill today.

She had luncheon with her papa—the popular Speaker Longworth—under the great, glittering chandelier in his private office in the capitol.

She accompanied him to the house floor for the first time in her life of almost 6 full years and sitting on the front row, feet dangling far from the carpet, she held her father's hand and watched the legislators at work.

Greeted by many of the house members she told them she came to visit her father because she had a hard time seeing him now that she's such a big girl and spends so much time at school.

FORMER JOLIET CONVICT SLAYS OHIO POLICEMAN

Cleveland, O., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Police tonight held an ex-convict, John W. Glasscock, for first degree murder of a policeman. Glasscock, alias Jack McCarthy, has served time in the Joliet, Ill., prison for bank robbery. He was indicted by the grand jury today, less than 10 hours after Patrolman James Ryan, 37, a victim of Glasscock's bullets, died of his wounds.

Ryan received his fatal wounds and Patrolman John Cleary probably was paralyzed for life by a bullet which entered his spine, when they attempted to capture Glasscock in an apartment here.

The ex-convict met the policemen with a blazing revolver, but was wounded, too.

Glasscock staggered into the nearby residence of Edward Godleski, terrorized Mrs. Godleski, her two small children and Edward Conway, and forced them to dress his wounds. Detective Alfred Jones, following a trail of blood, found Glasscock there.

The policemen had sought to arrest Glasscock for questioning in the hold-up of a speakeasy operator.

Glasscock's criminal record is a long one. He had been arrested previously in Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland. He was sentenced from Chicago, June 26, 1924, to Joliet prison for three to 20 years on a bank robbery charge. He escaped from the prison June 14, 1928, was recaptured in Cleveland, returned to the prison and was paroled Oct. 30, 1930.

Half of Town Swept Into Gulf by Flood

AMMAN, Transjordania, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Half of the town of Akada, in northern Arabia, has been swept into the Gulf of Akaba, and 1,000 are homeless as the result of dangerous floods following upon abnormal rains. The flocks of many Bedouin herdsmen also were swept out to sea. No lives were lost because the inhabitants were warned by the roar of the approaching flood and took refuge on high ground.

Favorite Recipes

HOUSEWIVES! What recipe do you like best of all? Of all the dishes you've ever tasted or prepared, which one is your favorite?

Today the Chicago Tribune announces another Favorite Recipe competition. For the best recipes submitted in accordance with a few simple rules the Tribune will pay $200 in cash prizes.

You may send in any kind of recipe you wish. It may be for a vegetable dish, a meat dish, a cheese dish or one calling for fish or fowl. Perhaps you have your own special way of preparing coffee or tea or cocoa or other beverage. Or perhaps you have a favorite recipe for making candy or preserves or soups or pickles. Send it in! Any kind of recipe for anything to eat is eligible to receive an award.

Just Follow These Simple Rules:

1. For the best recipes submitted in accordance with these rules the Chicago Tribune will pay $200.00 in cash prizes. First prize, $50.00; second prize, $25.00; third prize, $15.00; fourth prize, $10.00; fifth prize, $5.00; next 95 prizes, $1.00 each.
2. This offer is open to every one—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families. You pay nothing. Just send in a recipe.
3. Each recipe must be accompanied by a note telling in 50 words or less why you like the recipe you send.
4. You need not purchase the Chicago Tribune. The Tribune may be examined at the Tribune office or at public libraries free of charge. You may write down your recipe on the handy blank povided here or you may write it down on a separate sheet of paper.
5. Meta Given has been appointed judge and contestants agree to accept her decision as final. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded to tying contestants.
6. Address all entries to "FAVORITE RECIPES," the Chicago Tribune, Postoffice Box 1720, Chicago, Ill.
7. All entries must be received in the Tribune Office before 6:00 p. m. on Wednesday, Jan. 14, 1931. No entries will be returned.

WAITING TABLE NEEDS A STRONG ARM AND WITS

It Is Almost Becoming a Career.

BY PAUL JACOBY.

Waiting on tables has developed into a career—one of the finer arts—if you please.

At least that is the impression gained from the Chicago waitress. She insists, and probably rightfully so, that she must not only be equipped to stack dishes and serve them off the arm, but that she must play a character of many parts.

The perfect waitress listens respectfully to the loquacious diner, soothes the frayed nerves of the high pressured business man, must cheer the grumpy customer, must take harsh criticisms and bear them like a Spartan. Her customers, male and female, confide in her. She advises the sneezing and complaining diner he ought to wear spats. She must even become a Doris Blake to the lovelorn and bear up under the story of the misunderstood husband.

The one time waitress who shrieked her orders out of the corner of her mouth is gone. She has been succeeded by a more cultured, refined and educated individual. They are great students of human nature and can tell by a glance whether or not a customer will tip, whether he's going in for a big meal, or whether he merely wants a few moments of entertainment at the cost of the waitress's patience.

Among Those Who Wait.

In one restaurant, frequently inhabited by theatrical folk, is a young lady of 27 years, a striking blonde. Left fatherless at 15, she became a waitress. Let her tell the story.

"I had to support my mother and two sisters," she explained. "My education was neglected. After 12 years of waiting on table I have sent my sisters through school and supported my mother. They now help to support her. I am studying music, but first I desire a fair knowledge of the English language and am taking a special course at Lake View High school."

Earning for an Education.

In another restaurant, where the absence of the blare of band music is a boast, are several girls who find they can earn more by waiting on tables than in other occupations to win an education. Then there is the little girl in a Michigan boulevard tea room. She is 17, a graduate of Lindblom high, a wife and a mother.

"My husband worked in a radio factory, but was laid off," she said. "I got this job and am doing all I can to keep the home together. I earn enough to take care of the three of us, though it's rather hard to leave my six months' old baby at home."

Then there is the little German girl, known to business men, bankers, taxicab drivers as Mary. She works nights and, besides putting aside money for a rainy day, is helping support her family in Bavaria.

There are hundreds of like cases.

The best tippers, waitresses admit, are the gamblers and racketeers. Not the smartest tippers, but the most lavish! The most sensible tipper, they declare, is the shrewd business man. He, too, exhibits the most intelligence in the selection of food.

Putting on a Front.

"The boy is doing his best to make a big impression on his girl," one said. "He has probably borrowed the money from home, but it's his night out and he's going to make the most of it. The girl orders and after hearing her request he frequently finds it necessary to be satisfied with a cup of coffee.

"I wait on one of these Harold Teens once a week. At the end of the meal he drops a half dollar as a tip. He's sure his girl's looking. They walk together to the cashier. He recalls he has forgotten his check. He returns, picks up the check and the half dollar. Some day I'll fool him. I'll get there first."

MIDWEST OUTPUT OF CANNED FOOD SHOWS BIG GAIN

Potatoes Now Are Added to the List.

Each year in the last decade has seen a substantial increase in the amount of foodstuffs passing from the great "breadbasket of the world"—the central United States—to the American family table via the canned package route.

Having overcome the handicaps of loss of food values such as vitamins in the process of cooking foods and canning them, and having the benefits or scientific research to overcome any possible poisonous effects, the sealed, attractively labeled cans offer an economical means of keeping a short seasoned, perishable food crop until it is needed for home consumption.

Potatoes Now Canned.

Potatoes are the newest of American foods to enter the kitchen in canned form. Florida canneries for several seasons have tried the preserve the wholesome flavor and food values of potatoes by cooking them with the skins on and canning in tins sufficient in size to feed a family of four to seven persons. This season, the potatoes of Kansas are being packed in similar fashion and the demand for the product is said to exceed the present supply.

Poultry products have also been successfully packed in recent years, Chicago assuming the lead as a center for such packing. The chickens are cooked and sealed under federal inspection, and provide a quickly prepared meal for unexpected guests or the meal that becomes more than a "snack."

Glass jars have also become more popular with the advent of demand for small packages of prepared food dishes, reports of national canners indicate. While the process is somewhat more expensive than that of canning in tin, the appearance of the contents is said to have an especial appeal to the consumer.

Among Canned Products.

The products now canned in a few weeks to supply the consumption demand of the entire year include fruits, berries, milk, cheese, chicken, pickles, vegetables, jellies, syrups, mayonaise and dressings, meat by-products, fruit juices, sauer kraut, tomato juice and grape fruit juices, sweet corn, apple sauce, cranberries, vegetable oils, pumpkin, fruit pectins, and sauces. More than 200 varieties of foods are now available in sealed cans or jars.

The income from the sale of agricultural food products Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan now amounts to more than two and three fourths billions of dollars. The sales of canned goods in the United States last year amounted to $772,906,852.

Beneath Fluffy Facade of Omelet Lies Mystery

BY FRED PASLEY.

Exhaustive scientific researchers have proved that every strong, silent man has his weakness. Mine is omelet. I am mute with the lean and hungry look of a Cassius before its pouting blonde loveliness, the provocative Mona Lisa ingenuousness of its angelic countenance as it cuddles in the breakfast, dinner, or midnight luncheon plate. I deem it the Clara Bow of the culinary family, the IT dish of the festal board.

The essence of its beguiling charm is that the mystery that resides within it is as eternal and as impenetrable to the mere male as is the mystery that lies—and lies—in woman's eyes. Thus he is lured on. Unmindful of past experiences, heedless of future consequences, he recklessly cuts in expecting, say, to discover jelly and finding chopped ham; or mushrooms, and instead lobster; shrimps, and instead chicken livers; or milk, and instead and alas, rum. Once again his inner man has been vamped, irreparably compromised. The poor fish. Perhaps the omelet would not call a man up at the office, but it can bother him a lot.

I have never, as has a highly esteemed co-pen, or author, to borrow a slang word from Mr. Moore (I assume, of course, the reader is familiar with Mr. Moore's "Forty Years of Opera"—a remarkable work—admirably restrained—it does not mention spaghetti). I have never, as I say, adventured through the alimentary canal with gun and camera, but I have no doubt that the hardy explorer therein would return to our midst with full many a thrilling tale of encounters with the omelet. It is popular. There is no gainsaying that.

I am tempted to observe that age cannot wither nor custom stale its infinite variety, but refrain, aware that to do so would be simply to cast a Cleopatran pearl before the fresh egg element of my public.

However, let us not digress. My most memorable omelet was served by a fellow worker. His family was out of town and as we were neighbors he asked me to drop in to his apartment for a midnight snack. I am an unsuspecting soul. I did not know (1) that he personally was going to prepare the snack, and (2) that in his vocabulary snack for a synonym for omelet. I trusted him. He was my friend.

Arrived eventually at the apartment via the Broadway owl surface car, he led me to the kitchen, and sat me down at the white tiled table. He doffed his coat, rolled up his shirt sleeves, and leered at me:

"What'll you have?"

"What have you got?" I asked.

"Eggs," he said.

"I'll have some eggs," I ventured.

"You'll have an omelet," he laughed.

That was some nine years ago, but I recall it—the omelet—as if it were but yesterday. My fellow worker disappeared into the pantry and in a moment my ears were assailed by sounds as of bombs bursting in air. He was cracking a dozen eggs. I heard the whirr of a beater. I heard a pfft! A can opener was getting in its work. Silence for a few minutes, then he emerged with something in a skillet. He lighted a burner of the gas range, set the skillet on it, and stood over it. Pretty soon the something in the skillet was brought over to the table. Half of it was put in my plate, half in his. He sat down opposite me, raised his knife and fork menacingly.

"Eat," he said.

He had me covered. I ate.

I ate, friends. Somehow I managed to reach home.

"You've been drinking again," my better half greeted me; then, after sniffing my breath, "No, but you're pale. What's wrong?"

"I'm all right, dearie," I said bravely and retired, but not to sleep; only to dream of that omelet. Even today, nine years later, in the still, silent hours, I frequently awake in a cold perspiration. My fellow worker again has me covered and is saying:

"Eat."

I am satisfied that some day I shall solve the mystery of that omelet. My fellow worker's conscience will torture him until he breaks down and confesses what he put in it.

Baking Powder Has a Big Job to do while you're mixing your dough!

⅔ of its work should be done before the bake goes in the oven

THE biggest part of the work you expect from your baking powder should be done by the time you put your dough in the oven. For the success of baking depends on the leavening that takes place in the mixing.

Baking experts and scientists know that exactly two-thirds of the leavening should occur in the mixing. That's the reason why 52 exhaustive laboratory tests are made in the manufacture of Rumford—to make certain that Rumford's leavening always takes place in the perfect proportion of two-thirds in the mixing to one-third in the oven.

Two-to-one leavening assures cakes and hot breads that are light and even-textured, in a word—perfect. And you can get two-to-one leavening only with a pure all-phosphate baking powder such as Rumford.

You owe it to your family to give them the benefit of Rumford's healthful content of Calcium and Phosphates. Get Rumford today from your grocer.

EVANSTON HAS A BUTCHERLESS BUTCHER SHOP

DINNER TABLES, OLD AND MODERN

This ultra-modern table looks simple, but it is something of an international achievement. The plates of white and gold come from France, the glassware of crystal and gold from Czecho-Slovakia, the candelabra from Germany, and the pottery figures and basket in the center from Italy.

A glimpse of grandma's dinner table at the dessert course. In the center of her white damask cloth stood a silver and crystal cruet, flanked by pendant crystal candelabra. China was white, with a conservative gold band, and glassware was heavy, ornately cut crystal.

ACCESSORIES FOR TABLE ON DISPLAY; NEWER AND NICER

Prices and Quality Are Irresistible.

The month of January rolls right into the housewife's outstretched arms. It brings the answer to the anguished prayers she has uttered through the year as she surveyed the wear and tear on her linens, her china, and her household furnishings in general.

It is the month when prices are cut and cut in nearly every store and when all the lovely things these stores offer are placed within her financial reach. She can replenish her stock or she can go on a good buying spree for things she has wanted but couldn't afford.

If she has yearned for newer and nicer table accessories, this is the month when hubby finds a long list of items on the family charge account. The Christmas buying will be a mild flurry in comparison. The newer and nicer accessories are on display in all their splendor, and prices and quality are irresistible.

Simplicity Modern Keynote.

Simplicity is the keynote of modern beauty in all its phases and particularly in the field of table decorations and necessities. But it is a most deceptive simplicity, the kind that can be achieved only by complexity. For example, consider this ultra-modern table displayed in a Chicago store. It is covered with a rayon cloth, ivory tinted, with a wide satin band at the edges, which comes from Czecho-Slovakia. The plates are creamy white, with a narrow gold band and a modernistic pattern in gold in the center. Designed by Jean Luce, they come from France.

Beside each plate is a row of glasses, from Czecho-Slovakia, of crystal with a modernistic deer motif exquisitely etched in gold. In the center of the table is a set of Italian pottery, a basket of white and gold, with two amusing, modern figures on either side. At each end are handsome candelabra—gay figures in white and gold supporting three tall tapers. These, designed by Rosenthal, are Germany's contribution.

Contrast Half a Century Ago.

In amusing and interesting contrast to this was one representing the smart dinner table of half a century ago. Queen Vic was on the throne and simplicity was unknown. Things were quite complicated.

In those days good, substantial white damask was the height of elegance. All over the cloth nymphs and gnomes and cupids cavorted in Victorian profusion.

As a long and hearty dinner drew to its close, fresh fruit was brought in as a final contribution. In the center of the table was the cruet, tall bottles, short bottles, all of crystal, with silver stoppers. On either side of it stood a tall candleholder of heavy crystal, with the omnipresent pendants.

Heavy, Ornately Cut Glassware.

China was so chaste. Pure white, with a demure gold band, it was by no means interesting. Glassware, on the best tables, was inevitably heavy, ornately cut crystal. The general ensemble was topped off by two tallish compotes for nuts and fruits. All in all the table, to modern eyes, didn't look beautiful. Nourishing and substantial, and eminently respectable, but not beautiful.

But after all the Victorians didn't have a chance. In those dull days colored damasks virtually were unknown, artistic expression in china and glass didn't take the enchanting shapes it does now and the beauty offerings of the world, such as we find in our shops, were half a century out of their reach.

Soup! Down Through Ages It Adorns Tables of Kings and Peasants Alike

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Soup is the "humoresque" of all the music one might evolve out of meal time inspirations. More often burlesqued than any other composition of mind or menu—and what could more affront the ears than a soup spoon solo, even in a minor key?—it still retains in the gastronomic field comparatively as many elements of intrinsic worth as Dvorak's poignant melody in the realm of sound.

Who knows but what, closely guarded in the portfolio of some successful composer, there is concealed from unsympathetic eyes a "Soup Sonata" the souvenir of days when the great man was younger and hungrier? And why not?

Good Things Yet to Come.

In its most aristocratic phase, soup long has adorned the tables of king and noble as a graceful introduction to good things yet to come. In more rugged company and utilitarian guise, it has been handed out to men in bread lines as the making of an entire meal. More than any other single article of diet, it is capable of filling that rôle, and that almost indefinitely. An adaptable, versatile, satisfying food—soup!

Carelessly and quickly tossed together with whatever ingredients are at hand, soup will satisfy hunger, renew strength, maintain life. Deftly and painstakingly concocted from choicest viands, it can accomplish little more, except perhaps to entrance the eye and stimulate the appetite. Sometimes it is thick and substantial, flecked with particles of vegetables or meat. Sometimes foaming creamily in the bowl, with a dash of paprika to insure a piquant flavor. Yet again, a clear amber liquid in which float thread thin noodles, hot and piping in a consommé cup. Or jellied, a clear, quivering mass, topped by a wedge of lemon from which to borrow that tart, finishing touch.

All nations and times have known soup in one form or another. Children make its acquaintance in their earliest years. Doctors prescribe it as the initial article on the list for a large proportion of their patients, since it provides nourishment without unduly exercising the digestive processes of temperamental tummies. And naturally, ladies on diets to preserve that svelte appearance make the most of it as a good thing.

Three Classes of Soups.

Generally speaking, there are three classes of soups. Those made with a meat stock basis; cream soups, which have a milk foundation, and fruit soups, which are less familiar in this country than they are abroad. The latter consist of fruit juices, slightly thickened, which may be served either hot or cold. They are highly recommended for their nutritive qualities, as indeed are practically all soups except consommé usually a thin meat stock served more in the nature of an appetizer before a heavy meal.

The clear meat stock, seasoned with spices or vegetables, is known either as bouillon or consommé, but technically, bouillon is made from only one kind of meat, and consommé from several.

Of the cream soups, there are such subdivisions as bisques and chowders. A bisque is a fish soup made with milk. Chowder is a nourishing soup containing diced vegetables and often fish or other seafood. Although it really is classified with the cream soups, there are those who will insist that oyster stew is in a class quite by itself. With good reason. Few more noble dishes ever tempted a fasting-human, especially when flanked by a couple of stalks of young and tender celery and a few crisp soda crackers.

Try This Simple Recipe.

OYSTER STEW.

1 pint oysters. 1 quart milk.
4 tablespoons butter. Salt, pepper.

Look over the oysters carefully, removing any bits of shell. Place in a saucepan with the butter and cook gently until the edges of the oysters begin to curl. Add to the scalded milk and serve. (6 portions.)

Additional recipes you may want to clip and paste in the cookbook for handy reference include some old stand-bys and a couple of novelties. Here they are:

NEW ENGLAND CLAM CHOWDER.

¼ pound salt pork. 1 pint clams.
2 medium sized onions. 1 quart milk.
4 cups diced potatoes. Salt, pepper.
2 cups water.

Cube the salt pork and cook until crisp. Add the onions, chopped or sliced, and cook till slightly browned. Put in a kettle and add potatoes, water, and liquor from the clams. Cover and boil twenty minutes, or until potatoes are done, stirring often. Cut off the hard part of the clams and chop. Open stomachs and remove dark portion. Add the clams and milk, previously scalded, to the chowder and cook for twenty minutes. Season with salt and pepper. (12 portions.)

JELLIED CONSOMME.

2 tablespoons gelatin. 1 quart bouillon or
¼ cup cold water. consommé.

Soften the gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot bouillon or consommé. Pour into bouillon cups and chill, or let stand in a shallow pan until firm, then cut in cubes or beat with a fork before serving. (6 portions.)

PHILADELPHIA PEPPERPOT.

4 tablespoons butter.
½ cup chopped onion.
3 tablespoons flour.
6 peppercorns.
2 bay leaves.
3 cloves.
7 cups white stock.
1 tablespoon chopped parsley.
2 tablespoons chopped pimento.
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
¼ teaspoon pepper.
1½ teaspoons salt.
½ cup diced celery.
2 cups diced potato.
1 cup diced carrots.

Cut tripe in small pieces. Heat in frying pan, add onion, and cook until golden brown. Add flour and blend thoroughly. Add tripe, stock, and the peppercorns, bay leaves, and cloves tied in cheesecloth. Cook one-half hour. Add remaining ingredients and simmer for an hour. Remove bag of seasoning and serve. IN ANCIENT TIMES EPICURES RAISED SNAILS FOR FOOD

It's the Aristocrat of the Oyster Family.

BY BETTY BROWNING.

Hail to the lowly snail! Those who have known this gastropod only as the sluggish inhabitant of garden or goldfish bowl have missed a gastronomic delicacy celebrated by almost every epicure since the time of Lucullus and Petronius.

Pliny mentions that the ancients reared snails for food in the environs of Rome as early as 50 B. C., feeding them on a diet of meal and boiled wine. In the middle ages snails provided a highly prized variant to the fish menus on Fridays and during Lent.

Aristocrat of Mollusk Tribe.

Today the aristocrat of the mollusk tribe, who numbers oysters and clams among his cousins, like other aristocrats has adapted himself to democratic ways. In a sense, he has become the hot dog of France. Snails may be found at food stands on almost every French railroad station platform, and peddlers cry them through the streets.

But the snail still has his temples where the cult of good, even great eating is kept alive. Most famous of these, the Escargot, proudly flaunts the name "snail" to tempt the gourmets of Paris to the medieval rue Montorgueil where the restaurant has stood for generations.

Here stockbrokers from the bourse, indistinguishable from senators and diplomats in their morning coats and wing collars, devote the two hour luncheon period to a leisurely repast in which broiled snails on a silver platter, washed down with Chateau Yquem, bridge the gap between hors d'oeuvers and "ros bif." Tourists inevitably gravitate to this restaurant, but for once they are less important than the connoisseurs who form the daily clientele.

In all the Latin countries, and, to a lesser extent, in southern Germany and Denmark, snails are firmly entrenched as an article of diet. In this country, except in circles where foreign culinary traditions have been preserved, the snail is not understood or appreciated. In fact, were current American opinion to be sounded, the consensus probably would be that snails are horrid little creatures, best left alone where eating is concerned. Some of the menus presented herewith should serve to dissipate this prejudice.

Can Be Bought in Cans.

Snails canned or packed in jelly in glasses are obtainable in grocery stores in this city. For snails in this form the six hours of cooking prescribed by the best French traditions are spared the cook, who has merely to heat the snails as her recipe requires.

Snails a la Bourguignonne, as recommended by Charles Ranhofer, former chef of Delmonico's, in his cook book, are cooked as follows: FIN the snail shells with meats and clear gravy, plug the openings with butter, mixed with salt, pepper, chopped parsley, chives, lemon juice and a few breadcrumbs, cook a few minutes and serve very hot.

Miss June Cartier, who lives at 42d and Rockwell streets, has contributed the following snail salad:

Chop snail meats up fine, mix with chopped celery, olive, red peppers and parsley, and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing.

Another recipe, similar to Mr. Ranhofer's, calls for a paste of butter mixed with chopped parsley, onions, garlic, thyme, salt, black and red pepper. The snail meats are placed in the shells with the butter and breadcrumbs, and the whole is cooked until the butter boils.

CHICAGO'S DAILY BREAD GROWING A BIT CHEAPER

Chicago is one of four large American cities in which bread can be purchased for less than the average price of one or two years ago, according to a survey, which shows that other cities enjoying this privilege are New York, Pittsburgh, and Denver. Washington, Atlanta, New Orleans, St. Paul, and Portland, Ore., are paying the old price.

According to Senator Arthur Capper [Rep., Kas.], this condition is the basis for an inquiry into bread prices, as wheat is now about 70 cents per bushel, while a year ago it was above $1.25.

From Canada comes another report of an investigation that has reduced the price of bread by about 20 per cent, or a little more than two cents a loaf on the average over the whole country. The price of flour, however, has not been reduced although the investigators operating with the Canadian department of labor express the opinion that the next step must come from the milling companies.

Skeletons Tell Another Story of Revolution

[Copyright: 1931: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The skeletons of soldiers recently found at Williamsburg, Va., during excavations financed by John D. Rockefeller Jr. appear to have been identified here as those of a French captain and soldiers who were killed or died in a hospital in 1781 and 1782 while they were helping the American colonists fight the British.

The latter discovery was made by Warrington Dawson, a special attaché at the American embassy. He is in charge of the researches being made by France to assist in the reconstruction of Williamsburg, founded in 1632, long the seat of a royal governor and later the first state capital of Virginia.

Mr. Dawson was charged with the researches following the discovery of the skeletons of soldiers during the Williamsburg excavations. The theory that these soldiers belonged to the forces of Gen. Rochambeau and Marquis de La Fayette, who used Williamsburg as a base, now appears to have been confirmed by Mr. Dawson's discovery of records in the archives of the ministry of war. The number of dead found in the records total 45.

Most of the enlistments were signed between 1777 and 1780, but a few were veterans of twenty years' service, one being Louis Huguet, born in Paris in 1747. He apparently was engaged as a drummer boy at the age of 7, and died at Williamsburg on Dec. 14, 1781.

The only officer, Capt. Jean Marie Jarian Desireuil, a native of Perigord, born in 1742, was wounded at Yorktown and died of wounds in the Williamsburg hospital on Dec. 20, 1781.

Of the dead soldiers, the archives revealed that 18 came from the old province of Bourbonnais, now the departments of Allier and Cher in central France; four came from the neighborhood of the town of Soissons, one from old Gatinais, now the departments of the Seine and Marne, Loire, Nievre and Yonne; 16 from Touraine, now the department of Indre et Loire, with Tours as the capital; three from Auxonne, Cote d'Or, 17 miles from Dijon, known to many of the A. E. F., and three from Saintonge, now the department of the Lower Charente.

Williamsburg is on the York river, and the hospital was there when in 1781 the forces of Washington and the French besieged Lord Cornwallis in Yorktown, into which the Marquis de La Fayette had been instrumental in maneuvering that British general, who surrendered in October of that year.

Actress' Memorial Window Arrives for Church of St. Stephen

The famous Lotta Crabtree memorial window which precipitated a controversy when it was rejected by the Episcopal church in New York because its donor was an actress, was received yesterday by St. Stephen's Episcopal church here. The window was dedicated by the actress in memory of her mother.

The Rev. Irwin St. John Tucker, pastor of St. Stephen's, accepted the window from Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, administrator of the Crabtree estate. The window will be dedicated on Feb. 1 by Bishop George Craig Stewart.

In accepting the window Dr. Tucker declared because Lotta Crabtree was an actress was no reason to reject her memorial of love to her mother.

Earl Beauchamp Lauds U. S. Idealism in New Year Talk

New York, Jan. 8.—[Special.]—France has given the world liberty, England has given it representative government, and the United States, with its idealism, will bring new standards for the progress of the world, so declared Earl William Lyon Beauchamp, leader of the Liberal party in the house of lords and chancellor of London university. He spoke tonight at a dinner given in his honor by the Pilgrim Society of the United States at the Hotel Plaza.

"I have admired the external proofs of the energy and adaptability of your citizens, I have admired your cities and your magnificent buildings," he continued, "but I admire still more the spirit which lies underneath, and which, I believe, is the best hope for Anglo-American relations."

"Colors Affect Life," Idea of Exhibition to Start on Jan. 20

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The "age of colors" is approaching, says Prof. Charles R. Richards of the Museum of Science and Industry of New York. Color in cooking, color in reading, color in travel and business, and color invisible and "unphotographable."

The expert believes color has such an important effect on life itself that the museum has arranged an exhibition beginning Jan. 20—"the first comprehensive effort yet made," the announcement says, "to show the recent uses of color in almost all the objects of contemporary civilization and to indicate its future possibilities."

OLD AGE PENSIONS WILL BE SOUGHT FOR ILLINOISANS

Heads of various social service agencies in Chicago met last night in the City club to prepare plans for a campaign to get old age pension legislation at the present session of the Illinois legislature. Miss Jane Addams, who is head of the Illinois committee on old age security, presided. Abraham Epstein of New York, secretary of the National Association for Old Age Security, was the principal speaker.

Provision for old age pensions has been made by every industrial country in the world except the United States, Mr. Epstein stated. Here, he said, little has been done to save aged persons from the "terror of the poorhouse." Lately, however, the wisdom of old age pensions has been impressed upon the various state legislatures, he said, naming the following states which have made such provisions recently: California, Montana, Utah, Minnesota, New York, and Massachusetts. Delaware, New Jersey, and Michigan have given assurance that such legislation will be passed this year, he said.

Prof. Arthur Todd, head of the sociology department at Northwestern university, pointed out that the success of the efforts to prolong life have brought the new problem of what to do with the life that has thus been conserved. He recommended the old age pension as a valuable aid in that direction.

Conference Writes Modern Child's Bill of Rights

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

A Mothers' and Fathers' Litany for the New Year, signed by Mrs. Bevans, will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Today we give the concluding three of the twenty points with which the White House conference on child health and protection summed up the rights of every American child. After the 17th comes:

18. Where the child does not have these services, due to inadequate income of the family, then such services must be provided for him by the community. Obviously, the primary necessity in protection and development of children where poverty is an element in the problem is an adequate standard of living and security for the family within such groups.

19. The rural child should have as satisfactory schooling, health protection and welfare facilities as the city child.

20. In order that these minimum protections of the health and welfare of children may be everywhere available, there should be a district, county or community organization for health education and welfare, with full time officials, coödinating with a state-wide program which will be responsive to a nation-wide service of general information, statistics, and scientific research. This should include:

(a) Trained full time public health officials with public health nurses, sanitary inspection and laboratory workers.

(b) Available hospital beds.

(c) Full time public welfare services for the relief and aid of children in special need from poverty or misfortune, for the protection of children from abuse, neglect, exploitation, or moral hazard.

(d) The development of voluntary organizations for children for purposes of instruction, health and recreation through private effort and benefaction. When possible, existing agencies should be coödinated.

It is the goal of the members of the conference that America shall supply each of these services for her children.

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

"Give the trees a chance," asks Dr. E. Porter Felt, editor of the Journal of Entomology, on the basis that the leaves and blossoms of next summer are already formed in the buds and that because 1930 was extremely dry and temperatures above normal in critical periods the physical stamina of trees has been lowered.

The formation of buds begins early in the season preceding their development. As early as the end of April or in May of last year the buds were formed that will be opening with the coming of spring this year. More than this, the reserve food upon which the rudimentary buds and leaves depend for growth in the spring is stored in the bark and wood the season preceding the appearance of the leaves.

"It is a practical point that the weather conditions of 1930 controlled to a large extent the development of foliage we expect in 1931. The drought presumably reduced the vigor of many trees and we may reasonably expect less satisfactory growth in many trees next summer," warns Mr. Felt.

He does offer two points on which tree owners may improve these conditions within the next few months. One concerns the natural hosts of insects that feed upon these first buds and leaves. He suggests that very early spraying efficiently will control the canker worms, leaf rollers, satin moth caterpillars, bud moth caterpillars, and the common tent caterpillars.

As soon as a little green is evident and long before much of the foliage has pushed out of the buds is the time he recommends. In addition he stresses a great benefit that can be derived from judicious feeding of the tree roots. Surface applications, it is said, generally are not advised because they do not reach the root feeding areas.

By Royal Command

BY DORNFORD YATES

SYNOPSIS.

Richard Chandos and his wife, Leonie, former grand duchess of Riechtenburg, are visiting at their estate near Littal, in Austria, by George Hanbury, companion of Chandos in many adventures. Marya Salm, countess of Dresdrn, an expected guest, wires that she has not come.

Prince Paul, ruler of Riechtenburg, had hoped to marry Leonie and swore revenge. Fearing for Marya's safety because of her friendship for Leonie, Chandos and Hanbury, with their servants, Bell and Rowley, go secretly to Vigil, capital city of Riechtenburg, where Marya resides. A peasant named Ramon, whom they befriended, leads them through a secret border passage.

Marya tells them that she sent no message. Realizing the telegram was a ruse to get them to Vigil, they are preparing to flee with Marya when the prince appears. They escape and reach the border, but find it is so closely guarded that crossing is impossible. Help is sought and he hides Marya and Carol, her trusted servant, in his house, while Chandos and Rowley join a traveling circus. Marya sends Carol to take them to safety across the border, in a car which they recognize as Grieg's, the chief of police. Delayed at the inn in Bariche, they receive a message from Marya stating that she is to be pardoned but she must remain in Riechtenburg and not communicate with them.

Knowing that Marya, endeavoring to save them, has made some impossible arrangement with Grieg, they return to the border. Hanbury and Rowley pass, but Chandos is arrested. He proves to the inspector that Grieg has betrayed his trust. Grieg arrives and leaves with the prisoner for Vigil. Hanbury and Rowley, knowing their friend's plight, hold up and capture the chief's car. They drive to the estate of Baron Sabre, where they find Marya. Grieg they left, tied to a post along the roadside.

Marya tells them that she was married that morning to Grieg—her price for their freedom. Hanbury, who is in love with Marya, is stunned at this news. Chandos sets out to find Grieg and kill him to free Marya, but Grieg has escaped. Chandos returns to Baron Sabre's and overhears the prince, who has arrived, arguing with Grieg. Grieg suggests when he tells the prince he has a trap set to catch his prey that evening at the secret border pass, as well as Leonie, who is to meet them there. The prince departs. Chandos narrowly misses a bullet fired by Grieg. He intercepts a telegram to Grieg from Lelia—one of many which Lelia, a young peasant girl, has delivered. Lelia leads Chandos to a mill where his friends are hiding. He finds Hanbury sleeping. Marya persuades Chandos not to kill Grieg, and while he is bathing in the mill pond Marya disappears. Chandos sends George and Rowley to follow Marya, and he leaves for the border with Lelia, who has fallen in love with Chandos, at the risk of her life, finds him and tells him that Leonie has entered the country an hour before. Grieg traps them and fires at Chandos, but Lelia throws herself in front of him and receives the bullet. Grieg flees with Chandos in pursuit. He is trapped at the brink of a gorge and forced to fall to his death below. Chandos then returns to the police and surrenders, and in their company sets out to return the body of Lelia to her home. En route they are seen by the village coroner, who demands the girl's body for inquest. He hears Chandas' story and promises to see that he is brought back the next day to testify. The villagers, friendly to the grand duchess, promise their aid, if needed. In the prison at Vigil, Chandos escapes Prince Paul, who visits his cell.

INSTALLMENT XLI.

THE POWER OF THE DOG.

All the time I was carrying Lelia—first to the car, and then to Vardar and then up the stairs of the inn, Leonie's peril made a distracting background to all my thoughts, and my feeble attempts to arouse suspicion in Vardar were made in the desperation of a man who sees his world slipping in the moment when he himself is beaten down to his knees.

Indeed, not until I had slept, was I able to focus the matter as it deserved. At once three things became clear.

The first was that Leonie had entered Riechtenburg as the direct result of what she had learned from Bell. Of this there could be no doubt. She had simply come because of the danger in which she saw that I stood.

The second was that whatever were Grieg's instructions concerning my wife, the prince would have held him guiltless if she had been killed. I put it no higher than that. Grieg certainly fired upon me, but my arm was about the maid he mistook for my wife, and Leonie might have done as Lelia did.

The third was that if Leonie had been taken, no kind of pressure from Vardar would bring her to the Coroner's court. It was conceivable that, if the coroner insisted, they might have to let me go. The man was strict and knew that I was in Vigil. But when he demanded Leonie, they would laugh in his face. "Go and fetch her from Littal," they would say.

Following these conclusions, the beastly explosion of spite which I had touched off quickened my apprehension into a fever of fear, for though Prince had said nothing to show me that Leonie lay in his power, I did not like the sound of his laughter and found an ominous confidence in his tone.

Still, there was nothing to be done. I was as cut off and helpless as any caged beast, and all my hope was in Vardar and the coroner's shrewd, gray eyes and the hearts of the husbandmen.

. . . . . .

Except that some food was brought me soon after midday, I was not visited again until 3 o'clock. At that hour three jailers came and took me along the passage and up a winding stair.

The room we presently entered might have been called a court.

It was divided in two by a plain oak screen, between four and five feet high. Beyond the screen, the floor was considerably higher. My side was bare, except for a bench in the midst and two stools against the wall, but the other was furnished with a table and four or five massive chairs of leather and oak. All around the chamber were curtains of dark green cloth, so that if there were doors or alcoves, they could not be seen, and, high above the curtains, a row of windows was casting a somber light. At either end of the table, was seated a clerk and behind the table were sitting two keen faced men whom I took at once for examining magistrates. The one was older than the other and sat very stiff, his face was bloodless and might have been a wax mask. His fellow was almost lolling, with his elbow on an arm of his chair and his chin in his hand. For all his faint smile, I liked him the least of the two. They wore no robes, but were soberly dressed in black.

At a sign from the sergeant jailer I took my seat upon the bench. The elder of the lawyers leaned forward.

"By our advice, one charge only has been preferred against you. I think you will allow that it is sufficiently grave. It is that of maltreating the person of his Royal Highness Prince Paul of Riechtenburg. This you are said to have done in the garden of a house in the Lessing Strasse six days ago."

He paused there, as though expecting a reply; but, if I said nothing, I was busy with my thoughts.

"By our advice . . . "

The advice was precisely that which a wise man of law would give. My stealthy entry into Riechtenburg, my theft of the prince's car, my conspiracy with George and the countess—all these had been rejected in favor of that offense which no motive could palliate, the penalty for which was most dire. If I denied it, the prince would be called against me, and what court on earth could be blamed for preferring his word to mine? Unless I betrayed my friends, I could call no witnesses, and if I sought to refer to anything other than what had occurred in that garden I should be instantly and rightly stopped. My trial was to be in order. The proceedings would bear investigation by the most captious of eyes. Yet my conviction was as certain as the midwinter snow upon the hills.

"Do you plead 'guilty,' or no?"

"By what authority," said I, "do you question me?"

The man flushed under my tongue, and his fellow looked up.

"You are a stranger," he said, "and you do not know the law. An offense against the person of the sovereign is dealt with in camera by a specially constituted court. Be sure that you will have justice."

"I see," said I. "Am I before this—this specially constituted court?"

"Yes," said the other. "You are."

"I see," said I. "Very well. I plead 'Not guilty'."

The words were scarce out of my mouth when the curtains on the left were parted, and the prince, who had been standing in a doorway, stepped to the table and flung himself into a chair.

His appearance was so abrupt as to give my judges no time to get to their feet, and they were plainly put out—as much, I imagine, by the blunt disclosure of the truth that the prince had been eavesdropping as by his disregard of the court and its dignity. But that was their master's way. The land was a law unto himself and strained to breaking point that fine tradition that "the king can do no wrong." But for his high estate, I can think of no company from which he would not have met with the shortest of shrifts, but as things were, his insolence had to be suffered, and few beside Hanby—the lord president of the council and a man of exceptional address—would dare to correct his behavior and save the appearances which he was throwing away.

As the two were making their bows—

"Get on," said his royal highness.

With what dignity they could summon, the prince was sworn. Then the elder requested his monarch to give his account of what happened "in the Countess of Dresden's garden six days ago."

The prince unfolded a paper and read aloud.

"My dog disappeared in the bushes, and I followed the animal in. Chandos stepped from behind a tree and told me to call the dog to heel. He had a pistol in his hand which he was pointing at me. I heard a noise behind me. When I turned I saw the man called 'Hanbury,' pistol in hand. I knocked him down. Chandos put his pistol to my throat. He spoke to Hanbury. 'We must get out,' he said. Then he spoke to me. 'Will you tell your chauffeurs to drive me to Elsa?' he said. I told him to go to hell. At that, he said to Hanbury, 'We must get rid of his chauffeurs and take his car.' After some discussion the two of them seized me and started to drag me away. I broke free and swung myself into a tree. I expected them to fire, and I think they were afraid of the noise. I found another man in the tree and forced him down. Then I started to shout, and my chauffeurs appeared upon the scene."

He folded the paper and stuffed it into his coat. Then he sat back in his chair and fell to biting his nails.

GASOLINE ALLEY—AND STILL THEY COME

German Picture Wins Praise for Director, Too.

[PART TALKER.]

Produced by All-Art Picture company. Directed by Reinhold Schumzold. Presented at the Orpheum theater.

THE CAST.

The Prize Fighter.....Max Schmeling
His Sweetheart .....Renata Muller
Vampire .....Olga Checkova
Fight Promoter.....Cort Gerron
[And others.]

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

I hand this picture three stars BECAUSE:

From start to finish the story is believable:

The acting is all splendid, from the portrayal of major rôles down to the smallest bit of characterization by the most unimportant "extra."

Under practically perfect direction individuals conduct themselves with complete naturalness, situations develop logically, and costumes, sets, photography, and "atmospheres" are what they should be.

This all-German production without the aid of English subtitle or spoken word [there are several sentences in English at the very last] is perfectly understandable throughout to the average observer.

Of the cunning with which the piece slips from straight pantomime into sound and the effectiveness—and infrequency—of the sound.

I entered the Orpheum theater expecting [because of the dumb title!] to be bored to tears and found my interest immediately intrigued and then held engrossed through the duration of the picture.

I offer no opinion of Max Schmeling as a fighter, but if the ring doesn't want him the movies probably will. He's a boyish looking young fellow who resembles Jack Dempsey in appearance. His manner is much like the former champion's—simple, friendly, unselfconscious.

"Love in the Ring" isn't, of course, the world's greatest picture, but it is a "different" program production for the reasons above outlined.

See you tomorrow.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Tito Schipa is back with the Chicago Civic Opera company, and rejoicing ran high last night. The famous tenor made his first appearance of the season as Don Ottavio in Mozart's "Don Giovanni," a part which calls upon him to wear some attractive costumes, take part in a number of concerted pieces, and sing two of as lovely solos as Mozart or any other composer ever penned.

It was in the last item of this cumulative duty when patrons grew rapturous. Well they might. Two bits of high musical enchantment sung in a voice of pure gold ought to be enough to start excitement at any time, and "Dalla sua pace" and 'Il mio tesoro" lived up to all advance hopes and reckonings. It was not alone Mr. Schipa's lovely voice, but his poise, his mannerly demeanor, his artistic understanding. These gave him his position. At that, it was not a single position, for with his exception the cast was the same that delighted another audience only a short time ago.

One puzzles for a time for the best adjective to apply to the singing of Mario Chamlee, and then ends with cosmopolitan. He has accumulated most of the good musical qualities of the civilized musical world.

Although for a number of summers back he has been rightly rated as one of the best reasons for going to Ravinia, itself a beehive of brilliant talent, he gave his first Chicago song recital at the Blackstone yesterday morning. There he demonstrated, even more than in his operatic performances, how far he has advanced into the musical art of the world.

He is American by birth and by nature the possessor of one of the fine tenor voices of the world. In this voice there is much of the ringing, vital quality that one associates with Italy, a good part of the solid thoroughness of Germany, and more than a little of the restraint, the grace, the firm common sense of France. All this in one voice, but you can confirm it by hearing him sing.

The Chicago Mendelssohn club waited until another year was on the calendar and gave its first concert of the season last night at Orchestra hall under the direction of Calvin Lampert. It was a program of sturdy, well trained masculine singing, beginning with sacred numbers by Bach, Vittoria, and Handel, continuing with part songs from French and American composers, gave numbers, light hearted numbers, dramatic numbers, and lightened here and there by a bit of nonsense. This singing was varied by the pleasant solo appearances of Miss Dorothy Bowen, soprano, who sang two groups of songs and also appeared with the chorus in Stevenson's "Omnipotence."

ENGAGED

MISS LOUISE O. LOWRY.
[Teloff Photo.]

Mrs. W. J. Lowry of Evanston has announced the engagement of her daughter, Louise Osborn Lowry, to Ralph H. Wheeler, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Wheeler of 446 Oakdale avenue. Miss Lowry attended the University of Nebraska and Northwestern and is a member of Pi Beta Phi.

Civic Music Sessions Opening with 400; More Expected Today

More than 400 men and women from throughout the country attended yesterday's opening sessions of the eighth annual conference of Civic Music associations, organized by the Civic Concert service, in the Palmer house. More than 1,000 delegates are expected to attend today. The conference closes Saturday. They will attend a gala performance of the Chicago Civic Opera company tonight, when acts from four operas will be presented. An annual luncheon will be given in the grand ballroom of the Palmer house at noon Saturday. A tea was held yesterday afternoon in the Bal Tabarin of the Sherman hotel.

Seeks Clothing So She Can Hunt for Job

Husband Less Ragged, Wife Strives to Help.

Three times Mr. M., a middle aged man, has walked to the loop from Elmwood seeking employment for himself and wife. The first time he registered at the Illinois Free Employment service, at 116 North Dearborn street, only a fragment remained of the soles of his shoes. The uppers were tied together with string. He wore overalls and a borrowed overcoat.

That agency coöperates with Sally Joy Brown of THE TRIBUNE. He presented a card from the Presbyterian hospital, it was said at the agency, which stated that he was unable to work. He was ill, but he could do some mild form of work, he said, and his wife could do housework. She could not walk with him to the agency as she had no shoes and no coat.

Women officials of the agency interested themselves in Mr. M. and were able to get him a warm overcoat, shoes, and hat from a Mrs. E. M., who lives on Estes avenue, a friend of one of the employés. She also gave him car fare home.

A job for an elevator man came in to the agency on Mr. M.'s second trip by foot to the loop. He learned he could obtain the job, which was for the duration of a week, if he had a suit of clothes. Mrs. E. M. was informed and her husband contributed a suit and $5. At Christmas time she received a penny postal from him.

Yesterday the agency again heard from Mr. M. The temporary job was over; he again is looking for work for himself and his wife.

The needed clothes have not been found for the wife as yet. She wears a size 5½ and 6½ shoes and Sally Joy Brown is searching for clothes to fit her and a job she can fill.

John Keane, director of the agency, to which Sally Joy Brown of THE TRIBUNE turns over all offers for jobs which are called in or sent to her, told the story yesterday of F. L., a man about 30 years old.

"He has two young children," Mr. Keane said. "His wife got so tired of hearing the same story when he came home night after night, 'No work,' that she became hysterical. She took the matter into court and charged him with nonsupport. The judge said he would give the fellow another chance.

"He came to me and begged me to try to get him a job. The company he had been with had gone out of business. He would do anything, he said. Of course, he showed the earmarks of being hard up, but he was a neat, respectable looking young man. I would like to find him a permanent job but so far have made no headway."

Two women yesterday offered aid to Miss C., the former office worker who supported her 72 year old mother until she lost her job and who finally resorted to tearing down her tool shed for fire wood. Her story was printed in yesterday's TRIBUNE. One woman said she would send her coal, another called at the agency and left $2 to be sent to her. Neither would leave her name. Miss C. still is without a job, however.

Praised in Concert.

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Lily Pons, French soprano whose two appearances at the Metropolitan Opera house have won ovations for her, sang her first concert in the United States this morning before a fashionable and critical audience at the Plaza hotel. She was encored after both of the two numbers she sang. Albert Spalding, violinist, appeared with her.

SEEING AMERICA NOW LARGELY QUESTION OF BILLBOARDS' NUMBERS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—There was a time when Secretary Wilbur was an ardent admirer of billboards, particularly the gaudy displays announcing a circus.

But now he would rather see a little more of what lies behind the advertising that lines the roads and railways.

So he told a gathering of representatives from a score of social and civic organizations today. They were called together by the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the Outdoor Advertising Association of America to consider billboarding.

"This meeting is most important," he said, "because if all these forces get together it will make a more beautiful America visible to travelers."

THE STAGE

FRITZ LEIBER and his Chicago Civic Shakespeareans have done well enough in New York to cause the engagement to be extended a week beyond the fortnight which was their original hope. They will continue to present their repertory at the Ambassador theater until Saturday, Jan. 17. "Twelfth Night," withheld as a gesture of courtesy to Jane Cowl, will be given its first performance next Wednesday afternoon, with Mary Hone as Viola. Miss Cowl ended her "Twelfth Night" sessions a week ago.

"As You Desire Me" will be sent directly to New York when it ends its engagement at the Harris theater. A Broadway premiere of this drama by Pirandello has been bulletined for Tuesday night, Jan. 27. Ethel Barrymore in "Scarlet Sister Mary" [black face, debutante daughter and New York cast included] will be the following Dramatic league attraction at the Harris, opening Monday, Jan. 26.

"Meet My Sister," the latest musical show to be staged by the Shuberts, is said to be a hit in New York. Natalie Hall, formerly the second sister in "Three Little Girls," at the Great Northern, has the heroine's rôle. The company also includes Walter Slezak, a recent importation from Germany; Harry Welsh, easily remembered here as the comic jailer in "A Wonderful Night"; Olive Olson, who was the comedienne in the Chicago company of "Follow Through," and George Grossmith. "Meet My Sister" is not a typical large-scale operetta. It contains no choristers, and therefore is labeled an "intimate musical comedy." Arrangements for a London production, probably with Jack Buchanan of the "Charlot Revues" in the cast, were recently completed.

The New York company of "Lysistrata" will end its run tomorrow night. It has given 252 performances, which is said to be a world's record for a classic revival. The Chicago company, which contains several members of the original New York cast, will continue its engagement at the Majestic theater indefinitely. In the spring it may start on a tour to the Pacific coast.

Next Monday night, at the Martin Beck theater, New York, the Theater Guild will pay its first homage to Shakespeare with the production of "Much Ado About Nothing." Here is the way this classic comedy has been cast: Alfred Lunt as Benedick, Lynn Fontanne as Beatrice, Ernest Cossart as Dogberry, Charles Brokaw as Claudio, Moffat Johnston as Leonate, Edward Crandall as Don Pedro, Joanna Roos as Hero, Edward Fielding as Antonio, Morris Carnovsky as Don John, Royal Beal as Friar Francis, Maurice Wells as Conrade, Curtis Arnall as Borracchio, Dorothy Patten as Margaret, Anna Konstant as Ursula, Fred Monti as Verges, and Philip Foster as the messenger.

Arthur Hammerstein's latest musical show, "Ballyhoo," with W. C. Fields as star, ended its career under his management last Saturday night in New York. Efforts are being made to give the entertainment a fresh start on a "commonwealth" basis—which means that the players will draw salaries on a pro rata basis out of the week's profits, if there are any profits. Mr. Hammerstein has solemnly foresworn the staging of expensive musical shows for a term of two years. He says that his last eight productions, including the popular "Sweet Adeline," have cost him $1,350,000.

The Jack and Jill Players will stage a young people's version of Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors," tomorrow afternoon in the Chicago Woman's club theater. The performance will be repeated Jan. 17, 24 and 31. C. C.

Baby Bison Is Popular.

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Jan. 8.—(AP)—The first American bison born in New Zealand is attracting large crowds to the zoölogical gardens here. The shaggy little creature receives more attention than all the other animals together. If it lives, efforts will be made to breed more.

Good Fellows Predict Better Days in March

Concentrate Efforts on Winter Months.

The Good Fellow department is budgeting its expenditures on family relief so that the fund will be exhausted by March 1. This gives a maximum of charity during the months when it is most needed—January and February. By March, it is expected that the employment situation will have improved sufficiently to enable the regular charity agencies to care for the needy.

Good Fellow J. H. C., in a letter yesterday accompanying a $100 contribution, pointed a way for Good Fellows likewise to concentrate their giving during these winter months when the need is most urgent.

"In November," wrote Mr. J. H. C., "I enlisted as a Good Fellow, pledging $25 a month for six months. This would run my payments into April. However, I'm inclosing a check for $100 which I wish you would consider as completely fulfilling my pledge.

"I want all of my money to get to the destitute during January and February. With press reports from all parts of the country telling about thousands of men being put to work, I don't think the business depression, with its epidemic of poverty, is going to be with us much longer.

"I can't afford in ordinary times to donate to charity. I can afford to do so during an emergency, like the present. But this emergency is not going to be with us much longer. Get my money in circulation among the poor as soon as possible."

There are plenty of worthy places for this $100 check. The regular charities this winter are not able to meet all the deserving demands upon them. There are families, cold and hungry, lacking clothes and threatened with eviction. The Good Fellows are providing necessities to 277 families, but there are still many others appealing for a helping hand until jobs can be found.

Every penny of the $100, like the rest of the $74,000 received to date, will reach some family recommended after investigation by the United Charities, the Central Charity bureau [Catholic], the Jewish Social Service bureau, or the Salvation Army. THE TRIBUNE pays the expenses of administering the fund.

If you have a job and can help some fellow without a job to keep his family together through the winter, send your donation to the Good Fellow, THE TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Eye Tests Reveal 4,984 Children with Defects in Vision

Activities of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, as shown in the annual report issued yesterday, included the examination of 17,539 children by nurses. Of that number 4,894 were found to have impaired vision and were sent to specialists for treatment. More than 1,300 of these patients have been reported back as having the defects corrected, and 1,497 were placed in sight-saving classes.

In addition the efforts of the nurse maintained by the organization to prevent ophthalmia saved the vision of 70 newborn babies through prompt treatment of eyes at birth. The state law making the silver nitrate available was sponsored by the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Miss Audrey Hayden, executive secretary, reports that a trachoma survey was conducted in the southern part of this state, and that 252 persons were found afflicted with the disease in four rural counties, all of whom were given treatment in temporary clinics established for the purpose.

WHEN WORDS FAIL YUH.

Dismal Dora Mopes Because Hubby Won't Take Her Anywhere

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am 35, my husband 33. I don't consider myself too old to enjoy life, but my husband will not take me anywhere. Not even to a 25 cent show. We have a car, but I never ride in it. He never brings me a nickel's worth of anything to cheer me up. I never get a new thing unless I go to work and earn it. I sit home day in and day out with only the dog for company, etc., etc. UNHAPPY."

Now, isn't that a nice picture for a woman to present of herself? Sitting home burning herself up with injustices that could be readily enough rectified with a little initiative on her part. Why sit at home, to begin with? And why go on expecting to draw blood from a stone? Why not, in the name of all that's good and holy, get out and rustle up a good time without the gentleman? If you can earn money why not earn it? If the man won't buy you things and you have the power to earn yourself why not get out and get them? There is something so out of keeping with the times in this inertia of a complaining woman that one does lose patience.

Why work on the old adage that if things can't be cured they must be endured? It's an outmoded principle now. Domestic things are being cured every day that were once thought things that had to be endured. Remember, we're not advocating that you leave, but if things are not as you would have them why don't you do something about improving them? Other women do. And they're earning better treatment, too, from their husbands as a consequence.

Sitting at home mooning and doing nothing about it is the last thing on earth to be recommended to a discontented wife. But the type of sister who sits home telling her troubles to a lone dog hasn't any heart appeal. And probably therein lies her husband's coldness toward her.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

A Tailored Simplicity Marks Afternoon Frock

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—It looks as though gray would be the leading spring neutral in Paris fashions, with Lucien Lelong featuring gray or gray and brown in so many of his new costumes and with Patou, Worth, Maggy Rouff, and others all showing much real gray or those latest black and white mixtures which give a gray effect.

Gray is just as becoming as beige if it is chosen in the right tone; it is pretty and ladylike and it is well suited to the almost tailored simplicity which tends to oust the too picturesque styles from the latest collections.

Smart women are eagerly taking up these new, simpler clothes; the novelty of dressing up in period ensembles has worn off and they find they prefer our own time, after all. Clothes will remain feminine, however, even though they do not go in for fluffy ruffles.

The Germaine Lecomte afternoon frock, sketched above, is a pretty example of the new tailored femininity. She makes it of pale gray georgette, plaited all over except for the lower sleeves. Linked cordings of the georgette form its only trimming. They are used to outline the oval décolleté, to mark the waistline and to finish the little puffed and plaited upper sleeves. They also hold the plaited peplum into a slender line, giving it the effect of having a plaited ruffle hem. The back of this frock is just like the front, except that its neckline is higher.

Illinois Girl's Lucky Day

FOUR candles! And each one represents a year of joyous living. Little Blanche Guerin, of 4575 Oakumald Ave., Chicago, is a typical Fig Syrup baby. Here is what her mother says:

"A friend recommended California Fig Syrup very highly. So when Blanche began to have so many colds I got some. It opened her bowels promptly; made her rest well at night. Best of all she has been free from colds since then."

For fifty years, wise mothers have been secure in the knowledge that a child's headachy, bilious, feverish or fretful spells can be quickly and safely overcome by California Fig Syrup. Physicians recommend its soothing aid to keep the bowels clear in colds, or children's ailments; or whenever bad breath, coated tongue, or listlessness warn of constipation.

California Fig Syrup helps tone and strengthen weak bowels—assists in building-up and energizing weak children. The genuine always bears the name California. All drugstores.

Miss Donnelly Says Figure Alteration Might Be in Order

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

I understand that work is going on in an attempt to classify types of women's figures, the better to guide ready made clothes manufacturers, which, indeed, would seem a much needed chart.

In the meantime, one of the big life insurance companies has measured some 200,000 women, with the resultant discovery that women may be set off into eleven differing types of figures, as follows: The short, slender figure, the tall slender, the curved back, the short waist, the medium bust, the full hip, the short, heavy figure, the tall, heavy figure, the very large bust, large all around, flat bust, large abdomen and hips.

The ambition is to further classify women so that they will fit into ready made things with less and less alteration.

This year's clothes, saleswomen have told me, make the hardest fitting year in some time. The dresses all seem designed for the second type on the list—the tall, slender girl, although the short, slender one frequently comes off victorious if her waist is not too high. The short, heavy figure is the discouraged one to face with an up-to-date model, pinched in waist and long skirt. One of her was on the verge of tears, and righteously, too, as I observed her from the sidelines in a dress shop the other day.

Somewhere recently I read of a "crying room" provided by a fashionable modiste for clients whose nerves crack up over fittings. Rather over the strain and rush preceding fittings. The sobbing female is ushered into a quiet alcove where she is made to relax in a comfortable chair and is served tea. Were crying quarters established in department stores they might easily be overcrowded with women gone hysterical over their figures in some of the dresses tried on them.

The moral, of course, is to check up on your figure and see if it can do alterations on its own. The large busts and the large abdomens, the curved backs and the full hips certainly can be changed for the better.

Bicycle Would Help.

"I wonder if you can help one of the boys at my school who needs a bicycle so that he may get a job as an errand boy. His mother is dead and his father is out of work. They are most deserving people. M. M."

Perhaps your son has outgrown or tired of the bicycle which gave him so much pleasure. Here's a young student who could put it to good advantage in helping to support his family.

Salesman Ends Acid Stomach

"I cannot help telling how good ACIDINE is," says J. F. McCarthy, of Dorchester, Mass. "I had been troubled with an acid stomach for the last ten years and as I am a salesman, I think my condition used to hurt my production. Now after using two boxes of ACIDINE, I feel O. K."

Almost everyone who takes ACIDINE raves about it. More than two million packages have been sold. It's absolutely amazing the way this new prescription succeeds when other known remedies fail.

ACIDINE is the only known remedy which contains Japtase, that in laboratory tests digests 800 times its weight of certain heavy, starchy foods which cause trouble. It neutralizes burning acids, soothes irritated stomach linings, stops gassy headaches, sleeplessness and nervousness. No other known remedy contains this combination to end acid stomach. ACIDINE also fortifies you against colds by reducing acidity.

Get ACIDINE today at Walgreen's. Watch how quick acid indigestion, burning stomach, belching, pain, heartburn, dizziness, fullness, short breath vanish. Eat, drink all you want. Maker refunds money if not delighted.

Art and Tea, Concert, Too, Fill Up Day

BY THALIA

There was a good deal of tea-tea dashing yesterday afternoon. The Olivet institute benefit concert tea at Harold F. McCormick's house was featured with pep talks and people rushing around with pens of application blanks.

At the Ackermann galleries the portraits of royalty were impressive, but didn't get as much attention as those with more "local color," if that isn't a bad pun. Mrs. Americus F. Callaway was there in person and in portraiture besides.

Mrs. James Simpson, whose son, James Jr., was in the exhibit (the painting, of course), and Mrs. Alden B. Swift (a painting of her daughter, Lydia, was included in the showing also were present.

At the Casino the women whom Alice Gerstenberg has asked to be an interpretive committee for the Playwrights theater had tea and discussed plans for the forthcoming production with Mrs. Howard Willett, who is to be the chairman of the group.

Twelfth Night Party Calls for Unusual Costumes.

Twelfth Night ball is tonight at the Germania club, and costumers—professional and home grown—are putting the finishing touches on regalia designed to be different, amusing, impressive, or simply adequate. Dinner parties beforehand include the Bernard Rogerses' at the Red Star inn, across the street from where the party is to be, the Randolph Paysons', the James Waller Rogerses', the Russell Kelleys', and one that Mrs. Helen Logan and Mrs. Rodiger Boswell are having at the Casino.

The Walter Paepckes will have a dinner in the Dutch room of the Bismarck hotel before the Twelfth Night ball.

Assisting Mrs. Joseph Adams, vice chairman of the Arts club reception committee, at the tea this afternoon to open exhibitions of sculpture by Ossip Zadkine and paintings by Jacques Villon will be Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. Charles Conrad, Mrs. Thorne Donnelley, Mrs. Boyd Hill, Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, Mrs. R. R. McCormick, Miss Lucie Hartrath, Miss Harriet Stuart, Mrs. Arthur Bissell, Mrs. Austin Young, and Mrs. John V. Storrs.

Wherewith Some One Tries to Say It with Flowers.

Did the lady, a charming divorcée, who was recently greeted at a party with, "O, here's So-and-so's old wife!" receive a bouquet in consequence thereof? She was supposed to.

Have you read Mary Hastings Bradley's story, "The Five-Minute Girl," in the Saturday Evening Post this week? If you did you're probably wondering with me whether the tragedy of the poor little debutante who was so afraid of the stag line was founded on actual incident or whether Mrs. Bradley just imagined it all in her own fertile mind. Probably some of each, don't you think?

The post-holiday rally seems to be setting in. Futures on the calendar include a meeting of the Lake Shore League of Women Voters at the Ambassador West ballroom at 11:30 o'clock next Wednesday morning, with Mrs. James W. Morrison speaking on "How to Get a Shorter Ballot for Illinois" and "The White House Conference on Child Health and Protection"; a Woman's Athletic club lecture [Dr. Horace J. Bridges on Bertrand Russell's "Marriage and Morals"] the following morning at 11, and a meeting of the Friends of Opera at the Casino on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 20, at the Casino.

Personals . . . three of the Milan Huiberts' young lady daughters, Olive, Helen, and Adele, set off on the Conte Grande, which sailed from New York on Tuesday, for a pleasure trip to Europe . . . Lady Charles D. Burney [Gladys High] took one of the principal parts in a "Living Poem" based on a 15th century Persian love story at a recent Persian ball in London. [The costumes were reproduced from Persian illuminated manuscripts, and others besides Lady Burney in it were Lady Diana Duff-Cooper, Rosita Forbes, and the Countess of Seafield.]

Through the good fairy offices of Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, there will be a charity performance of the Junior League's Chauve Souris at the Harris theater next Monday afternoon for orphans and crippled children. Other people are arranging for the transportation of the children.

Society Greets Returned Singer

CHICAGO operagoers turned out en masse last evening to greet Tito Schipa, world famous tenor, who made his first appearance this season with the Chicago Civic Opera company in Mozart's "Don Giovanni."

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Heyworth were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thorne of Hollywood, Cal., Mrs. James O. Heyworth, and William Wittmeyer. Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick had as her guests Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barnes, Edwin Krenn, and James Keeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Stibolt, Mrs. Ben Butterworth, and Carroll Mastin were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deere Wiman. Mrs. Ambrose Cramer, Mrs. Bertram Walker, and Mr. and Mrs. Carter H. FitzHugh were guests in the Henry J. Patten box.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Sims had with them Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Ednyfed H. Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bissell, Mr. and Mrs. John Stone, and Miss Elizabeth McCormick were guests of R. Hall McCormick.

The George B. Dryden box was occupied by a group composed of Mrs. A. K. Bodholdt, Mrs. Luther H. Whittemore, Mrs. Aubrey Whittemore, Mrs. Ricker Van Metre, Aubrey Whittemore Jr., and Ben Hathaway. Mrs. George Carter Howland's party included Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Barton, and Capt. Hugh Duncan Grant.

Judge and Mrs. Hugo M. Friend, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Schwartz, and Col. Samuel T. Lawton occupied the John Ambrose McCormick box. Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarke Dean had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert Upham and Mr. and Mrs. Weymouth Kirkland.

Judge Mack Charges Britain Breaks Pact with Palestine Jews

Judge Julian W. Mack, honorary chairman of the Zionist Organization of America, recently returned from a second trip to Palestine. Last night he addressed five hundred Chicago Zionists at the Covenant club, 10 North Dearborn street.

After Irene Pavlovska sang three selections Judge Mack, describing present conditions in Palestine, declared the British had violated the Balfour pact. He said "Zionism is not a religious movement. It is a movement of the Hebrew people, whether they be religious persons or agnostics." He deplored the idea that America is "the melting pot."

"I prefer," he said, "to think of America as an orchestra, in which people is an instrument. None loses his individuality, but all blend for harmony."

A group of German-Americans, not Jews, and led by Prof. George T. Scherger of the Armour Institute of Technology, pledged coöperation with the Zionist movement. "Palestine belongs to the Hebrews and not to the Arabs," Prof. Scherger said. "God speed to the Zionist movement."

Longworth Gets New Car, to Rep. Garner's Delight

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Having ridden for three years in the car to which Representative Garner of Texas refers as "ours," Speaker Longworth has tired of its eccentricities and traded his official conveyance in for a new automobile. He said he made a good deal.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover gave tonight their annual dinner to the foreign ambassadors, ministers and heads of missions. Other guests included Senator and Mrs. W. E. Borah (he is chairman of the foreign relations committee), Representative and Mrs. Henry W. Temple (he is chairman of the house foreign affairs committee), Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg, as he's a former secretary of state. After the dinner, additional guests heard Mme. Claire Dux, soprano, and Vladimir Horowitz, pianist.

Mrs. Delos A. Blodgett, formerly of Grand Rapids, gave a unique reception this afternoon in her New Hampshire avenue home. Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Colt Bloodgood of Baltimore were the guests of honor. But instead of the stand-up-and-shake-hands affair, the drawing room was arranged with chairs and the guests were treated to a talk on cancer prevention and protection by Dr. Bloodgood. He is interested in a nation-wide fight against cancer.

Former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Charles S. Dewey will spend the remainder of this week in Washington with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blake Dewey of Chicago, at the Mayflower. Mr. Dewey recently was financial adviser to the Polish government.

Irish Writer Seeks American-German-British Culture Union

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The first issue of the International Forum, monthly English language periodical, appeared today. The editor, James Murphy, Irish writer and lecturer, hopes that the magazine "will bring together in regular intercourse the creative intelligence of the three great branches of modern civilization—German, American, and British."

The January contributions include Max Plack, physicist; Ernest Simmel, sociologist; John Galsworthy, as a poet, and the novelist, Arnold Zweig.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs and colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the systems after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—(Adv.).

PIERCE-ARROW

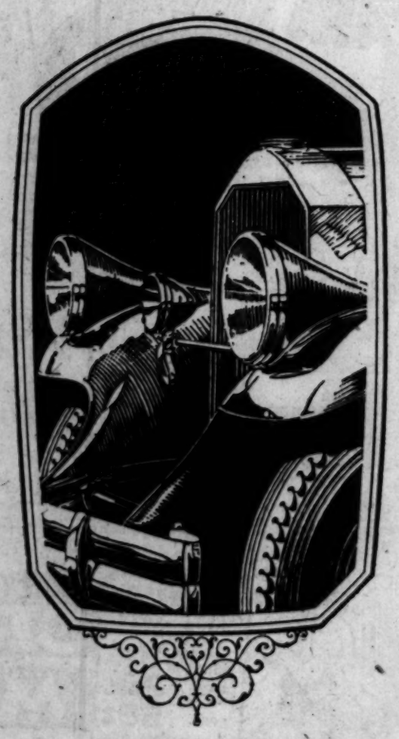
$810

with Free Wheeling



PIERCE-ARROW enters upon its new year by announcing, First, cars entirely new yet bearing every symbol of Pierce-Arrow distinction and finality; Second, a price range which registers as high as $810 in savings, and Third, free wheeling, most impressive motor car advancement of the decade.

Mere price is not necessarily the prime consideration in some products. But when it is linked with a 30-year background of quality and tradition, such as is singular to Pierce-Arrow alone among fine cars, its significance immediately becomes very potent.

These Pierce-Arrows are new, from the design of the dies that stamp out their body panels to the loveliness and spaciousness which distinguish their body interiors.

They are new in a deeper radiator contour, and in the sweep and flow of the fenders, which hold fast to the exclusiveness of Pierce-Arrow originality.

These Pierce-Arrow chassis are new in their incorporation of free wheeling, which enables the controlled use of free momentum, at will and at any speed.

They are new in the augmented power of their magnificent engines; in the new silence of carburetion; in new devices which smother and eliminate road shocks; and in handling ease and security which attain a new and lofty pinnacle.

Pierce-Arrow confidently looks to these finest of all the fine cars it has ever produced to extend and enrich the high position with which it has been spontaneously honored for a generation.

Fresh from a week's rest, the Tulsa team entered a tie for the American hockey league leadership by defeating the Shamrocks, 7 to 3, before 2,000 fans at the Chicago Stadium last night.

The Shamrocks, fighting to defend their one game lead and playing their fifth game in nine days, were practically helpless on defense and suffered their worst defeat of the year.

Chicago Defense Wilts.

It was a case of overwork breaking down the Shamrock defense for the first time this year. Tulsa dominated the game throughout, matching the Shamrock's futility with its own perfection.

The Oilers well rested attack produced four goals in rapid succession. The first period was only three minutes old when Marker shot from the side just before he went down in a scramble with Wiseman and Mulligan. Thereafter only effort to stop the easy scoring was the poking of his stick in front of the puck. It hit the blade, bounced over and rolled into the corner of the net.

Three minutes later Duke Keats took a pass from Williams in front of the net and scored. The Shamrocks' defense loomed as so much putty before the Tulsa offensive and the Oilers were going to the cage almost as they pleased. Trapp got the third goal unassisted when he skated through the defense, rode past Timmins and fired in a back hand shot after nine minutes and 29 seconds had elapsed.

Moffat Scores Easy Goal.

The fourth goal was scored sixteen seconds later when Moffat took a pass from Sheppard directly in front of the goal. The assist was unnecessary for both men came through the defense without encountering even an interfering gesture.

Tulsa continued its onslaught in the second period, but not until proceedings had been enlivened by a fist fight between Pudge MacKenzie of the Shamrocks and Frank Sheppard of the Oilers and Burns had scored. Sheppard was badly cut about the eyes before Referee Laflamme and other players could intercede. Both drew major penalties of five minutes.

Moffat and Leo Lafrance, however, scored for Tulsa again in the second period after Bobby Burns had gotten the first Shamrock goal. When the Chicagoans opened up with two goals on passes by Gordie Brydson to Donnie MacFayden and Curley Headley in the final period Lafrance tallied again.

Lafrance Scores in 10:58.

Lafrance scored in ten minutes and 58 seconds of the third period when he took a perfect pass from Hanson behind the net. Keats got the other marker in just as perfect a play when Metz, Moffat, and Williams swept down the ice and Moffat passed to him after 14 minutes and 43 seconds of the period had expired.

With the period more than half over, the Oilers began moving down the ice again and Lafrance pitched one by Timmins on a pass from Keats at 12:56. Then Brydson got by the Oiler defense after 16 minutes and eight seconds and passed to MacFadyen for the Shamrocks' second goal. Fourteen seconds later he again got down to the net and passed to Headley, who scored easily as Goalie McCusker came out after Brydson.

Franklin-Marshall Board Indorses Mullins as Coach

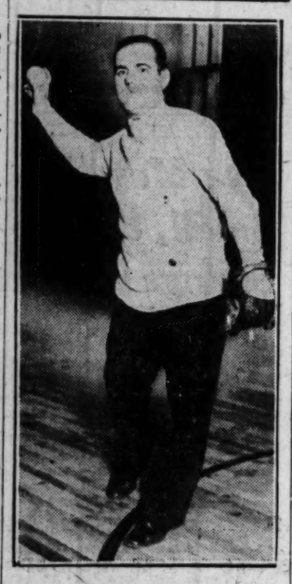
DONS RED SOCKS



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Eugene Rye, who graduated into the big leagues from Chicago semi-pro diamonds. His batting ability is expected to win him a place in the Boston Red Sox outfield.

Rye May Be Small, but He Swings Big Bat

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

His name is Eugene Mercantelli, but if you see it in a big league box score next summer it will be a mere Rye. The contraction of the monicker is more in keeping with his vertical dimension, which is only 5 feet 5 inches, but having some of what is termed that Chicago "I Will" spirit, he doesn't anticipate lack of height is going to be any handicap when he makes a bid next February for a place in the Boston Red Sox outfield.

Rye, whose real name is a true indicator of his nationality, already owns one feat for which there is no other claimant. This, even if his big league debut proves a flop, is sufficient to keep him in the record book for an indefinite period. The exceptional feat was made up of three home runs hit in one inning while with the Waco Texas league team in a game against Beaumont, Aug. 6 of last year.

Drives in Eight in Inning.

Briefly, here are the details of the inning that brought the big league scouts down to look him over.

Beaumont was leading Waco in the eighth inning, 6 to 2. Rye led off in this session with a homer off Pitcher Mallett. What he started was carried on so well by his mates that shortly he was up again. This time he notched a homer off Pitcher Newman with two on. Rye was the first batter to face Newman. Newman still was pitching, or trying to pitch, when Rye came up for the third time. There were three on bases, and the pudgy Italian sent them scrambling home on a ball hit over the right field wall.

Thus, in addition to his world record of three round trips in the same inning, Rye had the distinction of driving in eight runs. Altogether, the inning netted Waco 18 runs. Another fellow prominent in this ruthless assault was Munson, who a few years ago served several months with the Cubs. Munson walked twice and singled once while the attack was in progress.

Hit Better at Night.

A strange feature of Rye's batting last season in the Texas league was that he averaged .345 in day games and .410 in affairs staged after dinner. The Red Sox will have to play half their season at night to profit by Rye's nocturnal skill.

Three homers in one inning was just a climax for the young man. On the opening day of the Texas league season he uncorked three homers during the game against San Antonio. In each of three other battles he produced two home run taps. In another game he scored five runs

BIG SIX BOARD RULES ON KANSAS ATHLETES TODAY

Professors to Summon Players for Quiz.

Lawrence, Kas., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Three professors who administer the Big Six conference eligibility rules will meet here tomorrow to determine the status of several football and basketball players at the University of Kansas.

The athletes, variously estimated to number between 8 and 22, are expected to be summoned to explain if they were subsidized or lured to the Jayhawker institution in violation of the rule against recruiting.

Charges against several athletes, including James A. Bausch, were made when the conference faculty council last October voted to discontinue athletic relations with Kansas after the present academic year.

Kansas Reinstated.

Over the dissenting vote of Dr. W. A. Tarr, Missouri's faculty representative and author of the charges against Bausch, the professors reinstated Kansas last December. Previously the Jayhawker athletic board had found Bausch ineligible and promised to abide by the rulings of the committee which will meet here tomorrow.

Bausch's eligibility had been challenged on the ground his $75 monthly salary from an insurance company constituted subsidization.

Two cases up for consideration involve William and Kenneth Johnson, Jayhawker sophomore basketball players from Oklahoma City. Coach Hugh McDermott of the University of Oklahoma charged the brothers had violated a rule against competition outside the conference by participating in a game at Oklahoma City during the Christmas holidays a year ago. Kansas authorities ruled the game was a practice affair and did not rank with games banned by the rule.

Oklahoma Files Report.

Today, however, Dean S. W. Reaves of Oklahoma, a member of the eligibility committee, announced at Norman he had received and sent to Kansas officials "local rumors and reports" concerning alleged recruiting of the brothers by Kansas.

Another charge mentioned at the time the faculty council voted to discipline Kansas was that Phil Borello of Kansas City, former Notre Dame freshman, was recruited by Kansas.

Besides Dean Reaves, the committee members who will meet at a local hotel are Dean Beyer of Iowa State college and H. H. King of Kansas State Agricultural college.

Catcher Gonzales Signs with St. Louis Cardinals

HAVANA, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The Spanish newspaper El Mundo will say tomorrow that Mike Gonzales, veteran Cuban catcher, has accepted terms offered him by Branch Rickey to play with the St. Louis Cardinals this year.

Dan Howley Saves Girl Who Faints While Swimming

Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Dan Howley, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, assumed the rôle of life guard here today and rescued a girl from drowning. The girl fainted in the water and Howley went out to her. As he was bringing her to shore he was met by Heinie Manush, Washington outfielder; Clyde Engels, baseball scout; Gene Wermuth of Boston and J. Mauser, retired captain of the New York fire department. They helped the Cincinnati pilot bring the girl up on the beach.

DAN HOWLEY.

The girl revived after a short time, but declined to give her name, disappearing among other bathers on the beach.

N. Y. Boxing Commission Giveth; It Also Taketh Away

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 8.—One hears and reads expressions of the greatest displeasure at the action of the New York prize fight commissioners in busting Max Schmeling, their own pork barrel heavyweight champion, down to the rank of loogan or palooka, but my own indignation has a rather high boiling point, and I remain quite calm and placid.

MAX SCHMELING.

One time a distinguished war correspondent, returning to this country after the crash of the war business, found himself overcome with intoxicants and wandered into a church for meditation and spiritual stock taking.

A funeral service chanced to be going on at the time and the young man was swept along in the little eddy of mourners as the company entered the hacks to ride to the grave. Arriving there, the pastor uttered a few apposite platitudes, winding up with the observation that "the good Lord giveth and the good Lord taketh away."

"And what," said our hero, lurching to the brink of the pit and ogling all present with an alcoholic challenge, "and what could be fairer than that?"

In the present instance, the prize fight commission giveth and the prize fight commission taketh away, and nothing, I insist, could be fairer than that, either.

An Appointive Champion.

It is argued that a prize fighting championship, won in action in the ring, can be lost only by defeat in action in the ring, but this argument ignores the fact that Max Schmeling did not win a championship, but was appointed to that rank by a political commission which invested the bout with this quality with the sole object of meriting some compensating political favor in the future.

Titles of rank arising from political favor always are revokable at the pleasure of the source from which they are derived. Sir Roger Casement, a British knight, was divested of his rank and all the prerogatives pertaining thereto before he was hanged for disloyalty to the crown. He was disloyal only in the sense that he had accepted distinction from the king, and Schmeling, being a creature of the New York prize fight commissioners, likewise was beholden to them.

A citizen of a country which was recently a monarchy, Schmeling should have realized this more keenly than any American prize fighter could have been expected to. In this country political loyalties, particularly the local ones, are subject to momentary conditions.

I heard that Sir Roger, out of deference to the rank which he once held, was supposed to have been granted the consoling privilege of being hanged with a silken rope. This privilege was entirely theoretical as it turned out. He was supposed to imagine that the common hangman's line was a luxurious strand.

New York Should Use Gold Pen.

The prize fight commission should develop some sentimental ceremonies, too. In revoking a pork barrel appointment to the heavyweight champion the Tammany commission should hit upon the idea of signing the decree with a gold or platinum nib. But I hear that the revocation was attested with a common 1 cent tin or postoffice type of pen. Herr Schmeling, like Sir Roger, will have to let his imagination do the rest.

At any rate, never having been a champion except by political appointment, Schmeling has lost no more than many a victim of capricious royal favor in times long past, and much less than some who also lost their heads. In time the prize fight commissioners will be deposed also, and, like the little gigolo ex-monarchs and dukes of Europe, will be subject to the rudeness of those who formerly bent the knee to their powerful office. But I hope that time is long in coming.

Like the exiled grand duke who claims to be the absentee czar of all the Russias, inclusive, Herr Schmeling will now agree to fight William Stribling for a title which was only lent to him in the first place by an authority which had no right to confer it and subsequently withdraw it on account of nonpayment of the political purchase price.

[Copyright: 1931: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Sign Bout Today?

New York, Jan. 8.—[Special.]—The actual signing of Max Schmeling to box Young Stribling for the world's heavyweight title in the interest of the Milk fund in Chicago next June is expected to be encompassed tomorrow with the arrival in this city of Pa Stribling, father-manager of the young Georgia challenger for the title.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

"LITTLE BROWN JUG."

DEAR WAKE: Recently I noticed that a Helper signing "Vol Stead" gave you one verse and the chorus of an old familiar song entitled "Little Brown Jug." I am now 72 years old and many are the times I sang it, both privately and in public, during my 20's. There may be some who would like this old song which I write from memory, but as we sang it then.

A. W. Seybert.

My wife and I live all alone
In a little log hut we call our own;
She loves gin and I love rum,
I tell you what, we've lots of fun.

Cho.—Ha, ha, ha, you and me,
Little brown jug, don't I love thee!
Ha, ha, ha, you and me,
Little brown jug, don't I love thee.

When I go toiling to my farm,
I put little brown jug under my arm;
I place it under a shady tree,
Little brown jug, it is you and me.
Cho.

If I had a cow that gave such milk,
I'd dress her in the finest silk;
I'd feed her on the choicest hay
And milk her forty times a day. Cho.

The rose is red, the violet's blue,
Sugar is sweet and so are you;
And yet I guess before I stop,
I'd better take another drop. Cho.

If all the folks in Adam's race
Would gather together in one place,
Then I'd prepare to shed a tear
Before I part with you, my dear! Cho.

Eckersall Trophy.

Inauguration of the Walter Eckersall Memorial trophy in connection with THE TRIBUNE Silver Skates Derbies, Jan. 24-25 at Garfield park, is a fitting tribute to the late sports authority who was our fellow worker for many years. "Eckie's" constructive efforts in behalf of Chicago's amateur sports, especially encouraging youthful performers, was the foundation of their present success. Master of detail, tireless in attention to that detail, we doubt whether any other could have given the initial impetus that he did.

Benny Friedman.

If Benny Friedman accepts a coaching position at Yale, Pennsylvania or California, it will be only with a proviso that he shall not sever connections with the nationally known financial house with which he is associated. Such statement is predicated on our last conversation with him. Friedman is commercializing his football as a business proposition, but he had no intention of following it as a profession when last we talked.

N. U.-MICHIGAN BATTLE HEADS BIG TEN CARD

Unbeaten Basket Fives Meet Tomorrow.

Games Tomorrow

Michigan at Northwestern.
Illinois at Purdue.
Wisconsin at Ohio State.
Chicago at Indiana.
Minnesota at Iowa.

Big Ten basketball teams tomorrow night will settle down to the business of campaigning for the conference championship, won last year by the undefeated Purdue quintet. Every team will be in action.

Two preliminary skirmishes, in which Michigan whipped Purdue, 29 to 22, and Wisconsin won from Illinois, 12 to 9, have indicated that this year's race will be another tightly contested affair.

Michigan's victory over the Boilermakers makes the Wolverines' game with Northwestern at Patten gym the feature of tomorrow's program. Neither team has been beaten. Most impressive of the Wildcats' triumphs was a 32 to 10 drubbing administered to Alabama, champion of the Southern conference last season.

Daniels Leads Wolverines.

Northwestern will go into the game prepared to take the tipoff from Daniels, Michigan center, who is below the average height of pivot men. Daniels, however, is the Wolverines' leading scorer, and usually adds enough points to make up for losing the jump.

Football will share the spotlight when Ohio State opens it cage season against Wisconsin. Between halves of the game at Columbus, Wesley E. Fesler will be presented THE TRIBUNE trophy, a silver football, awarded annually to the Big Ten player who is of most value to his team. Harvey T. Woodruff, conductor of The Wake of the News, will make the presentation.

Aim to Dodge Anchor.

University of Chicago basketball players will travel to Indiana for their first Big Ten clash. The Maroons, accustomed to taking the short end of the score in past years, have been beaten only once this season, and are exhibiting confidence new to Midway teams. Their defeat of Marquette, which previously had won from Wisconsin, gave Indiana supporters something to think about.

Illinois will meet Purdue at Lafayette in a game which will tie an anchor to the title hopes of one team or the other. Each has been defeated, but neither is willing to give up aspirations for the title.

Ice Speedsters Race in Amphion Meet Tomorrow

Frank Stack, winner of the 1930 Planert Gold Skate state championship trophy; Eddie Schroeder, Illinois indoor titlist; Wally Mitchell, city titlebearer; Bill Minster, 1930 TRIBUNE Silver Skate winner; Elizabeth DuBois, state outdoor girls' champion and Silver Skate graduate; and Faith Schoen, state indoor champion, head the list of more than 500 speed stars who will compete in the annual Derby of the Amphion Athletic club at Humboldt park tomorrow.

ELIZABETH DU BOIS.

The Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company will stage two closed races for employés as part of the Amphion program. One of the events is a half mile race for men and the other a quarter mile sprint for girls. Silver cups will be given winners. Silver and bronze medals will go to entrants finishing second and third.

Badger Alumni Group Renews Fire on Coach

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 8.—A group of University of Wisconsin alumni will meet at the Milwaukee Athletic club Saturday afternoon to discuss adverse criticisms of Glenn Thistlethwaite, head football coach, which have been made by some of the graduates since the close of the Big Ten season.

Herman Egstadt, secretary of the Alumni association, said today that a 10 page complaint about existing football conditions at Wisconsin had been drawn up and would be presented at the meeting.

Egstadt Lists Charges.

Egstadt said that some of the Badger alumni believe Coach Thistlethwaite is "emotionally unfit to coach football," that he is "a poor judge of football material," and that "although he has a fine technical knowledge of the game, he cannot impart it to others."

Asa Briggs of St. Paul, president of the Alumni association, will be in charge of the meeting. It was not announced whether or not Thistlethwaite would be present.

Want Council to Reconsider.

The university athletic council, at a meeting several weeks ago, decided to make no recommendation as to hiring a new football coach. This led to the conclusion that Thistlethwaite would be retained. The alumni opposed to Thistlethwaite are seeking to have the council reconsider its action.

[OTHER HOCKEY NEWS ON NEXT PAGE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Defeat No. 19 for the Quakers was made possible by the Chicago Blackhawks as they defeated the Philadelphia team in a National Hockey league match here tonight, 4 to 0.

The Hawks, scoring once in the first two sessions and twice in the final frame, assured themselves of a tie for second place in the American group standings.

Allen Shields of the Quakers and Ingram of the Hawks staged a fist fight with four minutes of play and drew major penalties. Only four penalties were called, all in the final period.

Miller Scores Early.

The Quakers rushed after the face-off, but could not penetrate the Chicago defense. The Hawks played safe and waited for Philadelphia to attack. At 2:56, during a scrimmage in front of the Quaker goal, Miller reached a pass from March and ticked it past Cude.

The most excitement of the opening period was a solo rush by Peaches Lyons. Gardiner was prepared and saved the hard shot. The Hawks then stopped the Quakers before they reached the blue line. Couture had a great chance, but missed the pass from Gottselig.

Howe and Milks got in close and gave Gardiner an anxious minute, but he avoided trouble. Barton and Shields teamed up, but Dutkowski broke up the pass. Shields gave Gardiner another tough one, but he kicked it away.

When the second round started Milks gave Gardiner a test and Howe got in, but couldn't locate the puck. Then March broke through, but Shields caught him from behind just in time to break up the shot.

Gottselig got in on a fast play and almost stuck the disc under Crude's feet, but he managed to reach it. Barton got through, but Graham upset him. Lyons and Arbour each had a close one, but the red light didn't flash.

Prevents Hawks' Scores.

Des Jardines almost tallied a moment later when he skated in on the net, took a pass from Ingram, but the puck went on the outside of the post. The game became lively with scrimmages in front of both nets. Shields was in close, but couldn't find the disc and then Gardiner made a nice save. Cude kicked out a sure goal on Cook that bounced off his pads.

Miller had a great chance when Cook gave him a pass near the net, but he shot wide. Gottselig gave a clever exhibition of handling the disc with his stick, but his shot hit outside the mesh. After many manipulations around the net, Dutkowski passed from behind the net to Gottselig, who clipped a short one past Cude at 17:19. In rapid order Cude kicked out two shots from Des Jardines and March.

After four scoreless minutes of the third session in which the Quakers did all the attacking, the first penalty of the game was called on Cook. While he was out the Quakers attempted to pierce the Chicago defense, but their efforts were weak.

Lowery was in position to score, but when he got the disc in front of the goal slipped and his shot went over the net. Then Cook returned to the game. In a mixup in front of the Philadelphia goal Des Jardines almost socked the puck into the goal. Milks got the rebound and dashed up the ice with Kilrea. Lowery picked up a loose disc and Gardiner just blocked it.

Cook, Shields Clash.

Des Jardines got loose, but Cude kicked the puck away. However, play remained in Philadelphia's territory and finally Ingram picked up a pass from Adams and Des Jardines and sent it into the net at 7:28. Lyons drew a penalty for hooking. While he was out the Quakers did more damage around the nets to no avail. When Lyons returned he got the disc and skated through, but as he got near the goal he was upset and Gardiner slapped it away.

With four minutes to go Shields and Ingram got into a battle and after the referees had parted them Ingram tried to start it all over again. They both drew major penalties. Adams then got the disc from Des Jardines and marched in for a goal at 17:41.

ATHLETIC CLUBS SWELL SILVER SKATES ENTRIES

Nominations Pass 500 Mark for Races.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Triangle Athletic club, 6333 South Campbell avenue, has entered 19 boys in the senior and intermediate Silver Skates Derbies at Garfield park Jan. 24 and 25. In the same mail the entry of the Austin Ranger Athletic club was submitted by Vernor Nimmer, 1521 North Waller avenue. These boys will skate in the intermediate, junior, and juvenile divisions.

Although only five team entries have been received so far, the number of competitors already has reached the 500 mark. Entries will be accepted until midnight Jan. 18 and it is safe to predict that more than the 3,300 who sought silver skates last year will race in the fifteenth TRIBUNE tournament.

Special Lap Prizes.

In addition to the five prizes offered in each of the seven Derbies, gold medals will be presented in the men's senior and intermediate and the girls' senior races to the skater leading these races for the greatest number of laps. The other events are not sufficiently long to make lap prizes feasible.

The qualifying races, of course, are shorter than the finals. For instance, the man's senior Derby over a distance of two miles, will be limited to one mile in the preliminaries. It would be unfair to ask any contestant to race three times in an afternoon over the two mile route.

All Trial Distances Shorter.

Similarly, all the other Derbies are cut in half in the qualifying heats. Following are the distances of the finals and the qualifying events:

Men's senior—Two miles, qualifying one mile.
Boys' junior—Half mile, qualifying quarter mile.
Boys' juvenile—Quarter mile, qualifying 220 yards.
Boys' midget—220 yards, qualifying 110 yards.
Girls' senior—One mile, qualifying half mile.
Girls' junior—Half mile, qualifying quarter mile.

No post entries will be accepted. All contestants must send their entries to THE TRIBUNE not later than midnight, Jan. 18. The names will be published in the programs, which will be distributed without charge. Numbers will be assigned in the program and these identifications will be issued several hours before the races on both days of the meets.

Marshall and Crane Score Double Wins

Crane and Marshall's light and heavyweight basketball teams yesterday were victorious in City league games. With Bob Gruenig scoring 17 points, the Crane heavies won from Medill, 33 to 11, on the home floor. Crane lights defeated Medill, 17 to 12.

The Marshall heavies, with Marks scoring three baskets and ten free throws, overwhelmed McKinley, 33 to 19. Fouled five times in the first half, Marks made good on every free throw. In the last half Marks was awarded six more charity throws. He failed on the eleventh chance. The Marshall lights beat McKinley, 33 to 7.

The Crane heavies, in chalking up their second victory of the campaign, held Medill scoreless until the last minute in the first half. Seppe, Medill forward, was fouled by Philips. His throw for the net was good and the score at the end of the period was 17 to 1. The heavyweight lineups:

Rangers Break Falcons' Home String, 1 to 0

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 8.—(AP)—The New York Rangers put an end to the Detroit Falcons' record of eight undefeated home games tonight by a 1 to 0 victory before 12,000 spectators.

The Falcons, fighting to oust the Rangers from third place in the league standings, fell victim to the Ranger passing attack and were baffled by the defensive show put on by the New York team after Bill Cook scored from Joe Jerwa's pass early in the first period. After Cook's score the Rangers turned to the defense, and in the final period they sent only one attacking forward down the ice, while they checked every effort the Detroit team could offer.

CANADIENS WIN, 2-1.

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The Montreal Canadiens received a 2 to 1 victory over the New York Americans tonight on one of the most unusual of the freak goals that have marked the National Hockey league season.

Late in the second period, with the score 1 to 1, George Mantha, Canadien wingman, let fly a shot at the American net. Goalie Roy Worters stepped in, falling on the ice. Evidently misjudging his position as he tried to fling the puck out of danger into the far corner of the rink, Worter made a perfect throw into his own net for the deciding tally. Mantha was given credit for the goal.

BRUINS WIN, 3 TO 1.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 8.—(AP)—A first period splurge of goals gave the Boston Bruins a 3 to 1 victory over the Ottawa Senators here tonight in a National Hockey league game.

The Bruins started with a rush and before the period was over had scored thrice, Clapper getting two goals and Weiland one. Alex Connell, who tended Ottawa's goal during this period, was replaced by Billy Beveridge, and thereafter the Bruins could not score. Ottawa scored its lone goal in the third period, Capt. Frank Finnigan slapping the puck in Boston's net.

TORONTO, 1; MONTREAL, 0.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 8.—(AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs moved into first place in the Canadian division of the National Hockey league tonight by upsetting the Montreal Maroons, 1 to 0. The Maroons had entered the game leading the Leafs by one point in the standings.

After two periods of dull defensive play, the contest livened up and Andy Blair snared Ace Bailey's perfectly executed pass to poke the rubber into the Montreal cage. Thereafter the crowd of more than 8,000 were treated to one thrill after another as the Maroons sent five men up to the attack in a vain effort to tie the score.

PREP SWIMMERS TO HOLD TRIALS IN STAGG POOL

Preliminaries of the seventh annual interscholastic swimming meet of the University of Chicago will be held this afternoon and evening in the Bartlett gymnasium pool. The finals will start tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Fifteen teams are entered. Schurz, Englewood, Lane, and Maine are regarded as leading contenders for the team title, but graduation of many of the outstanding men of last year and the unknown ability of new men makes the outcome uncertain.

One national record and three meet records were broken last year, and the pace is expected to continue in the present meet, with the two relays and the backstroke likely to produce new marks.

Naperville Wins, 22-21, in West Suburban Tourney

Three decisive games and a contest decided in the last minute of play marked the first round in the first annual west suburban amateur basketball tournament last night at Hinsdale. Naperville nosed out Elmhurst, 22 to 21, in the closest battle of the night. Other scores:

Hinsdale, 16; Downers Grove, 9.
Hollywood, 34; Westmont, 3.
Wheaton, 35; La Grange, 8.

Hall Wins Seventh Cue Victory Over Kieckhefer

Allen Hall scored his seventh straight victory over Augie Kieckhefer when he won, 50 to 25, at Mussey's, 131 South Wabash avenue, yesterday. Hall went out in 33 innings and now leads by 350 to 212. Hall has required only 293 innings to make his total. The longest game of the series was played Wednesday night, Hall taking 60 innings to make 50 points.

Albany Park Baptists Face Jefferson Park 5 Tonight

The Albany Park Baptist quintet will meet the Jefferson Park Congregational team tonight in the Church A. A. league at the latter's gym. Kenwood and First Baptist will clash on the First Baptist court. Six games are scheduled for tomorrow night.

1931 May Be Closed Year on Waterfowl

BY BOB BECKER.

The duck season is over for 1930-'31, and while sportsmen still are swapping hard luck stories about the poor sport which prevailed this last season, certain eastern bird authorities are hinting that a closed year on waterfowl may be on the schedule for next fall. The worst of it is that the preponderance of evidence is on the side of these ornithologists.

Dr. T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Audubon society, is one who hints at action which would close down the sport of waterfowl hunting to permit birds to replace the numbers which failed to hatch because of two adverse nesting seasons.

Depends on Breeding Season.

If the rains come next spring and all goes well up north in the land where waterfowl flocks breed, there may be a more encouraging angle on this situation next August. Midsummer will give us news of the birds or as soon next summer as the authorities in the provinces make a check of conditions. If ducks and geese have a good year things will look a lot brighter.

In a recent statement Dr. Pearson brings up another question which is of importance to sportsmen. That of funds to adequately solve the waterfowl problem. He makes the point that drainage has taken at least 100,000,000 acres of lakes, ponds, sloughs and marshlands from the waterfowl. Hunters are increasing, the United States warden service is pitifully small to check violations and sanctuary areas are inadequate compared to the need throughout the United States.

Suggest Tax on Shells.

Dr. Pearson suggests that those who shoot game should be willing to help pay for the work which must be done by agreeing to be taxed. It is suggested that shooters agree to a small tax on each box of shells, say one cent per shell used.

Automobilists help pay for roads by paying a gas tax. Why should not hunters pay one cent per shell to get sanctuaries for waterfowl and insure a constant supply of these birds? This is the argument being advanced for such procedure. It is estimated that around $8,000,000 a year might be raised by a tax of one cent per shell, this money to be spent only for preservation of a future supply of game birds.

and drove in seven. What's more, he was responsible for a single and a double the same day on which he exploded the three maximum hits in one inning. He finished sixth among Texas league hitters with a mark of .367, which was made up of 38 doubles, 6 triples, and 26 home runs.

He also plays football, basketball, and indoor baseball, so is what safely might be termed a man who goes in for athletics on a big scale.

Rye, who was born here 22 years ago, lives on Wrightwood avenue, and, having nothing else to do this winter, is employing himself without pay as a participant in whatever kind of athletic endeavor he can put under way in the McWhinney Benevolent association gym at 2633 North Marshfield avenue.

Chicago Normal Defeats Armour Tech Five, 33-29

Scoring 14 points, Barter yesterday led the Chicago Normal college basketball team to a 33 to 29 victory over Armour Tech on the latter's floor.

Meets Levinsky-Slattery Winner.

Mickey Walker, middleweight champion of the world, yesterday came to terms with Nate Lewis in New York for a bout at the Chicago Stadium against the winner of the Jimmy Slattery-King Levinsky fight next Wednesday. The bout is tentatively scheduled for early in March.

Walker's acceptance of Lewis' offer was conditional on the promise that success against the Slattery-Levinsky winner would result in an attempt by the Stadium to match him with Tuffy Griffith.

King Wants to Meet Tuffy.

Slattery willingly agreed to meet Walker here if he defeated Levinsky, but the King and his new pilot, Alvis, were less enthusiastic.

"Lewis promised to match us with Griffith if we beat Slattery," Alvis said. "We would rather meet Tuffy because victory over him would mean more to the King."

Alvis already has offered Griffith $20,000 for a Levinsky match, agreeing to take 50 per cent of the gate and paying the west side boxer out of his end. In this manner, Griffith would be boxing on a guarantee and Alvis would take a gamble, since the Stadium refuses to sign with fighters on a guarantee basis.

Retzlaff Eager to Fight.

Levinsky's stand places Griffith in a unique position with reference to next Wednesday's card. Three principals in that show are seeking matches with him and all expect their showing next week to result in the match. George Neron, who boxed Tuffy eight close rounds two months ago, is seeking a return match, and his opponent, Charley Retzlaff, Golden Glove product, likewise is aiming at a Griffith match.

Retzlaff has been belting out opponents with such regularity that his manager, Jack Hurley, has asked Lewis to secure either Otto Von Porat or Griffith for Retzlaff. If Charley is not ready to meet top notchers, Hurley figures he never will reach the big money class.

GEORGE, WAGNER CLASH TONIGHT ON COLISEUM MAT

Don George, former University of Michigan athlete, tonight will meet Jack Wagner, athletic instructor of the Providence, R. I., police department, in the windup of Promoter Coffey's program at the Coliseum. It will be George's second Chicago appearance since his victory over Sonnenberg.

George defeated Dan Koloff in straight falls in his last match here Last Wednesday night, George picked up another victory, winning from Marin Plestina at Minneapolis.

[Indi]anapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—[Spe-cial.]—The 77th general assembly con-[vened] here today under divided politi-[cal] control. After Republicans had [organ]ized the senate, and Democrats [the] house, the assembly heard the [messa]ge of Gov. Harry G. Leslie and [adjour]ned until Monday.

[...] J. Hartzell, Republican, Fort [Way]ne, was named president pro tem [of th]e senate, and Walter Meyers, [Dem]ocrat, Indianapolis, speaker of the [house], ratifying choices of party cau-[cuses]. Walter S. Chambers, Newcas-[tle], was named minority leader in the [senate] and James M. Knapp, Hagers-[town], house minority leader.

[Th]e Governor's Recommendation.

[Co]mplete repeal of the primary law, [enact]ment of a voters' registration [law], abolishment of the fee system [for] public officials, and limitation of [the] weight, size and speed of motor [buse]s and trucks were high points in [the g]overnor's message.

[Alt]hough he did not specifically in-[dorse] the report of the state tax com-[missi]on which conducted a year's [study] of taxes by mandate of the 1929 [legi]slature, Leslie encouraged the leg-[islat]ors to study its findings with a [view] to enacting legislation that would [shift] the burden of taxation from real [pro]perty.

The governor suggested that in the [inte]rest of economy it would be wise [to] make it possible for townships [and] counties to combine, thus doing [away] with much of the overhead of [local] government."

"The work of repealing the primary [law] should be continued," Leslie said. "[Ou]r political parties must be re-[stor]ed to that status of self-respect, [effic]iency, and integrity which will [bett]er qualify them to serve as in-[tellig]ent and incorruptible agencies [for] carrying forward the people's gov-[ern]ment."

For Registration Law.

The governor, who permitted a per-[man]ent registration law to die at the [end] of the last session without his [sig]nature, sprang a surprise when he [sugg]ested that "Indiana should have [a w]orkable, sound, and simplified sys-[tem] for the registration of voters." [He] added, however, that he did not [hold] with those who seek to burden [the] taxpayers with a "costly, un-[wie]ldy, and elaborate registration [sch]eme involving all the complexities, [dela]y, and machinery of a general [ele]ction."

[Pr]aising the state highway system, [Lesl]ie said: "Any effort to divert the [fu]nds now used for road construction [and] maintenance is inadvisable and ill [adv]ised. All money collected as gaso-[line] taxes and automobile license fees [sho]uld be expended on our roads in [just]ice to the public."

"Unless the weight of load legally [pla]ced upon our highways is rigidly [lim]ited we shall see the highways [rap]idly worn down, disintegrated, and [vir]tually destroyed. Proper protection [for] the traveling public and highways [mea]ns a limit placed by law on the [spe]ed, width and length of motor [buse]s and motor trucks using our [high]ways for commercial purposes."

Because of the sudden death here [las]t night of Representative George [L.] Saunders, Bluffton, who had been [slat]ed for Democratic house leader, a [spe]cial election in Adams and Wells [cou]nties to select a successor to [Sau]nders was ordered by Gov. Leslie.

[Ro]bert H. Hunter Funeral Services Will Be Today

Funeral services for Robert H. [Hu]nter, pioneer Chicago insurance [man] and civic leader, who died sud-[den]ly in the La Salle Street station [W]ednesday, will be held at 2:30 o'clock [to]day in the Fourth Presbyterian [chu]rch. Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson [will] officiate.

HOSTILE FORCES ARE BLAMED IN BANK CLOSINGS

Merger Was Blocked, Says Kentuckian.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 8.—(AP)—The charge that hostile influences caused the closing of the National Bank of Kentucky and the Louisville Trust company was made by James B. Brown, president of the National Bank of Kentucky, here today.

Speaking under oath for more than an hour at a hearing in his personal bankruptcy proceedings, Mr. Brown declared the banks were solvent on Nov. 17, when their closing was followed by the closing of twenty other banks in Kentucky and six across the Ohio river in Indiana.

Millions Promised, He Says.

Mr. Brown said the same influence, the source of which he did not know, previously had blocked a merger of the Banco-Kentucky holding company, of which he was president, with the Trans-America company of New York. He said H. P. Preston, vice president of the New York concern, a Giannini investment trust, had been here, discussed the merger, and had informed the governor of the federal reserve board that Trans-America could advance the National Bank of Kentucky as much as $50,000,000, if necessary.

On Saturday night prior to the closing, Nov. 17, Mr. Brown said the governor of the federal reserve board refused to advance money to the National Bank of Kentucky unless the other Louisville banks guaranteed it; that he pictured to the directors of the clearing house association the results that would follow if his bank closed. Mr. Brown said the clearing house directors became panicky and, over his protest, signed the resolutions for the banks to close.

Georgia Bank Fails to Open.

Decatur, Ga., Jan. 8.—(AP)—The Decatur Bank and Trust company failed to open today. The bank's last statement, as of Dec. 31, listed total resources of $1,147,781, capital stock of $100,000; deposits of $595,781, and savings deposits of $239,612.

JANIN, RIVAL OF CURTISS AS AIR INVENTOR, DEAD

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Albert Stanley Janin, 51, rival of Glenn H. Curtiss as inventor of the hydro-airplane, died a poor man in his Staten Island home today. He was credited with about 100 inventions, some used by the government during the war and for which he received no monetary reward.

Among his inventions were the inflammable bullet and the catapult for launching airplanes from ships. He also designed a new process of machining an all-metal airplane, any part of which might be replaced without changing the entire section.

In 1907 Janin received a patent for a hydro-airplane model, but was unable to finance his invention. Later he became involved in litigation with Curtiss, who claimed to be the original inventor. Curtiss won the suit.

JOCHIMSEN, FAMOUS ARCTIC ICE PILOT DURING WAR, IS DEAD

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Acton P. Jochimsen, rescuer of the Karluk survivors in the arctic in 1914, died today in the naval hospital at Brooklyn. He was a native of Denmark.

As captain of the King and Winge, a furbearing ship of the Olaf Swenson company of Seattle, he came to be known as the most skillful ice pilot in the arctic. During the war he was a lieutenant commander in the United States merchant marine.

The rescue of the Karluk survivors, which tested his ice piloting skill to the limit, brought him world renown.

When Capt. Jochimsen piloted the King and Winge to Wrangel island after two other vessels had failed to get through the ice he saved seven men, a woman, and two children from starvation. Nine others already had perished.

PERIL CHICAGO RADIO STATIONS BY BOARD RULE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8.—[Special.]—Chicago's great cluster of broadcasting stations is imperilled through the enactment today by the federal radio commission of a new and sweeping policy governing the distribution of broadcasting facilities throughout the country.

Adopting an order providing for an equal distribution of stations, power, and time on the air among the 48 states, the commission opened the way for an influx of applications to wrest from Chicago some of its facilities. About one-half of the states are under their broadcasting quotas as prescribed by the Davis amendment to the radio act of 1927, while the other half have excesses. Illinois heads the list of over-quota states with the equivalent of about a dozen 1,000 watt stations more than the commission figures it should have, and most of these are located in or near Chicago.

The new order came as somewhat of a surprise, despite the demands of certain members of congress representing under-quota states that the commission correct the condition. That it will work a hardship on such areas as Chicago, Los Angeles, and New York is inevitable, according to radio officials, since these centers are "over-quota," primarily because the stations were there before there was any radio law prescribing distribution according to population.

The order interpreted literally, means that any under quota state in the country, may demand from the commission a channel or channels used by Chicago stations, on the ground that Chicago has more than its share.

Hold Funeral Rites for Judge Martin J. Isaacs

Judge Martin J. Isaacs of the Superior court, who died Monday at his home, 5131 Greenwood avenue, was buried in Graceland cemetery yesterday, following services at Isaiah temple. Rabbi Gerson B. Levi officiated and Chief Justice John P. McGoorty of the Criminal court made a short address. The honorary pallbearers were the judges of the Circuit and Superior courts.

FRANCIS D. HANNA JR., 10 years old, whose father was formerly assistant to Henry Barrett Chamberlin of the Chicago crime commission, died yesterday of brain tumor after a long illness. The funeral will be held tomorrow at St. Ignatius church.

MRS. EDITH JACKSON ONEAL, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Jackson, 6202 Ingleside avenue, died yesterday at her home at Winchester, Va. She was the wife of Samuel D. Oneal, a farmer, and the mother of two sons.

Mrs. Cynthia Alden, Friend to Blind Children, Is Dead

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—A woman who brought cheer into the lives of blind children died today at her home in Brooklyn. She was Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden, founder of the International Sunshine society, an organization to care for sightless babies.

Mrs. Alden, who was 70, was the wife of John Alden, editorial writer and poet on the staff of the Brooklyn Eagle and a descendant of the John Alden immortalized by Longfellow.

WARD THOMPSON DIES OF INJURY IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Ward E. Thompson of Rockford, member of the Illinois board of pardons and paroles, died here early today from injuries received in an automobile accident Monday night.

Thompson, who was 56 years old, suffered a fractured skull when his automobile was forced into a telephone pole.

Mr. Thompson for twenty years was in the government service, and during the war with the department of justice at Camp Grant.

He was born at Carbondale, Ill., the son of a county judge. A graduate of Columbia university, he was admitted to the bar and entered the federal immigration service. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

Recently he was a director of the Emmerson-Brantingham company at Rockford. He was chairman of the Republican central committee of Winnebago county.

Mr. Thompson's family was with him when he died. He left a widow, son and daughter.

Funeral services will be at 2 o'clock Saturday at the Second Congregational church in Rockford.

J. B. Milton, 82, Retired Rear Admiral, Is Dead

Vallejo, Cal., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Rear Admiral John B. Milton, 82, U. S. N., retired, died at the Mare Island naval hospital today of pneumonia. He was born at Lexington, Ky., Oct. 20, 1848. Admiral Milton was graduated from the United States Naval academy in 1870. He went to San Francisco in 1887 as a captain and established the hydrographic office there. He had made his home there since. His widow lives there. He retired in 1910.

James E. Hardenbergh, N. Y. Newspaper Man, Dies

New York, Jan. 8.—[Special.]—James E. Hardenbergh, sixty-two, secretary and manager of the New York City News association from 1895 to 1926, is dead at his home in Saugerties, N. Y. He was a former president of the New York Bowling association and a member of the Newspaper and Friars' clubs. His widow, a daughter by a previous marriage, and a brother survive.

REPORT JOE ZELLI DEAD; FAMED FOR HIS BAR IN PARIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 8.—A report that Joe Zelli, American king of the Montmartre life, is dead has brought a steady stream of inquries from American habitués of his famous bar. Joe, formerly barkeeper in Chicago's loop, was the proprietor of the famous Zelli carabet in the Rue Fontaine. The place has been visited by numerous celebrities, including the prince of Wales, and Joe was reported to have made $800,000 from his operations there.

Giuseppe Salvator Zelli got his start as a purveyor of liquor to Americans in France in 1917, when he established a cabaret at Tours. The place became immensely popular among the American officers and enabled Joe to open a more pretentious establishment in Paris. He was the first to open an all night bar in Montmartre after the war.

On closing his cabaret earlier than usual this year because of the dull winter season Joe went down to the Riviera, announcing that he was in bad health. An unconfirmed report declares that he has died there.

FOUND HANGED UNDER SIDEWALK.

The body of a man, tentatively identified as that of Erwin Martin, 35 years old, was found hanging in a cavity under the sidewalk of a vacant lot at 511 Taylor street yesterday.

STOLEN JEWELS ARE RETURNED TO MRS. THOMPSON

Jewelry valued at $15,500 which was stolen early last October from Mrs. William Hale Thompson, wife of the mayor, in a holdup at the entrance to her home at 3100 Sheridan road, has been returned to her, it was learned last night.

Police reports do not record the holdup as solved, or the gems recovered. However, police inactivity, coupled with the information that the jewels have been returned, indicated the case was closed.

At the time of the robbery Thompson demanded speedy solution of the crime. Commissioner Alcock promised quick response. Sam Battaglia, minor hoodlum, was arrested as one of the four bandits. He was tried, but not on a charge of robbing Mrs. Thompson. He was accused of holding up her police chauffeur, Peter J. O'Malley. A jury acquitted him. Nothing further was done.

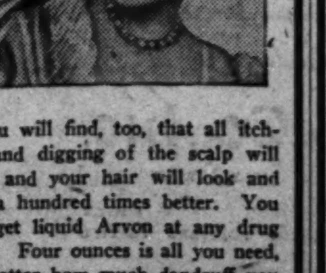
Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to comb or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it; then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.



You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you need, no matter how much dandruff you may have. This simple remedy never fails.

CHICAGO STOCKS SHOW STRENGTH IN QUIET DAY

Fractional Improvement Made by List.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Quiet strength in the late dealing capped a day of dull trade on the Chicago exchange yesterday. Final transactions in the main were made at prices representing fractional improvement over Wednesday's last quotations.

Sentiment among speculators continued mildly bullish, although many were predicting that the market faces a period of moderate reaction. In nearly all quarters the speculative community is looking for the U. S. Steel report to show a substantial gain in the volume of unfilled orders. The tonnage report will be made Saturday after the close of the market.

Look Far Ahead.

The better feeling concerning business which has been prevalent for several days has a distinctly conservative tone. Fewer predictions are being made that the effects of the upturn will be evidenced in the immediate future. Brokerage house letters are stressing the improved outlook for the second and third quarter of the year and are not counting a great deal on the results which the present quarters will produce. These opinions are being reflected in the market.

There is evidence from various sources that market-minded persons are taking a more rational view of the business situation than has been the case during previous stages of the present period of readjustment.

Mild strength in shares of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois coincided with the issuance of a statement by the firm yesterday showing the rate of increase in gross business during 1930 was double that of the electric light and power industry as a whole.

According to the company's statement the average consumption of electricity by Public Service company's household customers rose from 534 kilowatt hours to 585 kilowatt hours during the year.

Point to Improvement.

"All indications point to a steady, gradual improvement in the utility business," the statement said. "Large customers of the company seem to have kept their inventories down and gave gone ahead with considerable improvements in their equipment, preparatory to filling orders rapidly with the general resumption of business."

Associated Telephone Utilites company yesterday announced that it has acquired the Central Carolina Telephone company. The deal marks the entrance of Associated Telephone into southeastern territory. The Carolina concern serves 3,650 customers through twenty-nine exchanges in North and South Carolina, it was stated.

Chicago Curb Exchange Stocks

Chicago curb stocks were slightly higher yesterday. United Gas and the Associated Gas stocks were firm and fractional advances appeared in Elgin Watch, National Family Stores preferred, Photocolor, and Corporate Trust. Chicago Local Transportation B common on fairly active dealings showed a small fractional decline.

Legal investment, in the opinion of counsel, for Savings Banks in the State of New York

The issue and sale of these Bonds are subject to authorization by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

CHEMICAL BANK & TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK, TRUSTEE

J. L. Lancaster, Esq., President of The Texas and Pacific Railway Company, has furnished us with the following statement concerning the Company and this issue of Bonds:

PROPERTY The Texas and Pacific Railway Company operates 1,955 miles of railroad, the main line extending from El Paso eastward across the State of Texas via Fort Worth and Dallas to Shreveport, Louisiana, and thence to New Orleans on the Gulf of Mexico. Of the operated mileage, 1,848 miles are owned in fee, 94 miles between El Paso and Sierra Blanca, Texas, are owned jointly with the Southern Pacific Company and 13 miles represent trackage rights over other railways. The Company also owns all of the outstanding capital stocks and mortgage bonds of the subsidiary railroad companies operating 379 additional miles of railroad, of which 354 miles are owned, connecting with the Company's lines in the State of Texas.

The Company is controlled through ownership of over 74% of its capital stock by the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company. The Company makes heavy interchange of traffic at various terminal points in Texas and Louisiana with the Missouri Pacific and its controlled companies, the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico Railway Company (Gulf Coast Lines) and the International-Great Northern Railroad Company.

USE OF PROCEEDS The proceeds of these Bonds will be used to provide for the acquisition by the Trustee of the General and Refunding Mortgage of $4,970,000 principal amount of Louisiana Division Branch Lines First Mortgage 5% Bonds, which matured January 1 1931, for the payment of certain short term indebtedness, and for additions and betterments to the Company's property and other corporate purposes.

EARNINGS. The Company's gross operating revenues, income available for fixed charges, total fixed charges and net income have been as follows for the five years ended December 31, 1930:

Years Ended December 31	Gross Operating Revenues	Income Available for Fixed Charges	Total Fixed Charges	Net Income
1926	$35,449,650	$ 6,609,333	$2,681,993	$3,927,340
1927	38,949,539	7,063,675	2,949,695	4,113,980
1928	50,795,832	10,979,601	2,985,645	7,993,956
1929	45,696,434	9,891,990	3,761,916	6,120,074
1930 (December estimated)	37,380,000	7,400,000	4,100,000	3,300,000

Income available for fixed charges averaged 2⅓ times such charges in the period covered by the above table, and in 1930 (December estimated) was over 1.8 times the amount required in that year.

SECURITY Upon the completion of this financing the Company's total mortgage debt outstanding in the hands of the public and secured on owned mileage will amount to $74,227,000 principal amount, or less than $39,500 per mile of road owned (including the 94 miles of jointly owned line as 47 miles owned in fee). The $49,000,000 General and Refunding Mortgage Bonds to be outstanding will be secured by a direct lien on the entire 1,895 miles of railroad owned in fee (including the jointly owned mileage as above), subject to the prior liens, insofar as they attach, of $25,227,000 principal amount of underlying bonds outstanding in the hands of the public and maturing in the year 2000, consisting of $24,989,000 secured by the First Mortgage and $238,000 secured by the Second Mortgage (both of which mortgages are closed by the General and Refunding Mortgage). They are also secured by a direct lien, subject to the liens of the First and Second Mortgages on valuable terminal properties in El Paso, Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas, and Shreveport, Louisiana.

EQUITY Giving effect to this financing, the Company's outstanding funded debt and equipment trust obligations as of December 31, 1930 amounted to $86,862,000, compared with not less than $177,800,000 of net investment in road and equipment, after deducting reserves for depreciation of equipment.

The Company has outstanding $23,703,000 par value 5% non-cumulative preferred stock, all of which is owned by the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company, and $38,755,110 par value common stock, of which the majority is owned by the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company. Dividends of 5% per annum are currently being paid on both issues.

THE ABOVE BONDS ARE OFFERED, SUBJECT TO PRIOR SALE AND TO THE CONDITIONS STATED BELOW, AT 98½% AND ACCRUED INTEREST, TO YIELD OVER 5.05% TO MATURITY.

The right is reserved to reject any or all applications, and also, in any case, to allot a smaller amount than applied for. All applications will be received subject to the due authorization, issue and sale of the Bonds as planned and to approval by counsel of the form and validity of the related documents and proceedings.

The amounts due on confirmed sales will be payable at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., in New York funds to their order, and the date of payment (on or about January 27, 1931) will be stated in the confirmations of sale. Temporary Bonds or interim Receipts, exchangeable for definitive Bonds when received, are to be delivered.

PACKING FIRMS BRING YOUNGER MEN TO FRONT

Swift, Wilson & Co. Make Promotions.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The younger generation of Chicago's business families comes on. Two of the big meat packing companies yesterday brought younger men to the fore in the active management of their affairs.

G. F. SWIFT.
TRIBUNE Photo.

Louis F. Swift, who has been president of Swift & Co. since the death of his father, Gustavus F. Swift, in 1903, relinquished that position to become chairman of the board. His younger brother, Gustavus F. Swift, was promoted from a vice president to president. At the same time Edward F. Swift and Charles H. Swift, who have been vice presidents, were elected vice chairmen of the board. G. J. Stewart was made a vice president and L. C. Curtis was named assistant treasurer.

Gustavus F. Swift, the new president, is 50 years old and has been associated with Swift & Co. for more than thirty years. He was made a vice president and director in 1916.

Was Stockyards Cowboy.

Then, too, Wilson & Co. elected Edward F. Wilson as one of eight new vice presidents. He is the son of Thomas E. Wilson, president, and is the youngest vice president, being 26 years old. Young Wilson reported for duty with his father's concern the day after he was graduated from Princeton university, six years ago. His first job was as a stockyards cowboy, or cattle driver. Later he was promoted to cattle weigher and eventually was employed in all departments in order to learn the packing business thoroughly. Until yesterday he was manager of the small stock division. The other vice presidents named yesterday are H. J. Williams, W. J. Cawley, J. D. Cooney, Orl Fowler, R. F. Eagle, C. R. Hood, and W. S. Nicholson.

SWIFT REPORTS INCOME

Business and earnings of Swift & Co. held up reasonably well last year in view of general depression. The volume of business exceeded $900,000,000, showing a decline of 10 per cent from 1929 but almost entirely the result of lower prices.

Net earnings for the fiscal year ended Nov. 1, 1930, were $12,491,188, equivalent to $2.08 a share on the capital stock. Dividends at 8 per cent took $12,000,000, after which $491,188 was added to surplus, which now is $17,767,888. Net earnings for 1929 were $13,076,815, or $2.18 a share.

Adjustment Problem.

"The depression which set in last spring has been severe in most lines, causing general liquidation and falling prices," President Louis F. Swift says in his annual report, issued yesterday. "Getting adjusted to the new level of prices is one of the principal problems which now confront business. The real basis of our profits lies in our ability to eliminate wastes and to convert these wastes into savings.

"The liquidation that has been going on for more than a year has now corrected a number of flaws in the general situation. It has reduced to a minimum the stocks of manufactured goods in the hands of producers and distributors.

"I think the year 1931 is bound to bring about a general recovery in business—if only to replace the stocks of goods that are being used up. Consumption cannot run ahead of production indefinitely. We are all set for a busy year."

Says Rails Must Co-ordinate with Highway Transport

BY SCRUTATOR.

Railroads must go into the business of coördinating with highway transportation, because the people are accustomed to use of the highways for shipping and travel and are going to demand that this use be continued.

This view of bus-truck and railroad competition was given yesterday at an interstate commerce commission examiner's hearing in Chicago by W. G. Bierd, receiver of the Chicago & Alton railroad, soon to become a part of the Baltimore & Ohio system.

There have been in some parts of the country, Mr. Bierd said, efforts to hamper the expansion of trucking and bus service by limiting the size and weight of vehicles, but he believed any such efforts on the part of railroad men were a mistake. He added that he considered the public was entitled to the best and most efficient transportation of all kinds and that, with proper regulation of all forms, the rails could take the lead in furnishing it.

Lack of Regulation.

His broad picture of highway transportation showed a new industry that had within a few years gone through an expansion in quantity and physical quality of service more startling than any period the railroads themselves had ever passed through. But, he continued, this form of transportation is in confusion because of a complete lack of regulation and as a consequence it has unfair advantages over the established railroads.

"If under fair regulation," he stated, "the rails cannot compete they must give way. Under present conditions the bus companies have, almost without exception, been operated without profit. Manufacturers of busses have sold them on small payments to men with small capital, and there is in most instances no requirement of financial responsibility imposed on those who wish to get into the bus business.

"The system is wasteful. There should be federal control to unify the practices of operators in the various states. Under such control the railroads could coördinate their train and bus passenger services and their truck and less than carload rail service in a way that would make the best possible transportation system. At present the railroad systems have difficulty in getting permits to operate on the highway; it has happened that they were denied us, with eighty years of service behind us, and were given to irresponsible persons."

"Unjust," Bierd Asserts.

This is unjust, Mr. Bierd said, because the railroad cannot suspend and must go on existing with what traffic it has.

W. E. Fuller, assistant to the vice president of the Burlington, asserted that some coördination of rail and bus traffic appeared advisable for his railroad and that the introduction of highway vehicles as an adjunct to the road had saved thousands of dollars annually. Studies had demonstrated to the Burlington officials, however, that it was not wise at this time to get into the business of trucking freight.

The hearings began here on Monday. A vast mass of detail has been presented by the railroads designed to show how much of their freight and passenger traffic has been taken from them by motor vehicles. Suggestions varying widely have been offered by the railroad witnesses as solutions.

Virtually all of them have contained demands that the federal government apply restrictions to trucks and busses comparable to those now applied to the rail carriers.

RID RAILROADS OF REGULATION, GORMLEY ASKS

What the railroads of the United States need is to get rid of "the only monopoly they have, a monopoly of regulation," asserted M. J. Gormley, executive vice president of the American Railway association, in an address yesterday to the Midwest Shippers' Advisory board at the Palmer house.

Mr. Gormley said that the railroads had not yet reached the ultimate point in economy, and that the elimination of obsolete cars and locomotives would reduce their costs so much that other means of transportation would soon find it difficult to compete with them.

The Shippers' Advisory board estimated that in the first three months of 1931 car loadings in the territory covered, including Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, western Indiana, and northern Michigan, would be 1,092,784, a decrease of 6.2 per cent from the actual loadings of the first quarter in 1930. An increase of 4.7 per cent in loadings of fresh fruit, of 5.5 per cent in petroleum products, and of 6.5 per cent in automobile shipments were forecast.

German Sugar Producers Accept Export Agreement

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Representatives of German sugar producers today came to terms with Thomas L. Chadbourne of the Cuban-American sugar delegation and accepted an export quota covering the next four years' production.

The agreement resulted from negotiations which continued after the collapse of a series of conferences at Amsterdam and Brussels, while Mr. Chadbourne remained in Paris under the care of a doctor. It makes possible an international sugar agreement for the limitation of production and export and removes the threat of chaos in the industry which appeared after the Brussels negotiations had failed.

Under the agreement reached today Germany accepts a quota of 500,000 tons, except for the fiscal year 1930-'31; 350,000 tons for 1931-'32, and 300,000 tons for each of the following three years.

Previous Conference.

A similar agreement was reached at Brussels between the Cuban producers and those of Java and all the rest of the European sugar centers, with the exception of Germany. The conference there broke up when Germany refused to accept an export quota which her representatives regarded as insufficient. They demanded a stipulation permitting them to cultivate a sufficient sugar area to supply Germany's home markets without importing sugar even in the years when the crop was below normal.

Mr. Chadbourne authorized the following statement after the agreement was announced:

"To meet the unusual German situation, an agreement has been reached whereby Germany is allowed a total export aggregate quota of 1,750,000 tons for five years and the increase of 750,000 above the original quota of 1,000,000 allotted for Germany has been taken care of as follows:

"By the European beet countries, 175,000; by Cuba, 575,000. Thus, the agreement does not involve any increase in the original quotas for all countries, despite the increased quota conceded to Germany.

Provides for Surplus Store.

"The arrangement provides for segregation of about 3,500,000 tons of surplus sugar salable over the period of the agreement, and this store will create a safety valve against any unwarranted increase in the price of sugar. It is the firm intention of all parties to the agreement that the price shall not rise above the cost of production plus a fair rate of interest on the investment involved.

"Parties to the agreement believe it is safe and sane and essentially good business. It provides against overproduction and the consequent depression in one of the world's staple commodities and, if it restores economic equilibrium in the industry, it will save millions of people employed by it from further suffering and unemployment.

"Further than that it may induce other industries to follow the same course, which would mean more rapid recovery from the present world-wide depression, the chief cause of which is overproduction."

New York, Jan. 8.—The stock market closed irregularly higher today. Gains in the main were limited to a point or so and numerous issues wound up about where they had started. Traders appeared loath to extend themselves on either side. As a result, business hit the dullest pace of the new year, the turnover falling off to 1,706,090 shares.

Sugar shares provided about the only market movement of any consequence. A flurry of activity developed in their behalf on news of the agreement of Germany to the plan for reducing exportable surplus of sugar over a period of years. Germany had withdrawn from the conferences hoping with that end in view recently and had left the situation more or less up in the air. While the fruits of the agreement, it seems, cannot be felt effectively for some time to come, the stock market evidently lost little time in seeking to arouse interest in the group.

NEW HISTORICAL LOW SET BY BAR SILVER IN NEW YORK MARKET

New York, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Bar silver dropped 1¼c to a new historical low in New York today, suffering one of the sharpest breaks in the current decline which has carried the metal to several successive record lows in recent months. The new quotation of 28¾c an ounce appeared hours after the price is usually posted. Dealers explained that weakness in London had such an unsettling effect in New York that buyers held off and there was a striking lack of business.

Silver has dropped steadily from 65c an ounce in 1926, compared with today's decline of 1¾c, a drop of 1c was recorded since the first of the year.

Shading of copper and lead prices, coupled with the weakness of silver, gave the nonferrous metal markets an easier tone today.

A reduction of .10c to 4.75c a pound in lead was announced by the American Smelting and Refining company. The same compauy yesterday cut that metal 15 points, making the reduction for the two days ¼c. One custom smelter was said to be willing to sell copper at 10¼c, up ¼c.

Heavy melting No. 1 scrap advanced 50c a ton in Youngstown. The new quotation is $13 to $13.50 a ton.

CHICAGO RESERVE BANK'S EARNINGS SHARPLY LOWER

The annual statement of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, issued yesterday by Governor J. B. McDougal, shows a sharp decline in net earnings from 1929.

Earnings after depreciation amounted to $1,045,328 or $157,089 less than dividend requirements, which amount was transferred from surplus. This compares with net earnings in the preceding year of $5,424,665. The 1930 profits are equivalent to 5.22 per cent on the average paid in capital and 1.75 per cent on the average paid in capital and surplus. In 1929 the bank earned 27.8 per cent on the paid in capital and 9.7 per cent on the average paid in capital and surplus.

Charles V. Wellner was elected president and a director of the West Irving State bank at the annual meeting of stockholders yesterday. He succeeds Ralph S. Davis, resigned. At a meeting of the board Alphonso Alfini was elected a vice president. Mr. Alfini was also elected a director at the earlier meeting.

Other new directors and officers for Chicago banks reported yesterday were:

CENTRAL MANUFACTURING DISTRICT—Directors, Frederick W. Moore, Roy S. Ripple, Julius Kramer.

CRAGIN STATE—Director, Dr. T. S. Segall.

COMMERCE TRUST AND SAVINGS—Directors, Thomas S. Smith, E. E. Mills.

Foreman Looks for Rise in Demand for Bonds

A relatively large volume of funds will seek employment in bonds immediately after business sentiment becomes stabilized, in the opinion of Gerard Foreman, president of the Foreman-State corporation. These funds have been accumulating in banks, he says. The slowness in the recovery of the bond market is a reflection of the slowness in the recovery of general business, Mr. Foreman thinks.

EXPECTS DAY OF RECKONING FOR U. S. FARM BOARD

When the May wheat contracts have all been settled up on the Chicago Board of Trade the federal farm board will be sole owner of 200,000,000 bushels of cash grain, and it will be paying about $4,000,000 each month in carrying charges.

This was the prediction made by Marc Pickell, publisher of a La Salle street market journal and economic service, yesterday. He told the agricultural committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce that nothing short of crop failure would save the loss of millions of dollars the farm board has invested in grains. From an economic viewpoint, he also declared, the stabilization efforts have merely delayed the "time of reckoning" between oversupply and decreased demand, to the ultimate detriment of agriculture and industry.

WILSON AVENUE FEE BOUGHT BY JOSEPH VAILL

Property Purchased from Cook Estate.

BY AL CHASE.

Joseph H. Vaill, retired broker and banker, yesterday purchased for investment from Chester A. and Raymond C. Cook, trustees for the Cook estate, the building at 1016-24 Wilson avenue for an indicated $130,000. Mr. Vaill, formerly with the Harris Trust and Savings bank, and later in the brokerage business at 141 West Jackson boulevard, lives at 2402 Pioneer road, Evanston.

The property just acquired by Mr. Vaill is 100x125, and is improved with a building containing stores and a hotel. The purchase was made subject to a ninety-nine year lease made in 1913 with the Ridgecroft Real Estate trust, calling for an annual ground rental of $6,500. Later it was subleased to William Chamales, a brother of Tom Chamales.

State Realtors to Meet.

George F. Nixon, a former president of the Chicago Real Estate board, will be installed as head of the Illinois Association of Real Estate Boards tomorrow at Rockford. Other officers for 1931, recently elected and who will assume office tomorrow, are: Mrs. W. H. Wright, first vice president; Richard J. Lyons, secretary; Joseph B. Hall, treasurer, and H. A. Campbell, Loren L. Whitehead, and Harry Topping, directors. Other new vice presidents are: N. D. Taylor, Charles A. Noble, Charles T. Hutchinson, J. Clyde McCoy, Charles S. Wanless, John L. Guingrich, F. E. Abell, George W. Williams, and S. Bartlett Kerr.

The installation will take place at the Nelson hotel at 2 p. m. In the evening there will be a dinner, attended by both realtors and Rockford business men.

Buys Illinois-Wells Corner.

Dominick Passaglia, president of the De Luxe Candy company, purchased the southeast corner of Illinois and Wells streets, improved with a four story building, from Anna Dieckman for a reported $37,000 cash. The property adjoins on the north the plant of the candy company, and will be use as an addition to it. J. B. De Voney & Co. were brokers for the buyer and Eli Brandt & Co. for the seller.

Nick Mandas has taken title to the Embassy theater building at the northwest corner of Fullerton and Crawford avenues, 233x125, following foreclosure proceedings. Conveyance was made by the Fullerton-Crawford Building corporation. The building contains seven stores, two apartments, and a cinema seating 1,100. The attorneys in the transaction were McInerney & Power.

Plans for a new cemetery are reported to be under way as a result of transfer of title to two acres on Waukegan road, near Schermer avenue, in the town of Morton Grove, by Abraham Glasen to the Northwest Cemetery company. Members of the cemetery corporation include Louis Antek and Benjamin H. Arst.

Marmon Motor Car.

What is your opinion of the common stock of Marmon Motor Car company? The stock is now selling under 6 and I am wondering what the prospects are for it to sell up to 50 again, at which price it seemed a good investment at the time. However, since then dividends have been discontinued. —M. I. Q.

Marmon Motor Car company, one of the leading makers of eight cylinder cars, reported a substantial drop in earnings in its last fiscal year, which ended Feb. 28, 1930, and in the first half of the current year operated at a loss.

Although more recent earnings figures are lacking the company reported an upturn in its business beginning in September, 1930.

For the six months ended Aug. 31, 1930, net loss was $816,647 after all charges. This compares with net profit of $1,150,282, equal to $4.29 per share on the common, in the six months ended Aug. 31, 1929.

The consolidated balance sheet as of Feb. 28, 1930, showed current assets of $6,887,519 and current liabilities of $2,706,897, leaving a working capital of $4,180,622. Surplus was $1,206,984.

Net profit in the last fiscal year was $832,889, equal to $2.93 per common share, against $1,271,665 in the preceding year.

No common dividends are reported currently, the last payment having been 2 per cent in stock on June 1, 1930. On March 1, 1930, a 50 cent cash dividend was paid. The common is a speculation at present. We do not predict the course of the market.

Gill Manufacturing.

Would you please furnish me with any information that you may have on the Gill Manufacturing company [Illinois] no par capital stock? Any information received will be greatly appreciated.—J. F. E.

Gill Manufacturing company has been liquidated. In February, 1930, the company's assets, except real estate and improvements thereon, were acquired by Diamond Motor Parts company in return for $430,044 first mortgage sinking fund 6½ per cent bonds. As a partial liquidating dividend stockholders received $6.25 of bonds for each share held.

In reply to an inquiry from us, William J. Stratton, secretary of state of Illinois, stated that Gill Manufacturing company was certified to the attorney general for dissolution Nov. 11, 1930. According to the last annual report, filed Feb. 27, 1930, the address of the company was 8300 South Chicago avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Diamond Motor Parts company is now controlled by Aluminum Industries, Inc., and its management is identical with that of the latter.

You might write to Aluminum Industries, Inc., 2438 Beekman street, Cincinnati, O., and inquire concerning the present status of your Gill Manufacturing company stock.

tion, thus giving it a vast advantage over the Cuban product, developed considerable strength. American Sugar, after remaining dormant without a sale throughout the morning, finally came to life around noon and ran up a 5 point gain. Great Western advanced about 2 points.

Railway issues, evidently tired from their recent advance, were inclined to sag, but the selling appeared to be profit taking rather than a renewal of the liquidation which bore down so heavily on this group last month. Atchison, Erie, New Haven, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, Canadian Pacific and others gave ground. Some of the preferred issues of the group did better, however. Delaware, Lackawanna and Western took a spurt for a gain of 16 points.

Expect Rails to Improve.

Some experienced market observers are of the opinion that railroad stocks will probably fare better over the next few months than most other groups. They believe that the basis for speculation on the long side of the carrier stocks will be found in the run of news coming to hand. Among other things it is pointed out that normally the late winter and spring months constitute a period in which the trend of car loadings, for example, is upward.

Moreover, it is expected that monthly operating reports will probably show up well by comparison with corresponding period last year. The latter belief is based on the theory that whereas the railroads were spending heavily for maintenance during the first half of 1930, the carriers this year will keep expenditures pretty well down to the bone.

Some effort was made to stir up interest in the aviation shares, but it didn't get very far. United Aircraft advanced about a point on sporadic buying.

Utilities Perk Up.

Toward the close some of the utility issues perked up smartly, America and Foreign Power and Consolidated Gas among them. Peoples Gas enjoyed another little session of its new boomlet and wound up showing a gain of nearly 4 points.

Amusements and oils, which have been well up in front of the recent rallies, held to a narrow range with a tendency toward lower levels.

The coppers were heavy on a feeling that the metal market had slipped a trifle, and the motors snored soundly.

Preferred stocks continued to attract profitable attention here and there and some good gains were scored, particularly among the inactive issues. Rutland Railroad preferred rose 7 points, Tide Water Oil preferred, 7½, Shell Union Oil preferred, 5⅝, and United States and Foreign Securities preferred, 4 points.

Pivotal stocks, such as American Can, United States Steel, American Telephone and General Electric gave ground during the dullest periods and rallied leisurely on the revivals of which there were several during the course of the day. The close found most of them looking up.

BROKERS' LOANS DROP AS STOCKS ADVANCE; CASH BUYING IS SEEN

Buying of securities for cash by investors and institutions is indicated in the weekly report on brokers' loans issued by the federal reserve board yesterday. In spite of the advance of stock market prices in the last week, brokers' loans again resumed the downward course that has been interrupted only once in fifteen weeks. The current report shows brokers' loans at $1,879,000,000, a new low level, and a decline of $47,000,000 from a week ago. Last week the report showed an increase of $7,000,000, which was the first expansion in fourteen weeks. The current total also marks a decline of $1,473,000,000 from a year ago.

The detail of the report reflects the return flow of funds to the call money market since the opening of the year. Interior banks increased their loans to brokers by $80,000,000 and this enabled the New York banks to reduce their own loans by $115,000,000. Nonbanking lenders, including corporations, reduced their loans by $12,000,000.

Banking adjustments following the year-end are reflected in the weekly statement of the federal reserve system, issued last night. While the member banks increased their borrowings from the reserve banks by $40,987,000, bringing the total to $292,385,000, the reserve banks more than offset the expansion in credit by disposing of $98,388,000 in bankers' acceptances and $70,566,000 of government securities. Deposits declined $17,416,000, but note circulation expanded $38,640,000. Reserves increased $65,831,000 and the ratio of reserves to liabilities rose to 76.3 per cent, compared with 73.7 per cent last week.

The report of the New York reserve bank showed member borrowings increasing $7,594,000 to $69,492,000; bankers' acceptances declining $87,550,000; government securities receding $45,291,000, and deposits declining $32,388,000. Reserves increased $84,861,000 and the reserve ratio rose to 78.8 per cent, compared with 71.6 per cent a week ago.

The report of the Chicago reserve bank showed member bank borrowings rising $7,214,000 to $30,019,000; bankers' acceptances declining $4,721,000; government securities receding $7,000,000, and deposits shrinking $30,149,000. Reserves declined $12,226,000, but the reserve ratio stood at 74.8 per cent, compared with 74.4 per cent last week.

The federal reserve board announced late yesterday that effective today the San Francisco federal reserve bank would reduce its rediscount rate on all classes of paper from 3½ to 3 per cent.

Ford Motor of Belgium Declares Dividend for 1930

New York, Jan. 8.—Ford Motor company of Belgium has declared a dividend for the twelve months of 1930 of 75 francs, less tax. This compares with 65 francs paid in 1929 for fourteen months. Bankers' Trust company, depositary of certain shares of Rand Mines, Ltd., has been advised of the declaration of an interim dividend of 40 per cent, equivalent to 2 shillings per ordinary share and 5 shillings per American share. Each American share represents 2½ deposited ordinary shares.

Canadian International Trustee Shares declared an initial dividend of $1.62½. C. A. Reed company declared an initial dividend of 12½ cents a share quarterly in its class B stock. Franklink Cap corporation declared a 20 cents semi-annual dividend. Previously the company had been paying 30 cents.

Dictaphone corporation declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share, reducing the annual rate from $3 to $2.

CORPORATION EARNINGS

HOUDAILLE HERSHEY.

Excluding Biflex Products company, reported for the nine months ended Sept. 30, net profit equal to $1.83 a share on the class A stock, as contrasted with $4.86 a share on the class B, after dividends on the $2.50 class A stock, in the corresponding 1929 period.

WAYNE PUMP.

Reported for the year ended Nov. 30 net profit of $479,227 after all charges, taxes and subsidiary preferred dividends, equal to $1.63 a share on 138,908 shares of no par common stock, after preferred dividends. This compares with $704,703, or $3.34 a share on the same basis in the preceding year.

DOUGLAS AIRCRAFT.

Authorize Up to 100 Million Bonds for Cotton Belt Ry.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Stockholders of the St. Louis-Southwestern Cotton Belt railroad, today authorized the directors to issue up to $100,000,000 in new bonds as part of a program for readjusting the company's finances. Daniel Upthegrove, president, said the new bonds would enable the road to "modernize its mortgages."

It is not contemplated to issue the full amount at once, Upthegrove said. The action of the stockholders, he said, would enable directors to retire old bond issues of the railroad and its subsidiaries as they mature, and will have a surplus for financing new improvements when they are undertaken. The new bonds, he said, will be used to retire about $21,000,000 of old issues which mature in 1932. Par value of outstanding bonds of the cotton belt and its subsidiaries is $56,291,250.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Was quiet today, but with a steadier tone. Locals and outsiders were buying moderately with refiners' brokers selling sparingly on the advance. Closing prices were net unchanged to 4 points higher. Sales were 2,700 brls. Prime crude, 6.12½c; prime summer yellow spot and January, 7.20c; March, 7.46c; May, 7.60c; July, 7.71c.

PENNEY CHAIN SALES FOR 1930 ARE 7.99% LOWER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 8.—Sales of the J. C. Penney company for last month totaled $23,703,220, compared with $29,589,249 in December, 1929, a decline of 19.89 per cent. For the twelve months the total was $192,939,362, against $209,690,417, a drop of 7.99 per cent.

Reports current concerning the operations of the company indicate that inventories at the start of 1931 were more than $11,000,000 lower than at the same time last year, and that the company showed a greater amount of cash on hand than ever before in its history at the start of the new year.

PROFIT TAKING CARRIES PRICES OF CORN LOWER

Hear Stabilization Corp. Wheat Mart Again.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Local speculators are not inclined to follow sharp upturns in the grain markets with buying orders. A rather general belief yesterday that corn was entitled to a natural reaction after an advance of nearly 9c within 10 days was largely responsible for increased profit taking, which carried the May off 1⅛c from the finish of the previous day to a low of 72⅛c. Buying against bids checked the decline, but the close was at net losses of 1@1⅛c with March 71⅛c, May 72⅝@72⅜c, and July 73⅝c.

Adoption of the new rule permitting the delivery of No. 3 grades of corn on future contracts throughout the year had some effect on sentiment, but as the amendment does not become effective until Aug. 1 it would not apply to the present futures.

Routine developments seem to have little effect on the corn market at present. The trade as a whole is keeping close watch of the movement of cash grain to terminals and the attitude of farmers. While there was some increase in country offerings, the bulk of the grain was held 1@2c above buyers' views, and messages from Nebraska indicated that the producer wanted 50c per bu at country loading points, while in Illinois the disposition was to hold for 60c.

Buying of cash corn by feeders in many part of Illinois and other states is said to be a factor in holding down the movement to primary points. Receipts for the day were reported as only 467,000 bu, compared with 944,000 bu a year ago. After allowing for the amounts taken by industries the trade figures that there will probably be little or no increase shown in the visible supply statement to be given out on Monday.

July Wheat Weakens.

According to trade gossip the Stabilization corporation has reëntered the market as a buyer of cash wheat and was said to have been taking the bulk of No. 1 hard winter offered in the Kansas City cash market at 70½c, the same figure as had prevailed of late. Messages from Minneapolis reported the corporation buying there as well as in the southwest, the Pacific northwest, and the east. However, it was not necessary to take futures in either Chicago or Kansas City, as the May futures held above the pegged figures. Final trades on old crop month here were ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher, with March at 80⅝c and May 81⅝c.

Failure of Liverpool to respond to the strength in North American wheat markets on Wednesday led to scattered selling of the July. This disclosed a lack of aggressive demand and the price dropped 1⅝c to a low of 65½c, at which figure buying against bids absorbed the surplus in the pit. The close was at 66c, a net loss of ⅞c for the day. Winnipeg was weak and ⅝c lower. Reports to J. E. Bennett & Co. from there indicated a lack of spreading business with Chicago and also a slow export demand. However, the seaboard claimed there were numerous bids in the market and sales in all positions were finally estimated at 500,000 to 600,000 bu. Liverpool closed ⅛d higher, with July there about ⅜c under Chicago at the time the former market closed.

SMALL DECLINE IN COTTON

Cotton prices moved irregularly within a narrow range limit yesterday and closed easy around the lowest to a shade above the inside, with Chicago futures off 4@5 points on the active deliveries. New York was unchanged to 6 points lower. New Orleans was closed, it being "New Orleans day." Spots in New York were 5 points higher at 10.30c, with Galveston 10c and Houston 9.95c. Liverpool was strong for a time, but closed unchanged, with spot sales 5,000 bales, the best for the week. Prices follow:

CASH HOUSES BUY BELLIES

Cash houses were good buyers of dry salted clear bellies for future delivery and there was also a little speculative buying, with offerings light. Prices advanced 2½ to 25c, May being up 10c and July 25c for the day. Interest in lard was limited and prices 2½c lower, the day's range being only 5c. Liverpool lard was 3d higher. Export clearances, 228,368 lbs. Prices follow:

CASH GRAIN NEWS

There were indications of a fairly large export business in Manitoba wheats, numerous bids being in the market slightly below a working basis early. Sales in all positions were finally estimated at 500,000 bu. Local handlers sold 3,000 bu wheat, 39,000 bu corn, 46,000 bu oats, 3,000 bu rye, and 1,000 bu barley to the domestic trade with 150,000 bu wheat sold to go to store. Purchases of 25,000 bu corn were made to arrive.

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Thursday: Wheat, 58 cars; corn, 97 cars; oats, 19 cars; barley, 5 cars.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Corn has had an advance of 8c of late, which has induced profit taking by holders and short selling by local traders who think the advance sufficient for the time being. Those who are bearish advance the opinion that corn should be sold on any bulge above the present level for quick turns, as they expect country holders will sell freely and there is likely to be an increased movement. On the other hand, the bull element figure that with enlarged receipts there will be a corresponding increase in demand and that the trend of the market is upward.

Decatur was a good buyer of corn in central Illinois yesterday, paying relatively higher prices than in other markets, bidding as high as 63½c for No. 3 grades.

"Reports covering the wheat belt in general are persistent and claims of submoisture shortage in practically all sections where last season's drought prevailed, ranging from Pennsylvania in the east into the western section of Oklahoma," says H. C. Donovan, the Logan & Bryan crop expert. "Kansas, Nebraska, and eastern half of South Dakota, with adjoining sections of North Dakota and western Canada, indicate that they are as dry as they were at this time a year ago. The winter wheat crop has suffered little, if any, winter killing so far and only a few spots east of the Missouri river is having any distress from lack of moisture at present."

PRODUCE MARKETS

Spot butter was in demand and ⅝c higher, while fresh eggs were ½c higher. Demand for heavy hens was less aggressive and prices dropped 1@1½c with spring chickens and stags 2c lower. Heavy ducks advanced 1c. Receipts by freight, 4 cars. Potatoes in active demand and prices somewhat higher. Receipts 75 cars with 158 cars on team track.

ABSORB WHEAT OFFERINGS

"Farmers are marketing wheat in the northwest and southwest and on the Pacific coast, and farm board agents are absorbing the offerings. There is always a liberal run of wheat in December and January, as farmers need money, and this year is no exception," said a cash grain handler yesterday.

"The farm board agencies are continually buying and selling futures in connection with their cash grain trade, and it is expected they will continue in that way. It is estimated there will be a disappearance of 350,000,000 bu of wheat in the first six months of this year through consumption, feeding and seeding. This wheat will have to be bought from the farm board on the basis of 81c, and it is believed that the showing on July 1 will be greatly changed in favor of wheat holders.

"Hedges have been taken off of old May wheat for some time past and there has been an accumulation of July for a week. This, it is understood, is not for the farm board, who, so far as known, is not interested in July wheat. The real basis for it is that the market has been oversold and the talk of lack of moisture over most of the winter wheat belt is inducing investment buying."

FEEDS ON AN IMPORT BASIS

The United States is on a definite import basis for feed stuff, as indicated by a report of the chief of the grain section of the department of agriculture. During the first two months of 1930 exports were 249,000 tons, compared with 761,000 tons in 1929, while imports aggregated 571,000 tons, compared with 543,000 tons in 1929. Included in the imports are 105,000 tons of bran, milled from bonded wheat in this country, but must be counted as imports and subject to the duty on bran.

Top yesterday, $9.00; average, $7.90.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 3,000 cattle, 43,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep.

While cattle held the gains scored earlier in the week, some prime beeves showing even more advance yesterday, the market for hogs and lambs suffered a reaction. Top lambs were scarce and brought $9.00 again. Hogs, however, lost much of the recent gain, closing only 10@15c above the low point of the season, established during the middle of last week.

Opening sales in the hog market were highest of the day and only steady to 10c lower than on Wednesday's market, while thousands of hogs were bought at fully 10@20c loss in mid session. Many closing sales were as much as 25c under the high point of the previous session.

There was an abrupt narrowing of eastern demand, outsiders taking only 10,000, against 16,583 Tuesday and 20,755 Monday. Larger houses obtained about 7,500 hogs, averaging 225 @280 lbs, mostly at $7.50@7.75. Yet 10,000 were still in the pens at the close. Five western markets except 84,500 hogs tomorrow, against 60,800 last Friday.

March Hogs Bid $9.00.

March and April light hogs were bid $9.00 on the futures market yesterday, while mediums for next March carried bids of $8.30. March mediums were offered at $8.55. January light were offered at $8.50 and bid $8.00. January heavy were offered as low as $7.35 and offers of February heavy hogs were down to $7.75. On the "to arrive" market three loads of light hogs for today's delivery were bid $7.80.

Yesterday's improvement in the market for best cattle brought the top for 1,482 lb averages to $13.75, the highest for that weight since June of last year. Thirty-one head sold to Swift at the price. Well finished steers were comparatively scarce and only a smaller proportion of offerings were eligible to more than $11.00.

Lambs Decline 15@25c.

Although top fat lambs to shippers held at $9.00 yesterday, the general market showed losses of 15@25c, closing at the low point of the day. Most good grades sold at $8.50@8.75, although prime 102 lb averages were obtained at $8.25 and extreme weights lower. Top to local packers stopped at $8.75, against $9.00 on Wednesday's market.

Aged sheep and yearlings were unchanged. Feeding and shearing lambs ruled strong to 25c higher, fleshy 80 lb averages going to country buyers at $7.85.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw firmed today on a renewal of buying by refiners and recovered the 3 point loss of yesterday, with spots quoted at 3.40c, while shipment sugars sold even higher.

Reports that an agreement had been reached with Germany in the world sugar pact and the firmness in the spot market led to increased covering and rather general buying in raw futures, with final prices showing net gains of 3 to 5 points. Approximate sales, 37,500 tons. Prices follow:

In refined the advance of 15 points to the basis of 4.70c for fine granulated became effective at the opening.

HIDE FUTURES

SIMMONS SAYS 1930 SALES ARE ABOUT $31,000,000

Z. G. Simmons, president of the Simmons company, states that sales of the parent company during 1930 were approximately $31,000,000. He said that he was unable to tell at this time what subsidiaries' sales will total.

Mr. Simmons, in Chicago attending the semi-annual show at the American Furniture Mart, aired some views on politicians, market manipulators and business men.

"If the politicians and the stock market manipulators will stop interfering with business the American business man will lay the foundation for lasting prosperity," he declared. The stock of Mr. Simmons' own company was one of the spectacular performers during the bull market and suffered acutely during the succeeding deflation.

"The business man will lay the foundations slowly," he said, elaborating on his theme. "His hands may shake while he is placing the stone but it is the only way for him to work out of the present difficulties. This time we must crawl before we run. Some of us ran so fast we fell down.

"The balance sheet of our company will show a strong position as of the close of the year with cash of about $6,000,000, without any bank loans of parent or subsidiary companies."

TO THE HOLDERS OF CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT COVERING ADJUSTMENT INCOME BONDS, DATED DECEMBER 1, 1910, OF CHICAGO RAILWAYS COMPANY ISSUED UNDER BONDHOLDERS' PROTECTIVE AGREEMENT DATED NOVEMBER 1, 1926:

The undersigned, acting as a Committee constituted by an Agreement dated November 1, 1926, between themselves and such owners and holders of Adjustment Income Bonds, dated December 1, 1910, of Chicago Railways Company issued under and afforded security by the Adjustment Mortgage of said Company dated as of December 1, 1910, as shall have deposited their bonds, and Central Trust Company of Illinois, as Depositary (hereinafter referred to as the "Protective Agreement"), hereby gives notice that—

(1) The Committee has approved a plan and reorganization agreement (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "plan"), copies of which were filed on December 26, 1930, with Central Trust Company of Illinois, the Depositary designated in said Protective Agreement, and are on file with said Depositary for inspecion by any holder of a certificate of deposit issued under said Protective Agreement. Said plan is hereby incorporated in this notice by reference and made a part hereof as fully and completely as though herein set forth at length.

(2) Said Protective Agreement provides that depositors who desire to dissent from this plan shall file their dissent within thirty days after the first publication of notice of the formation and approval of this plan. It is expected that such first publication will be made on December 26, 1930, in which event the thirty day period will expire on January 25, 1931.

The Protective Agreement further provides that if such dissent shall be filed by the Depositors holding certificates of deposit representing not less than forty per cent. of the total number of bonds on deposit the Committee shall withhold its final approval of the plan. Unless it shall receive such dissents on behalf of the specified percentage of deposited bonds, the Committee will give its final approval to the plan and will execute the reorganization agreement embodied therein, whereupon depositors, in accordance with the provisions of the Protective Agreement, shall be deemed to have assented to such plan and to the terms thereof, and to be irrevocably bound thereby. Thereupon the Reorganization Manager and this Committee will be vested with all the powers granted to them by said Protective Agreement and by the provisions of said plan and reorganization agreement.

(3) Instead of following the above course any depositor of the Company who disapproves of the plan may withdraw his bonds from said Protective Agreement within said period of thirty days upon filing a written notice with the Depositary that he dissents from said plan, surrendering his certificates of deposit duly endorsed and paying to the Depositary for the account of the Committee the sum of One Dollar ($1) in respect of each One Hundred Dollars ($100) principal amount of bonds so withdrawn, representing his pro rata share of the Committee's expenses and compensation. Upon complying with these conditions the Depositor will receive the return of the bonds deposited by such depositor.

(4) Pursuant to the authority conferred upon it, the Committee has amended the aforesaid Protective Agreement by two amendments adopted by the Committee, copies of which were filed with the Depositary on December 26, 1930. Said amendments provide—(a) that in the event of the adoption of the plan, if any provision of the same amounts to or involves any modification or amendment of said Bondholders' Protective Agreement, said Protective Agreement shall be deemed modified and amended to conform in all respects to said plan; and (b) that in the event of the approval of the plan the period of such Agreement shall be extended until the plan is consummated or abandoned, and no amendment or modification of the plan, or the submitting of any supplemental or substitute plan, shall be deemed to be an abandonment of the plan.

Unless dissents within the time and in the amount set forth in the Protective Agreement are filed, such amendments will become effective and will be conclusive and binding upon all depositors.

Dated, December 26, 1930.

To the Holders of Five Percent First Mortgage Gold Bonds of Chicago City Railway Company Who Have Deposited Their Bonds Under and Become Parties to the Bondholders' Protective Agreement Dated February 1, 1926:

■ The undersigned, Melvin A. Traylor, John W. Esmond, John V. Farwell, Stanley Field, David R. Forgan and Charles H. Thorne, acting as a Committee constituted by The Chicago City Railway Company Bondholders' Protective Agreement dated February 1, 1926 (hereinafter for convenience sometimes referred to as the "Committee"), hereby give notice to you and each of you that:

1. The undersigned Committee has approved a Plan of Reorganization (hereinafter for convenience sometimes referred to as the "Plan"), copies of which Plan were filed on December 26, 1930, with the First Union Trust and Savings Bank, successor to First Trust and Savings Bank, the Depositary designated in said Bondholders' Protective Agreement, and copies of which Plan were also filed with Mercantile Trust Company, Baltimore, Maryland, and Bankers Trust Company, New York City, New York, as Sub-Depositaries designated in accordance with the provisions of said Bondholders' Protective Agreement.

2. If, within thirty (30) days after the first date of publication hereof, the holders of certificates of deposit representing not less than forty percent (40%) of the principal amount of the bonds deposited at the time such plan is filed with the Depositary desire to dissent from such Plan and to have the Committee withhold its final approval thereof, they may do so by filing with the Depositary within said time a written document or documents signed by such depositors stating their dissent in accordance with the provisions of the Bondholders' Protective Agreement, and in such event, the Committee shall withhold its final approval of said Plan. In the event that no such dissent is so filed by the holders of certificates of deposit of the amount and within the time specified, the Committee will be empowered to give its final approval to said Plan. When that is done said Plan will be binding upon the depositors, their heirs, legal representatives, successors and assigns, all of whom shall be conclusively deemed to have assented thereto whether they shall have received actual notice thereof or not, and shall be irrevocably bound and concluded thereby.

3. Any depositor under said Bondholders' Protective Agreement may, instead of following the above course, withdraw from said Bondholders' Protective Agreement by executing and filing with the Depositary, within thirty (30) days after the date of the first publication hereof, a notice in writing that such depositor dissents from said Plan of Reorganization, and may, thereupon, withdraw from deposit bonds in the aggregate principal amount represented by certificate or certificates of deposit held by such depositor upon the surrender of said certificate or certificates, duly endorsed, and upon payment to the Committee of one percent (1%) of the face amount of the bonds represented by said certificate or certificates of deposit.

4. Two amendments to said Bondholders' Protective Agreement have been adopted by the Committee and copies thereof filed with the Depositary on December 26, 1930, and copies have also been filed with the Sub-Depositaries of said Committee. Said amendments provide that (1) in the event of the adoption of the Plan, if any provision of the same amounts to or involves any modification or amendment of said Bondholders' Protective Agreement, said Bondholders' Protective Agreement shall stand modified and amended to conform in all respects to said Plan, and (2) that in the event of the approval of a Plan, the Committee shall do all things necessary or desirable to carry into effect such Plan, and that in any event the period of said Bondholders' Protective Agreement and all of its provisions be extended without time limit, subject however, to the limitation now contained in said Agreement that it may be terminated by the Committee or by the holders of Certificates of Deposit representing more than fifty per cent of the total principal amount of the bonds then on deposit. Unless dissents, within the time and in the amounts set forth in the Agreement are filed, the Committee will give its final approval to such amendments.
